

Miriam Hopkins In Comedy "Woman Chases Man" At Craterian Today

PICTURES OF ORE. ORE. STATE GAME ON SAME PROGRAM

A film program that should appeal to all types of audiences opens a three-day run at the New Craterian theater. For one thing, the feature is one of the most hilarious bits of nonsense the screen has shown for quite some time. "Woman Chases Man" with Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea co-starred in a rapid-paced fun farce made solely for the purpose of tickling the funnybone.

A special attraction, of interest to all football fans—particularly those of this state—is the film taken yesterday at the Oregon-Oregon State football game in Eugene. The yearly clash between the two state colleges.

Third on the program, advertised for last week but failed to arrive here, is the Robert Benchley short reel, "How to Start the Day Right," one of Benchley's comedy of errors along the same lines as his prior hits.

The story of "Woman Chases Man" has Miriam Hopkins as a graduate of architecture, looking to Charles Winninger, eccentric builder of dreams and banker of worthless inventions, for a job in his latest dream, a model village. The only catch to the job after she gets it, is to induce the old man's son, Joel McCrea, in loosening up his purse-strings and backing the venture. The son, however, experienced in his father's somewhat goofy ideas that have eaten up his money in what he considers a foolish idea. Then the chase begins.

In order to investigate the son to part with $100,000 to start the model village, Miriam gathers together her old pals and they all go to work on him, to no avail. Then the big discovery—the son has a chink in his armor. Liquor. Given the right amount (one drink) and he'll sign anything, anytime, anywhere. But oobers discover the same fact and it becomes a mad chase to see who can get him drinking first. It all winds up in a trestop, with six of them doing their best to coerce or dissuade the signing of contracts. The tree wins the argument—pitching them all to the ground.

Bobby Breen's New Musical Has Maine Woods Background

Beautiful, lake-studded Maine woods are the setting for opening sequences of Bobby Breen's latest musical starring vehicle, "Make a Wish," which heads the double bill program opening a three-day run at the Rialto theatre today. Basil Rathbone, dropping his villain roles for the first time, and Marion Claire headline with the singing star. The story of "Make a Wish" finds Bobby at a boys' camp in Maine, where he makes the acquaintance of Rathbone, a composer of operettas, who is staying at a nearby lodge. Through Bobby, the musician acquires a very personal interest in the lady young mother, former singing star of the stage, much to the annoyance of her fiancé. The situation reaches a minor climax when Rathbone urges her to play the leading role in his new operetta. From this point the story moves.

"Stella Dallas" Here Soon

"Stella Dallas," which comes to the New Craterian theatre Wednesday for its local showing, gives Barbara Stanwyck one of the best roles this talented actress has ever had. Playing the title role in the picture, Miss Stanwyck's portrayal of the vulgar, tautry woman who was capable of a magnificent, unselfish love and sacrifice, is considered one of the finest individual performances of the year. John Boles, Anne Shirley and Alan Hale are also featured.

to a surprising finish, though its progress is delightfully complicated by the uproarious antics of a crew of comedians, headed by the explosive Henry Armetta, Leon Errol, Donald Meek, Ralph Forbes and Lonid Kinskey. Most of the outdoor shots were taken around beautiful Lake Malibu, film retreat of the movie stars.

"Over the Goal," featuring Johnny Davis, June Travis and William Hopper, plays as the companion feature with "Make a Wish." The story deals with a bet made between a couple of players on rival teams back in 1887, when gridmen wore long hair and even whiskers. They wager that 30 years hence each will produce a winning team. They go into the

"Partners in Crime"

Lynne Overman, Inez Courtney and Roscoe Karns are the three principals in "Partners in Crime," coming to the Rialto theatre for Wednesday and Thursday. A blend of mystery and comedy, "Partners in Crime" is the tale of two voters who try to overcome a crooked city administration and help elect a reform candidate to the majority of their city. Muriel Hutchison, Anthony Quinn and Lucien Littlefield are also in the cast. "Idol of the Crowd," starring John Wayne, Billy Burrud and Russell Hopton, shares double bill honors.

world, get rich, develop teams—and here in "Over the Goal" comes to hilarious climax to their bet. Other members of the cast include Mabel Todd, Gordon Oliver, William Herring and members of the U. S. C. football squad.

WITNESSES PILFERING OF OWN TRAVELING BAG

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 23.—(UP)—A. M. Oliphant, Oklahoma City, sauntered from a lunch counter at a railroad depot here today, and, for lack of anything to do, watched a man remove contents of a valise. An hour later, he told police, he realized he had witnessed the pilfering of his own bag.

A general of the United States army earns $8,000 per year. Closing time for Too Late to Classify Ada is 1:30 p. m.

Colbert at Roxy

Lovely Claudette Colbert is at the Roxy theatre today and tomorrow only in her grandest laugh-fun hit, "I Met Him in Paris." With Claudette as her two ardent suitors are Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas. The film takes Miss Colbert all over the face of Europe with Young and Douglas hot in pursuit. Other members of the cast include Mona Barrie, Lee Bowman and George Davis.

DARBY LISTED AS GILL OPPONENT

SILVERTON, Ore., Oct. 23.—(AP)—J. O. Darby, member of the Union Hill grange, last night announced his candidacy for state master in opposition to Ray Gill, incumbent. The announcement was made by Mr. Darby while attending the silvertown grange as a visitor. He has received a number of nominations for the office from local granges and is said to be strongly supported in Marion county and some other places in the state.

The ladies are asked to bring boxes which will be sold at auction. The proceeds will be used for benefit of the school.

SCANDAL ARISES IN KANSAS HOME FOR ERRING GIRLS

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Kathryn O'Laughlin McCarthy, former congresswoman, today demanded investigation of what she termed "wholesale sterilization of girls" in the Kansas industrial school at Beloit before Gov. Walter A. Huxman came into office.

Mrs. McCarthy told a conference of Democratic women school records showed 62 of the 148 inmates at the time Huxman was inaugurated early this year had been sterilized and that 22 more were slated for operations.

"So far as I can determine, sterilization was done as a punishment, rather than for any special good for society," she said.

"It is horrible to think these girls have been deprived of motherhood and a chance for a happy married life."

Will Beck, former vice-chairman of the state board of administration, said a number of girls had been sterilized but only after formal hearings and with consent of parents or guardians.

Mrs. McCarthy declared "the parents' pleas did not stop these wholesale sterilizations, but that is due to the faculty state law. I am going to do all in my power to have that law changed."

DISTRICT SESSION OF V. F. W. HELD

The district meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for all posts and auxiliaries in district No. 8 of the department of Oregon was held in the Medford Armory Saturday evening, October 23, at 8 o'clock. This meeting was called by District Commander Arthur Bollinger of Brookings, commander of District No. 8, V. F. W., and Mrs. L. D. Canfield, district council member No. 8 and the posts and auxiliaries represented last evening were Brookings, Del Rague post and auxiliary of Grants Pass, Crater Lake post and auxiliary of Medford, Walter A. Phillips post and auxiliary of Ashland and Pelican post and auxiliary of Klamath Falls.

The degree team from Del Rague post of Grants Pass put on the initiation work for new recruits mustered in last evening. State officers were guests of both the post and auxiliary. Short talks on the different phases of the work carried on by the organization were given.

Department President Beatrice Shadon of Corvallis was a guest of the auxiliary. After the respective business meetings, refreshments served by the ladies of Crater Lake auxiliary and a social hour followed.
