RATE BOOST FOR FARM GOODS NULL
PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A ruling at Washington has excluded freight rate increases on principal agricultural products. Arthur M. Geary, attorney for the farm rate council of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, reported today upon his return from the east.
The attorney added, however, that recent increases in the ocean and rail rates for wheat to the price-controlling market of the southeast "makes this area less able to pay the prescribed increased rate on things that the farmers buy."
Geary said northwest farmers favored increased rates on fresh meats and packing house products from the middle-west to the coast because the industry in this area "needs the protection."

PAROLE BOARD TO BACK COMMITTEE
SALEM, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Whatever recommendations are made to the 1938 legislature by the interim committee now studying needed reforms in Oregon's parole system, will have the support of the state parole board, W. H. Goodwin, private secretary to Governor Charles H. Martin declared today.
Goodwin, by virtue of being the governor's secretary, also is a member of the state parole board.
"The present parole system is inadequate," Goodwin said, "and amendments to the law are badly needed."
Three bills dealing with the parole system were introduced at the last legislature but were defeated.

300 PORTLANDERS GET CARS 'SPRAY'
PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Vandals who may have been "drumming up business" for garages sprayed nearly 300 automobiles in an apartment house district with paint remover. Captain of Detectives John J. Keegan said two men recently approached a Seattle garage owners' association and offered to "drive all all-night parked automobiles into garages."
Failing to do business in Seattle, the men probably shifted their "racket" here, the captain said.
In 1934, the census showed 32,641 foreign residents living in Japan.

BABY FILM HELD GOOD, OTHERWISE
SALEM, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The motion picture, "The Birth of a Baby," exhibited before delegates to the Oregon State Medical society convention here yesterday, brought both praise and criticism.
The picture eventually will be released for public showing, officials of the medical society said.
A discussion of the picture, led by Dr. G. D. Carlyle Thompson, stressed the need of more parental care for expectant mothers.
A nurse objected to the picture because it portrayed a delivery in the home rather than in a hospital.
DeWitt Clinton was mayor of New York for three separate terms.

HAMILTON CLAIMS ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR PEACE ANEW

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 23.—(AP)—John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, charged today that President Roosevelt has made the American people "jittery" by practices that are "anything but encouraging to economic revival."
The recent stock market slump, Hamilton declared in an address prepared for a meeting of West Virginia Republican women, "portends great possible distress" and Mr. Roosevelt "should prepare to deal with the squalls."
Hamilton said administration policies have created "widespread alarm" instead of "true prosperity" and that the president "has shown himself unaware of actual economic developments."
"Our Republican opposition to the New Deal, which has been transformed into the Roosevelt deal, has always been based on the fundamental consideration that in the long run it could not work," Hamilton said.
"Now that this Roosevelt deal is beginning to crack at the joints, we may expect to hear again that the Republican party is the party of privilege, that it is antagonistic to the welfare of the common man, and that his interests are only safe in Mr. Roosevelt's hands. This is farthest from the fact."
A liberal Republicanism seeks the interest of the common man no less sincerely and far more practically than does Mr. Roosevelt.
"If demagoguery has temporarily alienated from our ranks millions whose real interests lie with us, it becomes our primary task by our words and deeds to again enlist their support in our cause."

The cleanup campaign got under way at the conclusion of a 30-day survey of conditions here by Dr. David C. Elliott, assigned by the United States public health service to aid in combatting syphilis. Dr. Elliott refused to comment on his findings.

PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Fifty county agents and agricultural association christians entered a "staining school" today to acquaint themselves with the provision of the 1938 agricultural conservation program.
The school included representatives from Marion, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Hood River, Washington and Yamhill counties.
"Oregon has done an exceptionally good job in getting the farm act information to the farmers," said John Dexter, Roseman, Mont., northwest AAA official.
"This year we are making a special effort to get fundamentals of the program to the farmers early so that they can make their plans now for next year."

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Officials of Champaign and Urbana ordered a campaign today to close vice and gambling resorts in the two cities, after a conference with President Arthur Cutts Willard of the University of Illinois.
The campaign was based on reports published in the Daily Illini, student newspaper, that many frequenters of Champaign's "red light district" were university students.
President Willard appealed to the Champaign and Urbana officials to help the university "protect and maintain standards of student good conduct off the campus."
After a meeting last night with mayors and police chiefs of the two cities he said in a statement they agreed to co-operate by "closing and keeping closed all gambling places and houses of ill fame, aiding promptly all such places, imposing penalties on all proprietors and inmates and furnishing the university with names—real, not fictitious—of any students found in such places."
Articles in the Daily Illini offered proof that at least 14 places of study character were operating openly on one street in Champaign.

LAUNCH DRIVE TO CLEAN UP BILL IN CAMPUS TOWN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Officials of Champaign and Urbana ordered a campaign today to close vice and gambling resorts in the two cities, after a conference with President Arthur Cutts Willard of the University of Illinois.
The campaign was based on reports published in the Daily Illini, student newspaper, that many frequenters of Champaign's "red light district" were university students.
President Willard appealed to the Champaign and Urbana officials to help the university "protect and maintain standards of student good conduct off the campus."
After a meeting last night with mayors and police chiefs of the two cities he said in a statement they agreed to co-operate by "closing and keeping closed all gambling places and houses of ill fame, aiding promptly all such places, imposing penalties on all proprietors and inmates and furnishing the university with names—real, not fictitious—of any students found in such places."
Articles in the Daily Illini offered proof that at least 14 places of study character were operating openly on one street in Champaign.
