FIFTY CENT LOAN ON CORN CROP IS PLAN OF WALLACE

This would permit loans on about 170,000,000 bushels. Department officials said they believed a relatively small part of this year's large crop, officially estimated at 2,561,935,000 bushels, would be pledged under government loans. They indicated, however, that if additional funds were needed they would be provided.

Because the 50-cent loan offered on this year's crop is near the price of corn on the farm, officials predicted many farmers would not seek the government loan. They added that many banks and other private lenders probably would make corn loans in addition to those underwritten by government funds.

YOUTH IS CITED AS HIT-RUNNER

Charged with failure to stop at the scene of an accident, Buster Crawford, 18, of 307 Jeanette avenue, was to appear in city court this afternoon as a result of an automobile crash about 10:30 last night on South Riverside avenue involving Crawford's machine and one operated by Leo Gilhooly of San Francisco. No body was injured. City police report the 1928 Chevrolet coupe driven by Crawford sideswiped the Oldsmobile sedan operated by Gilhooly near Brewer's machine shop, bounced off the latter car and crashed into a rock garden in the front yard of the B. A. Rosenkrans residence at 812 South Riverside avenue. Mrs. Rosenkrans told city police that after the accident she saw four boys jump out of the damaged Chevrolet coupe and disappear around the corner of her house. The car was removed to a local garage by police and Crawford appeared at the station this morning, admitting ownership of the machine, police said. Left front wheel of the Chevrolet was knocked off. The Oldsmobile received damaged fenders and running board.
