

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

"Everyone in Southern Oregon Needs the Mail Tribune." Daily Except Saturday. Published by MEDFORD PRINTING CO. 24-27-29 N. 5th St. Phone 75

ROBERT W. HULL, Editor. ERNEST R. GILSTRAP, Manager.

An Independent Newspaper.

Entered as second-class matter at Medford, Oregon, March 5, 1919.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Mail—In Advance: Daily, one year, $10.00; Daily, six months, $6.00; Daily, one month, $2.00.

Official Paper of the City of Medford, Oregon, and of Jackson County.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Receiving Full Press Wire Service.

MEMBER OF UNITED PRESS.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

Advertising Representative: WEST-HOLLIDAY.

Offices in New York, Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, St. Louis, Atlanta, Vancouver, B. C.

Member of the Oregon Publishers Association.

Ye Smudge Pot.

The announced revival of the Ku Klux Klan in this state. Things have changed. The "more abundant" giddiness prevails.

General "Crackdown" Johnson proposes Republican party peace by suggesting both Mr. Hoover, ex-president, and Mr. Landon, ex-candidate, make themselves politically scarce.

Sports commentators on both air and paper note the frequency in Pacific Coast football games, in which referees get in the road, and lead the interference for the side with the ball.

But the people fuse—around ideas and ideals, not around political bargains and stratagems.

It is now alleged the riotous conduct staged by UO and OSC students last Monday was a nifty out-break of "collegiate spirit."

"But the people fuse—around ideas and ideals, not around political bargains and stratagems."

"Quiet Sunday Hunt Fails"—(Hillside Del Norte Triplet)—Any way, Monday wasn't accidentally shot for Tuesday.

"Way of the Transgressor"—He passed Mr. Colton a few verbal bouquets and Archie invited the pleasant appearing young man up to supper Sunday night.

As Mr. Colton can't drive his own car on a mountain road, his new friend drove the old boy over to Yreka Monday, and returned—fair enough.

But Monday night this affable traveler was around public places selling rheumatism rings, for two and four bits, watches one dollar, rain coats, two dollars.

American investors receive more money in interest than in dividends: $3,698,183,755 against $2,128,762,000 in 1934.

One of the oldest birds in the Bronx zoo, New York City, is a European vulture, which has been in the zoo 34 years.

Support National Guard

TWENTY new recruits are wanted for the Medford National Guard. There should be no difficulty in securing them. The National Guard is a permanent institution, a definite part of our system of local and national defense.

Membership in the National Guard is excellent physical and character training for a young man. Not only does he become proficient in the manual of arms, but he is able to secure an understanding of modern military science, which will assist him in securing rapid advancement in the event of war.

No one wants war. No one wants disease. But it would be folly, with the world as it is, to deny the possibility of either, or refuse to do everything possible either to prevent them, or if they should come, successfully carry on against them.

In the latter direction the National Guard is our country's first line of home defense. Certainly to maintain and support it, does not mean to encourage the militaristic spirit. In fact quite the reverse. For essentially it means to be prepared to more successfully oppose those, at home or abroad, who would suddenly appeal to force.

So there should be no difficulty in securing in this city, a score of young men, who would like to become a part of such an organization. Not only will they be helping their community, their country and their state, but themselves.

In addition to the military features, a member enjoys many incidental benefits. He receives pay from the government, each drill night; is given two weeks at regular pay at the seashore at Camp Clatsop each summer, when field maneuvers are held; he gets his entire equipment free, outdoor and indoor rifle range practice, and for his services as a guardsman, high school credits. Finally he not only yields to discipline, he becomes trained to impose it,—as his continued service develops latent qualities of leadership.

This column has no desire to misrepresent the matter in the slightest. No one could detest war, and all its works more than we do. With that professional recruiting technique, which would paint enlistment in the navy as merely a sight seeing joyride, or enlistment in the National Guard, as merely joining a young man's smoking club at Uncle Sam's expense,—we have no sympathy whatever.

The National Guard is a military organization, as is the army and navy,—and there should be no attempt whatever to disguise the fact.

But our contention is, it is a NECESSARY organization, a useful organization, and should have support, not only from the public, but from the young men of any community who must compose it.

Considering its necessity, its importance in our entire system of local and national defense, considerations of patriotic service and the advantages to be derived therefrom, we feel certain, that all the local company needs is proper publicity, to not only fill up its quota, but join with other similar communities in the state and enjoy a waiting list.

The above is given as a good will offering in this direction. We are confident when the true character and needs of the local National Guard are known, there will be no trouble concerning membership.

