

Double Main Event Features Tonight's Grappling Card at Armory

MARINE AND PETE, CHICK AND STONE WILL TRADE GRIPS

Clemens And Murdock To Furnish First Event—Expect Belcastro, Kenaston To Stage Wild Affair.

Mad Marine Bob Kenaston and Mad Italian Pete Belcastro, two of the game's maddest madmen, go to the post in one-half the double main event at the Medford armory tonight. In the other half Bobby Chick, ex-light heavyweight champion of the world, tangles with Glen Stone, the guy who, who forced to change his name to get in the front door of the country's wrestling arena. Both matches will go one hour or until one grunt and groaner collects two tumbles.

Expect Big House Because of the "natural" aspects of all three angles, promoter Lillard expects a jammed auditorium this evening. Advance ticket sales are the best in months, he stated today.

The Belcastro-Kenaston brawl is figured by all and sundry to develop into the battle of the century. Master of the terrific Gold Crab, sometimes known as the Chicago crab, depending on the locality in which it is used, Kenaston will enter the arena a huge favorite to churn the Weed, Cal., ruffian into butter and spread him over the armory walls. On the other hand, Belcastro will bring into play his sensational double-barreled dropkick accompanied by all the dirt and savagery only Belcastro can produce. Neither gentleman regards the other in a friendly light, which should produce another one of those things, of which most Belcastro shindigs turn out to be.

Chick Is Clean In the other half of the main go, Bobby Chick, an exponent of all clean and scientific forms of grappling, especially the sensational airplane spin which he has developed to perfection, will face off against the Stone toughie, a chap who has proved he knows all the answers—so far as foul stuff goes. However, after giving Belcastro the business last week (14 spins to a knockout), Chick figures that Stone won't prove much of a tough opponent.

From the opener between Murdock and Clemens carries tremendous dramatic possibilities. It is a rematch from last week, when the two great wrestlers battled their way to a six-round draw, with each taking one tumble in thrilling fashion.

Earl Toakley, fortified with several brand new shirts of a heavy and durable quality, will act as third man in the ring.

INTERCEPTED PASS DEFEATS GONZAGA

SPOKANE, Oct. 25.—(AP)—"Assistant Coach" Bing Crosby saw his Gonzaga University eleven outgain and outplay a visiting San Francisco University aggregation here yesterday only to lose the game by a score of 7 to 0 on another of the season's "dizzy plays."

A freakish pass intercepted and an 80-yard run by Bob Anderson, guard, gave the San Francisco Dons their only touchdown.

Anderson snatched the ball as it bounded into the air behind the line of scrimmage when Halfback Haug, unable to get the throw away, was tackled by two Don linemen as he attempted to toss.

The Bulldogs made 16 first downs to their visitors three and marched to the 2-yard line on one occasion without being able to advance across the scoring marker.

Nine thousand fans turned out to see the contest and for a glimpse of the film star, who sat on the Gonzaga players' bench.

Stone Thrower?

Battling along the comeback trail for another crack at the light heavyweight championship, Bobby Chick (above) will face Glen Stone in one-half the double main event at the Medford armory tonight. Chick, older brother of Paul, hosts an airplane spin even more effective than the present junior heavyweight champ, and will attempt to hurl the Stone villain into the third row balcony.

GIANTS EASY MARCH DUE FOR OPPOSITION FROM WESTERN PROS

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The New York Giants, who've been sailing smoothly through the eastern division waters of the National Football League, may run into quite a blow from the west next week.

The Giants whipped Brooklyn's Dodgers impressively yesterday for a fourth straight victory and have lost only one game. But they'll look at storm signals next Sunday when the Chicago Bears, only undefeated club in the circuit, invade the polo grounds to give the New Yorkers their first season's taste of western division opposition.

The Giants, who lost to Washington in their opener, must face Pittsburgh after the Bears and then take on the strong Detroit and Green Bay teams. The Giants, however, indicated by their 21 to 0 conquest of Brooklyn that they may weather this western gale.

The Bears won their fifth game in as many starts by downing Detroit 28 to 20.

Green Bay won its fourth straight game, walloping Cleveland's hapless Rams 35 to 7.

Chicago's Cardinals won their fourth game, defeating Pittsburgh 13 to 7 before 8,963 chilled fans.

Riley Smith's toe came through for Washington as the Redskins noosed Philadelphia 10 to 7.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Los Angeles Bulldogs added a 17 to 7 triumph over Cincinnati yesterday, to four previous victories to remain well ahead of the pack in the American football association. They have averaged nearly 20 points a game and have held the opposition to a total of 22.

The Bengals had little chance against the coast team yesterday.

The Boston Shamrocks, with Larry Kelley on hand but out of action because of illness, trampled the Pittsburgh Americans, 21 to 7. They took third place half a game behind the Rochester Tigers, who rode over the New York Yankees, 24 to 0.

