American Legion Auxiliary

Value of the American Legion auxiliary to the work of the American Legion was stressed by C. L. MacDonald, commander of the Medford post of the American Legion, in a message to all post members urging enrollment of the women of their families in the auxiliary. "Every member enrolled in the auxiliary increases the legion's power to carry out its program of civic and patriotic duties," Commander MacDonald said.

"A very important factor in the achievements of the American Legion is the American Legion auxiliary," the message stated. "The auxiliary's entire program is planned to support the legion's work and is giving very effective aid in all of our activities. The auxiliary is the largest and most influential organization of its kind in the United States. Everything we can do to strengthen it further increases the legion's strength for accomplishment. At this time when the auxiliary is enrolling its membership for 1937 I hope all legionnaires will urge the eligible women in their families to join the auxiliary and go forward with the legion in the vital undertakings of the work ahead."

Mrs. Nettie Ellenburg, membership chairman for Medford unit No. 15 of the American Legion auxiliary, has announced that the membership drive for 1937 will start Thursday morning, November 4, at 9 o'clock and will close on Armistice night. A large group of volunteer workers will take part in the drive and they will meet Thursday noon at the home of Mrs. Edna Overmyer for a pot luck luncheon.

A special broadcast over KMED Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 has been announced by Waive Enders, radio chairman. Mrs. Edna Overmyer, president of the auxiliary, will speak. In the future Medford unit will be on the air the first Wednesday of each month at this same hour. Plans for the Armistice day celebration will be discussed at the regular meeting of the auxiliary next Tuesday evening at the Army. Working with members of the legion, the auxiliary will take an important part in Armistice day activities this year. A luncheon for all auxiliary members will be held at Valentine's cafe at 12 noon, following the parade, and invitations have been sent to Ashland and Grants Pass units to attend, as well as to a number of prospective members. Mrs. Lavera Garlock and Mrs. Margaret Burton are in charge of reservations.

Every member of the auxiliary is urged to be at the meeting Tuesday night. Following the business session there will be an informal entertainment.

Mrs. Gribble to Speak for Guild... Crater Lake Guild of the First Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Walter Finn on the Jacksonville highway. There will be a short musical program consisting of accordion and guitar music by Mrs. Harry Prentice and Robert Muse, followed by a talk by Mrs. John Gribble on her recent trip to China, Japan and the Philippines.

Mrs. Gribble is an extremely interesting speaker and she has brought back numerous articles acquired in the various countries she visited with which she will illustrate her talk. A delightful evening is assured all guild members and their guests and a large attendance is anticipated. Members wishing transportation or having room in their cars for passengers are asked to call Lenore McBe, 422W after 6 p. m.

Assisting the hostess Monday evening will be a committee composed of Mrs. Ethel H. Coverstone, Miss Margaret Kerr and Miss Emily Brown.

ROVING DEPUTIES INVALID, RULING

SALEM, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Special agents appointed by the governor are by implication clothed with authority to bring about the apprehension and conviction of criminals, return fugitives from justice and investigate cases in which the executive believes the laws have been violated, Attorney General Van Winkle held in an opinion here today. Granting of so-called "roving" commissions is not authorized under the Oregon laws, Van Winkle ruled. The opinion was requested by Gov. Charles H. Martin.

COPELAND SEEKS QUIZ ON REDS ON MERCHANT SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Copeland (D. N. Y.), of the senate commerce committee, today preliminary steps toward an investigation of what he called "communistic influences" at work on American ships.

He ordered the committee's staff to collect all information available on labor disputes aboard American merchant marine ships, including the strike of seamen on the Algie during a South American cruise. The Algie struck was "mutiny," Copeland asserted. He declared it was one of many incidents in which crews had refused to obey orders as a result of labor disputes. "I am determined to try to get at the bottom of this communistic seamen's fight," Copeland said. "I'm sick and tired of that business. There is no use in building ships unless we have seamen that will operate them."

Copeland said the commerce committee already had the authority to conduct an investigation through its safety-at-sea sub-committee. He added that if the investigation showed it to be feasible he would recommend to congress creation of a national mediation authority to handle maritime labor disputes.

Copeland said Harry Bridges, maritime union leader on the west coast, and his lieutenants have created unrest among maritime workers and have "spread their influence to the Atlantic coast."

LABOR TROUBLES CAUSE BOOST IN RELIEF EXPENSE

PORTLAND, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The state relief committee, faced with a rising relief load, approved a total public assistance budget for November of $195,309. The state's share is $127,188.

Elmer Goudy, administrator, said the case load rose in September for the first time since January. Multnomah county supplied the bulk of the increase. The committee allowed the county's request for $91,300 for November, an increase of $19,000 over the preceding month and $7,000 more than in November, 1936.

Jack Lullin, chairman, said the state could aid Multnomah for the balance of the year on direct relief, but could not lawfully increase its contribution toward old age pensions. Other counties will benefit proportionately if Multnomah's relief allocation is increased, he said.

David Simpson, a committee member, said a conference of Multnomah county officials with Henry E. Reed, representing Governor Martin, disclosed the relief load had increased because of labor strife. The county's pension payments may be cut 20 per cent when the age limit is changed from 65 to 70 years, Simpson said.

Urban Russia Expands. MOSCOW.—(UP)—During the years of the two five-year plans the urban population in the U. S. S. R. increased from 28,000,000 to 40,000,000 inhabitants.