Sees End of Hitler

In a recent "Forum" Emil Ludwig, the famous German historian, gives an analysis of the two "fascist" dictators, Mussolini and Hitler, and their probable roles in Europe, in the immediate future, which is intensely interesting and convincing.

If Ludwig is right, then Mussolini is a bluff as far as wanting war is concerned. With true Latin cunning and guile however, he is using this as a threat against England and France on one hand, while he is making a cat's paw out of Hitler, with the other.

Hitler, however, has built up his power in Germany on war psychology ENTIRELY and while like the Kaiser he does not personally wish it, Ludwig predicts he will be powerless to prevent it. In other words "Der Fuehrer" has built up a Frankenstein, and will be destroyed by it. In which event the crafty and designing Mussolini, will do as Italy did in 1915, desert Germany, and join in with France and England, for her price.

Under no circumstances is Mussolini planning to start a war in Europe for the expansion of Italy. The story of his Caesar complex is a fable invented by people who misinterpreted his character. He is the typical excellent Italian diplomat, realistic and cynical. Mussolini will neither instigate a war nor readily participate in one: he will wait and, later on, go with the winner.

Hitler gambles everything on the supremacy of the Germans, on the expansion of German power. He knows that the Germans want neither colonies nor raw materials nor Strasbourg nor the Ukraine. The Germans want nothing but a victory, and therefore the idealists among them cannot and will not rest until they have achieved one and until they have stood once more in the Hall of Mirrors as triumphantly as they stood in 1871.

With such hopes he electrifies the youth. For, in spite of the fact that at the last moment he may perhaps wish to avoid the war which can swallow him, Hitler, like Wilhelm II, will nevertheless be forced into it. Mussolini, however, who is not a mystic but a diplomat, will draw his profit out of Hitler's war. And therefore Hitler and not Mussolini will end like Napoleon III.

that organizations representing public welfare are complaining that all is not well in the distribution and retail end of the beer trade.

Fixing the cost of prohibition at a billion dollars and the loss of more than 15 years of "profitable business," Cochran said:

"If you break faith with congress and with the people by tolerating retail establishments to become indecent, obnoxious and outrageous, there will be strong agitation in congress for the submission of another repeal amendment."

The head waiter in many London restaurants greets you in full dress—whether it's breakfast, lunch or dinner.

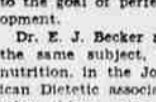

An average of 18,214,366 boys and girls were in school each day of the 1933-34 term in 41 of the 48 states.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M. D. Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Calif.

WHERE THE SUN DOES NOT ENTER THE DOCTOR WILL

From the study of the physical vigor and development of a thousand children in private practice, Dr. C. U. Moore and H. G. Dennis, Portland pediatricians, conclude that although extreme rickets are not common, milder manifestations are still too common. They advance the opinion that the routine practice of supplementing the diet with vitamin D may bring a closer approach to the goal of perfect skeletal development.

Dr. E. J. Becker recently discussed the same subject, that is, optimal nutrition, in the Jour. of the American Dietetic Association, and among other things expressed this conclusion:

"For the adult, vitamin D is also essential, not as an antirachitic factor (preventive of rickets) but to maintain a normal calcium-phosphorus balance and the integrity of bones and teeth."

Only natural foods of man, at least civilized man, containing appreciable amounts of vitamin D, are egg yolk, butter, cream, fresh whole milk, cheese made from whole milk or cream, fresh or canned salmon and sardines. None of these can provide enough, in the quantities ordinarily used, to meet the minimum daily requirement of infant or adult, much less the optimal.

Optimum nutrition means better than average. I call it vite. Vitamin D is essential for the assimilation and utilization of calcium and phosphorus in the body. The metabolism of these elements determines the condition of bones, teeth, nervous system, in fact the degree of vite.

Need for vitamin D to supplement the limited amount obtainable in our ordinary diet varies inversely with age. Elderly folk have the least need for it. Adults under middle age need a moderate amount to keep them in vigorous health and to maintain good immunity. The prospective mother needs a liberal daily ration, not only to protect her own health but to supply the vitamin D the fetus requires, also the growing fetus, being parasitic, robs the mother's bones and teeth of calcium and phosphorus. The child in his or her early teens needs a vitamin D ration to prevent late rickets, spinal curvature, weak ankles, flat feet, faulty development and puttering and apparently accomplishing nothing.

Few men in journalism occupied a place as unique as Ed Howe. Or wrote so vigorously to the end. My affection for him was deep. In floundering around to syndicate a column, he was the first editor and writer of prominence to throw me a line. Something of mine in the Kansas City Star pleased him and he took time out of a busy life to cheer me on my way. Later when we were both wintering at Miami Beach we had many afternoons at the races, and motor rides together. Several times a year we exchanged letters and his last one, almost an undecipherable sprawl, because his blindness was nearly total, wound up dismally with: "There is not much to do now but wait, but after 82 years of it one doesn't much mind."