CALIFORNIA BEARS IMPRESS FANS AS ROSE BOWL CHOICE

Will Face UCLA, Washington, Oregon And Stanford Before Schedule Ends—Oregon Idle Saturday.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The football capital of the country, so far as followers of the great American collegiate sport in this area were concerned, was located on the University of California campus today.

Any lingering doubts were dispelled Saturday by the Bears when they put the well known crusher on University of Southern California's Trojans for a count of 20 to 6.

California supporters already are chanting "On to the Rose Bowl," but before that objective is achieved several difficult hurdles must be cleared. To the three conference victories already attained, the Bears must add these: University of California at Los Angeles, Washington, Oregon and Stanford. The games follow on successive week ends.

While the undefeated California team continues its title drive, the surprising Washington State college squad will try to push Southern California deeper into the rack. The game will be played at Pullman.

A couple of "dark horses" meet in the Palo Alto battle between Stanford and Oregon State. Each has staged fine comebacks since early season disappointments.

Stanford upset a highly favored University of Washington eleven, 13 to 7, in Seattle last Saturday, while Oregon State was topping its old rival, Oregon, 14 to 0.

Washington meets Idaho in a non-conference game next Saturday and Oregon remains idle.

LOYOLA DEFEATED 7-0 BY AERIAL DISASTER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Loyola's hapless Lions began another "blue Monday" on the football practice field today, following defeat by Santa Clara's unbeaten Broncos.

Edged out already this season by Hardie-Simmons and St. Mary's the Lions saw another game go slimmer yesterday when Bill Gunther, Bronco fullback, intercepted a Loyola pass and ran half the distance of the field to a touchdown.

The successful try for extra point made the score 7 to 0, with less than a quarter left to play. A clipping penalty soon gave Loyola the ball deep in Santa Clara territory, but the threat ended when "King" Fisher of the Broncos snared Jack Lyons' pass.

'UNLOADED' GUN KILLS UMATILLA INDIAN BOY

PENDLETON, Ore., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A shotgun that "wasn't loaded" yesterday took the life of Harold Pond, aged 6, Indian boy of the Umatilla reservation near here. He was the son of Walter Pond.

With George Penny, 13-year-old Indian boy, and three other boys, he was on a pheasant hunting expedition on reservation lands. Forgetting the gun was loaded, young Penny pulled the trigger when the barrel was pointed at young Pond's head, according to the story of the boys as told to Sheriff Robert Good.

SOUTHERN OREGON GRID TITLE HANGS ON NOV. 11 CLASH

Watch out—Bend, Ashland, Grants Pass and Eugene—these Medford high Tigers are no longer mild-mannered kittens.

At the same time, if Ashland wins from the Tigers, the team of Coach Skeet O'Connell will sit on the pin-nacle for the first time since 1929.

If Ashland and Medford should battle to a tie, the race will end in a three-way deadlock, with each boasting one victory and two ties.

The Black Tornado will this week prepare for the invasion next Saturday afternoon of Bend high's mighty Lava Bears, undefeated in their last 21 consecutive starts. To date this year, they have marched through six opponents and are considered the most powerful prep team in the state.

The Tigers suffered no major casualties in the grueling Klamath encounter, although many regulars were shaken up by the vicious tackling and blocking of both teams.

Pete Green, Klamath Falls tacky halfback, leads the Southern Oregon conference scoring race with 12 points, produced from touchdowns scored against Grants Pass and Ashland. Players who have tallied markers follow:

Billy Hulen Says:

Tigers Display Title Caliber In K. F. Battle

On the surface, that savage, rock 'em and sock 'em scoreless tie between the Black Tornado and Klamath Falls Friday night, proved nothing other than the fact that neither ball club had the offensive "push" to ring the touchdown gong.

But to those local pigskin philberts who had followed keenly the Tigers of Coach Bill Bowerman in their four previous starts, that 0-0 battle with the Klamath Pelicans proved once and for all that Medford is at last on the upswing, mentally and defensively.

Against Eureka the previous week, the Tornado looked tired and listless. Its tackling, to put it mildly, was feeble. Against Klamath Falls Friday night, it was a brand new football team; it was alert, full of vigor and plenty tough. It stood out there and battled a heavier and supposedly better Klamath forward wall right off its collective feet, and when it tackled, well, Tom Giovanini and other Pelican ball-carriers stayed tackled.

Paradoxically, Medford's admitted weakness was its strength against Klamath, and its proved strength was its apparent weakness. By no stretch of the imagination could the Tigers have been termed a tough defensive eleven on its past record, but it was in that very phase that Medford was mighty. On the other hand, the Tornado had time after time proved its offensive power (82 points in four games), but against Klamath Falls it failed to register a single marker.

