

Belcastro and Bobby Chick Main Eventers on Grappling Program

EX-WORLD CHAMP RETURNING AFTER YEAR'S ABSENCE

Murdock And Clemens Appear In Middle Event—Gorilla Pogi And Glen Stone Will Open Card.

Short, stocky Bobby Chick, former light heavyweight wrestling champion of the world and a brother of Dude Chick, present junior heavyweight title-holder, will appear at the Medford armory tonight in the main event of Promoter Mack Lillard's weekly presentation. Facing Chick will be Weede's Mad Italian, Pete Belcastro.

In the middle event, Frankie Murdock and Frankie Clemens, cleanies, will pit figure four leg-breakers versus Indian paralyser, respectively, in what appears to be a "natural." Opening the program will be Gorilla Pogi, Argentinean ruffian and Glen Stone, alias Billy Newman, in a battle of eye-pounce and foul punches.

One of the game's finest grapplers, Chick will return to Medford after an absence of over a year. Since leaving southern Oregon, the older brother of Dude has perfected an airplane spin the equal of any. Added to his already sparkling ability, the spin has made Chick one of the most capable workers in the country. The 150-pound finish copied his heavy weight championship shortly after leaving Medford and held it until about five months ago, when he dropped a verdict to Hugh Nichols in Tulsa. Since then, Red Barry defeated Nichols, then in turn was knocked out by Danny McShain in Hollywood, Oct. 10, and Chick is at present gunning for another shot at the belt.

Having been promised a squabble with McShain in the near future, Chick won his title from Leroy McGuirk, former Oklahoma A. and M. national amateur champion.

Tonight, he will be facing one of the game's most ferocious customers in Pete Belcastro, master of the double-barreled dropkick and every form of dirt ever invented.

The middle event brings together two of wrestling's most scientific and popular workers. Murdock relies on a sensational figure four leg-breaker to bring him victories while Clemens' favorite maneuver is the highly effective Indian paralyser, which seldom fails.

The opener between Pogi and Stone should satisfy those who like their wrestling tinged with the ghastly. Both villains are rough, tough performers and hated extremely by local fans.

Earl Yaskley, gangling ex-grappler, will attempt to fix things with an iron hand, in his role of referee.

EUREKA AERIALS GOOD FIVE TIMES

It was really through the air that Eureka high showed its superiority over the Medford Tigers in their battle Friday night, statistics reveal. The Loggers completed five out of eight forward passes while the Tornados was hitting only two out of the same number, gaining 12 yards to 84 for the Loggers.

GIRL, 17, AFTER HOLM LAURELS

CLEVELAND (UP)—Swimming experts believe 17-year old Helen Perry, now a freshman at Lake Erie college, is the likeliest successor to Eleanor Holm Jarrett as queen of backstroke champion.

PORTLAND UNIVERSITY TRAMPLED BY BRONCOS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Portland university's game but outclassed football team went down, 37 to 0, before Santa Clara's undefeated, untied Broncos yesterday.

Wonder Boy

Oklahoma's Indian wonder boy, Frankie Clemens (above), will face Frankie Murdock tonight in the middle event at the Medford armory. Clemens, noted for his Indian paralyser maneuver, will be meeting another extremely popular grappler in Murdock.

MAJOR BATTLES COME SATURDAY ON WEST GRIDS

Undefeated California Faces Most Formidable Foes In Trojans—Oregon And O.S.C. In Traditional Mix.

By Russell J. Newland
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Major battles of the far western football season will be fought this week-end.

At the halfway point of a schedule already marked by some of the most exciting upsets in years, the games bring together all eight members of the Pacific Coast conference. The results can either shape the championship race more decisively or scramble it into the condition of a well stirred egg.

Undefeated, untied University of California, the team all the rest want to beat and must to keep it out of the Rose Bowl, faces its most formidable competition thus far. The University of Southern California Trojans will be on the opposite side of the field when they line up at Berkeley.

Expect Hugs Throng
Not much tradition encompasses the contest but a sectional rivalry of extreme proportions annually assures a tremendous representation in the rooting sections. Between 60,000 and 75,000 fans likely will give their chords overtime workouts on this day.

Hopes of the U. S. C. cohorts will rest on the shoulders of Quarterback Ambrose Schindler, sparkplug of the attack and one of the leading ball-tuggers on the coast.

California supporters pin their faith on the same team which stopped Schindler and Southern California 13 to 7 last year. The power of Coach "Stub" Allison's Bears is undeniable.

Northern fronts will set the stage for struggles between Stanford and Washington and Oregon and Oregon State.

Stanford, U. S. C. Tied
Stanford, showing signs of rejuvenation after a stumbling start, is tied with U. S. C. for second place in the conference standings at one win and one defeat. An inspired 12 to 7 victory over the University of California at Los Angeles team a week ago heartened Stanford backers who look for further success with Washington as the next victim.

Washington failed to impress last Saturday, being forced to come from behind to tie Washington State, 7 to 7.