Thingumbobs: Broadway's most beloved press agent was Ray Henderson, killed recently in an airplane crash-up in Greece. . . . Both Will Rogers's sons are earnest gum chewers, just like Dad. . . . John Chapman, of the Daily News, is the only linguist among the columnists. . . . Corey Ford, who loves to fish and make it pay writing articles about it, has a dozen fishing files named for him.

Paste! A boy and girl in the Waldorf lounge having cocktails. He was one of those bright fellows who does not have much money, but gets around. They were to have cocktails, go to his apartment where he was "to get an important telephone call" and then out to dinner. The table was dotted with dishes of pop corn, pretzels, peanuts and potato chips. The young man was making heavy inroads on the outlay. The girl was drinking quietly. Finally the boy, looking inky: "Why Anna, you are not eating a thing. And you, eating the nuts, chips, etc, a shade contemptuously, mumbled: "Yes, and I'll probably regret it later on."

Notice to Creditors. In the County Court of the State of Oregon for Jackson County. In the Matter of the Estate of Frank Henry Dressler, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, by an order of the County Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Jackson, duly made and entered on the 23rd day of October, 1937, was appointed Administrator of the estate of Frank Henry Dressler, deceased, and that he has duly qualified as such Administrator.

SALEM, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Every person in the CCC, including Director Robert Fechner, will be fingerprinted this month, reports the organization's official publication.

The fingerprinting has no connection with the federal bureau of investigation but is being done for identification purposes.

All officers, civilian employees and enrollees in the Medford CCC district were being fingerprinted this week in accordance with instructions from Washington, D. C., local officials said.

The fingerprints will become part of the record of each individual. Capt. C. L. Pierce, district inspector, has charge of fingerprinting all officers and civilian employees at the Medford headquarters. The prints will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., when completed.

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

AT AGE 80, one death in three is from heart trouble. At 80, one death in seven is from heart trouble. At 80, one death in 15 and at 20 about one in 20.

Heart disease, you see, is one of the leading causes of death—which isn't so surprising in view of the fact that when the heart stops EVERYTHING stops.

IN THE 10 years from 1923 to 1930, the number of deaths recorded as due to heart disease increased at some ages nearly 50 per cent.

That doesn't necessarily mean that in the decade following the war heart disease was more prevalent than ever before. For one thing, medicine had made long strides in conquering OTHER diseases, so that more people lived until their hearts began to wear out.

For another, medical knowledge of the heart increased, so that many deaths that formerly had been regarded as due to other causes began to be correctly attributed to heart failure.

IF YOU are a woman, you are more likely to die from heart disease up to age 50 than you would be if you were a man.

Then, from age 50 to 70—for reasons that are not clearly and definitely understood—women are somewhat less liable than men to death from heart trouble.

From 70 on, women again become more liable than men to death from heart disease.

DO NOT let heart disease and its prevalence as a cause of death worry you unduly. When you stop to think that the human body is nourished and kept alive by the blood stream and that the blood stream is circulated throughout the body by the pumping action of the heart, it is easy to understand that troubles of the heart are prominent among causes of death. It couldn't be otherwise.

But, if you want to live a long time, it is exceedingly wise to so order your life as to avoid unnecessary strain and weakening of the heart muscle.

Many people die years earlier than they should because of neglect of this advice.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Tony Lazzeri, for 12 years star second baseman for the New York Yankees, was signed today by Owner Phil K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs as player and coach for 1938.

The deal was closed at a one-hour conference with Wrigley. Lazzeri came from his home in San Francisco for the meeting.

Lazzeri, who became the Yankee regular second baseman in 1926, has played in six world series.

Behind Washington Headlines

By H. R. Baukhage

Copyright 1937, by The North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.

declare that such law as there is applies to the "high seas," not to a ship in port.

To this, the department of justice lawyers may well reply with the explanation published in conjunction with the codified law.

That the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States extends to the high seas and all navigable waters within the territory of the United States will not be questioned. It seems equally clear that it extends to vessels belonging to the United States or to citizens thereof when on a navigable water within the limits of a foreign state, and all cases arising on board such vessel while on any such waters are clearly cases within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States.

There is precedent, too lengthy to cite here.

Testimony will undoubtedly bring out some interesting facts which haven't been broadcast before.

For instance, there were three, not one, sit-down strikes on the Algie, not including the one before she sailed from Baltimore.