It can't, however, be definitely stated the Tornado showed a weak offensive against the Pelicans. Those Klamathites were defending their goal line bitterly, and penalties at crucial moments halted the Tornado a few yards shy of pay-dirt. At that Medford rolled up 341 yards from scrimmage to 156 for the Pelicans, a pretty fair indication of Tiger superiority.

It was defensively that the Tornado really reached the heights. When the pressure was applied, the supposedly weak line was more than equal to the task. Dan Ehrhart was a great tackle against Klamath Falls. Rugged Dominic Giovanini found that out. With a first down on the Medford seven-yard line, Giovanini three times tested the right side of Medford's forward wall, and when it was all over the ball was still three yards from the final stripe. Ehrhart personally taking care of the Klamath fullback. From end to end, the Tornado's first line of defense turned in a magnificent performance. If it can remain at the peak reached against Klamath Falls, if it continues to tackle low and viciously, there may be no stopping the Tigers from here on out.

The bareheaded guy you see parading up and down the main stem today is none other than Mr. I. Pickem, greatest prognosticator of pigskin clashes the world has ever known. (He is bareheaded because he can't find a hat to fit on account of what happened on the football front last Saturday.)

By nature, I. Pickem is a modest chap. He never gloats over the amazing predictions he turns in weekly. And, so it is today. He will point out, in barest detail, how he reached stupendous heights last Friday in naming eight (8) winners out of 12 absolute looseup football encounters, probably the greatest exhibition of prognosticating in history.

Modestly, I. Pickem points to that Fordham-Texas Christian battle in New York City. Mr. Pickem named Fordham to win, 7-6. The final score was 7-6 in favor of Fordham. Also, to the Yale upset victory over mighty Cornell. That was I. Pickem's big "reversal" for the week, and he was correct, naming Yale to cop, 14-12, and they did, 9-0.

Pickem blushes profusely, however, on the Brown-Columbia affair. Out of 12 games, the ace picker selected that encounter as his "breather," naming Columbia to win, 30-0. Brown provided the big upset of the east by eking out a 7-6 verdict.

The record for last week-end is even better than eight for 12, because Klamath Falls and Medford played to a scoreless tie, and ties don't count under the new system inaugurated last week. It is eight for 11. To date, the complete record of I. Pickem attacks up this way:

Picked	Won	Tied	Lost	Pct.
60	32	19	9	.627

Pickem got the limb sawed out from under him on the Oregon-Oregon State game, which the Beavers won, 14-0, instead of losing, 13-20; the UCLA-WSC embroglio which the Cougars coped, 3-0, instead of dropping, 0-6; and, as before mentioned, the Brown-Columbia night-mare.

Here are the jewels of prognostication as turned in by I. Pickem last Friday: Stanford to beat Washington by one point—they did by 13-7; California over USC, 14-7, and the score was 26-6; Portland to wallop Bigman Young, 13-0, and it was 13-19; Notre Dame to win from Navy, 12-7; and they did, 9-7; Ohio State to rap Northwestern, 19-7; which they did, 7-0; Baylor to defeat Texas A. and M., 27-20, the final being, 13-0; and the Fordham win over Texas Christian and the Yale victory over Cornell.

PURPOSE TO ORGANIZE

GHOSTS!

THERE may be ghosts in your house! Not the table-juggling, wall-knocking variety—but the ghosts of mis-spent dollars.

"I wish I hadn't bought that" . . . "I made up my mind in too much of a hurry" . . . "That didn't wear well" . . .

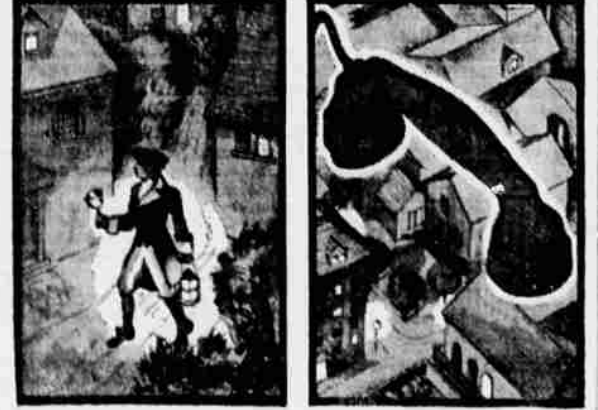

"I saw the same thing, five minutes later, for a lot less money."

How often are you haunted by thoughts like these?

There's a way to banish such ghosts . . . and it's right here in this newspaper. Read the advertisements.

They'll tell you ALL, before you buy. You'll know exactly what to expect for your money. You'll know how many ice-cubes this refrigerator makes . . . how many miles you'll get on a gallon of gas with that motor car . . . how much you should pay for Winter underwear. There's scarcely a thing you need or use in daily life not mentioned in the advertisements!

Read the advertisements! Compare them. You'll spend your money without regrets!

Call's well!