Oregon State, bounding back into contention, downed Washington 6 to 3 and tied U. C. L. A. 7 to 7 in its last two engagements. On the basis of its performances it likely will be the popular favorite to whip Oregon for the second successive year.

The fourth conference test of the day will pair off Washington State and U. C. L. A. in the south with the latter holding the upper hand in pre-game size-ups. All other things being equal, warm weather conditions may handicap W. S. C. St. Mary's entertainers University of Francisco.

Billy Hulen Says:
Bashful Ettinger Real 'Meal Ticket' On Bowerman Team

Medford high school's Black Tornado football machine may be a bit disappointing so far to some downtown "quarterbacks," but not so little Bob Ettinger, one of the grandest backs who ever wore Tiger trappings.

Billy Hulen.

Playing his third and final season for Coach Bill Bowerman, the 155-pound thunderbolt has done all expected of him by coaches and fans alike, and a good bit more. Figured at the start of the season to be slightly over-shadowed by other colorful ball-carriers, Bobby, to date, has been practically the entire noise so far as the Tiger offense is concerned. He is really the only one of several highly-publicized backfield gentlemen to come through as expected.

Ettinger's is a peculiar case. Actually the most valuable player of the Tornado team for the past three seasons, he has never received the credit due him. He has been Coach Bowerman's "meal ticket" performer every year but nobody, apparently, has realized the fact, except Bowerman, himself.

In the coach's own words, "Ettinger was the finest Medford player last year, and will be again this season."

Undoubtedly the reason for the failure of fans to appreciate the little fellow is his lack of color. He goes about his excellent work with absolutely no fanfare. He never gets hurt; hence the scarcity of his name being thundered from the rooting section. He seems to remain quietly in the background always. In fact, he would never realize Ettinger is out there until, suddenly, there he is, streaking for the opponents' goal line with the pigskin tucked under his arm.

Bobby is a money player, no doubt about it. And, he is also the greatest "breakaway" runner to perform for the Tigers in years and years. In Medford's two important games so far this season, it has been Ettinger alone who really transferred the ball to its correct destination. He is a "one shot" back, one of those terrifically valuable players who can go the entire distance in a single blast. Against Hood River he busted off tackle and went over 50 yards; against Eureka Friday night he found a hole at guard and traveled 68 yards to the goal line. Once Bobby gets in the open you might as well ring the gong, because he's not being caught, nor seldom even touched. He runs the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat, which is the reason you won't be seeing Bobby dragged down from behind this season.

This praise of Ettinger could go on and on. It could be pointed out that he is a perfect athlete, a coach's football player. He neither smokes nor drinks. He is always in top physical condition, so much so that in three years he has never been seriously hurt. He is a 45-minute ball player, and the toughest little bundle of left halfback to ever bless any coach, anywhere. And he is so modest that it's funny, that probably being the main reason for his lack of so-called color.

Gompert was troubled with his cows crawling through an ordinary barbed wire fence, so he put up a single strand and charged it with electricity.

ST. MARY'S TRIMS LOYOLA 13 TO 7

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Loyola football team, weary but not discouraged by yesterday's 13-7 defeat by St. Mary's, went back to the practice drill today for another week-end of probable misery.

The Lions, who made the breaks that enabled St. Mary's to win, met Santa Clara in the coliseum next Sunday. The Sugar Bowl champions from the north are unbeaten this season, and do not figure to lose to the Lions.

Yesterday saw Loyola twice hold off a Gael thrust on the one-yard line, only to turn around and allow a punt to be blocked back of the goal line and see a Gael, Lou Perry, pounce upon it for a touchdown.

Buck Taylor, considered the greatest teacher of basketball tricks and ball-handling in the world, will be at the Medford senior high school gym tonight at 7:30 o'clock to give one of his superb demonstrations.

BASKETBALL WIZARD TO PERFORM TONIGHT

Members of Coach Bill Bowerman's 1936-37 casaba squad will be on hand to assist Taylor, who will perform basketball maneuvers that have amazed the country.

SUNDAY'S PRO TILT LIKELY TO PRODUCE CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(AP)—One of football's greatest "naturals" goes on at Wrigley field next Sunday when the Detroit Lions tear into the Chicago Bears—with the winner likely to roll on to the National Pro league championship.

Detroit, led by the brilliant Dutch Clark, and Chicago, numbering in its lineup such stars as Beattie Feathers, Bronko Naruski and Jack Manders, each have won four games. The Lions, however, have lost one game, and victory next Sunday for the Bears would establish this club as an overwhelming favorite to win the western sectional crown. The Bears won their fourth straight game yesterday at the expense of their home town rivals, the Cardinals, taking a 16 to 7 decision before 23,000 cash customers.

Detroit, flashing its best attack of the season, rolled over Brooklyn 30 to 0. The Green Bay Packers slaughtered the Cleveland Rams 35 to 10. Cliff Battles, with three long runs for touchdowns, led the Washington Redskins to a 34 to 20 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates before 18,000 at Washington.

New York's Giants, leaders of the eastern section with three victories and one defeat, tripped Philadelphia's hapless Eagles 21 to 0.