The first "sit-down" after she started was in the port of Jacksonville. The men demanded an extra "wiper" in the engine room. The Notice to Creditors. In the County Court of the State of Oregon for Jackson County. In the Matter of the Estate of Frank Henry Dressler, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, by an order of the County Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Jackson, duly made and entered on the 23rd day of October, 1937, was appointed Administrator of the estate of Frank Henry Dressler, deceased, and that he has duly qualified as such Administrator.

SALEM, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Every person in the CCC, including Director Robert Fechner, will be fingerprinted this month, reports the organization's official publication.

The fingerprinting has no connection with the federal bureau of investigation but is being done for identification purposes.

All officers, civilian employees and enrollees in the Medford CCC district were being fingerprinted this week in accordance with instructions from Washington, D. C., local officials said.

Flight 'o Time

Medford and Jackson County history from the files of the Mail Tribune 10 and 20 years ago.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY October 28, 1927 (It was Friday) Anti-Saloon League scoffs at poll showing people demand repeal of prohibition.

City police issue warning against auto speeding on West Main street.

Work on airport field progresses rapidly.

Rain welcomed by Reese-Crook farmers; more needed.

County taxes delinquent after November 6.

Carload of valley livestock sent to Portland show.

Cattle buyers pay good prices for Sams Valley beef.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY October 28, 1917 (It was Sunday) Allies to rush troops to halt threatened German invasion of Italy. Italian armies in retreat.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gates returned Sunday from their long sojourn at Peoria, Ill., and other eastern points, and are at home in their suite in the Barnum apartments. They have been absent for the past two months.

Grants Pass high defeats Medford 32 to 0.

The condition of Louis Jennings III in Sacred Heart hospital with typhoid fever is much improved.

A large photograph of a company, 18th Engineers (railway), now on duty in France and of which Frederick Heath of this city is a member, is on exhibition in Heath's drug store window.

Medford Lodge No. 103, A. F. & A. M., Special Communication Thursday, Oct. 28, 7:30 p. m. Work in E. A. degree. Visitors welcome. C. M. Houston, W. M. R. E. Sweeney, Secy.

The navy's rope is made chiefly in its own navy yard at Boston.

The population of Maine is 98.7 per cent white.

LET'S STAY AT HOME And mind our own business. Let other nations fight their own battles.

Argument proves little; Experiment proves more; Experience proves all. Haven't we had enough experience? The best army. The best fleet. And the fact that we are ready and will fight only IN SELF DEFENSE.

Will bring peace and prosperity. FARMERS AND FRUITGROWERS BANK (Member F.D.I.C.)

DONT BUY HOUSE PAINT ON PRICE ALONE

Price per gallon alone does not determine the cost of paint. The actual number of gallons used, and the number of years it weathers—these things determine the actual cost of painting. That's why it pays to choose LOWE BROTHERS HIGH STANDARD House Paint. For HIGH STANDARD covers more surface per gallon and weathers years longer! Let us tell you why!

80¢ PINT Calvert's OLD DRUM BRAND

BLENDING WHISKEY—36 Proof 75% Grain Neutral Spirit

CHAS. J. CALVERT DISTILLERS CORP. DISTILLERIES RELAY MO. AND OREGON VILL. EXECUTIVE OFFICES: CHRYSLER BLDG. N. Y. C.

SINUS TROUBLE

Chinese herbs will give you relief—no matter what you are afflicted with—only one to yourself to use this opportunity to regain your health. Chan's herbs have restored health to thousands of people—Why not you? Do you have Cias, Constipation, Stomach Trouble, Rheumatism, Hay Fever, Prostate Trouble, Ucers, Children's Trouble, Piles, Chronic Cough, High Blood Pressure, Arthritis, Colitis, Nervousness, Appendicitis, Tonsillitis, Eczema, Heart, Liver, Bladder, Kidneys, Lungs, Blood, Urinary Disorders, herbs will give you relief when others fail. Free consultation.

Open 10 to 6 P. M. CHAN & CHAN Sat. 11 to 9 P. M. Tues.-Thurs. 10-12 A. M. Closed Sun. Chinese Med. Co. 335 E. Main

Feel at Home in "The Heart of Portland"

Comfort—Convenience Courtesy—Service Attractive Rates: Detached bath $1.00 up With bath $1.50 up

Hotel Cornelius 523 S.W. Park Portland

BEN G. GRIMSON, Mgr. 623 S.W. Park Portland IN THE HEART OF THE CITY

NEW DRY FIGHT LOOMS UNLESS CLEANUP MADE BREWERS ARE WARNED

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees baseball club, became president of the United States Brewers' association today for the sixteenth time.

Ruppert and all other officers of the association were re-elected.