

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

To Reshingle - F. H. Dressler of 1107 East Main street applied at the city building inspector's office yesterday for a permit to reshingle a house at a stated cost of $50.

To Merced - Robert James, assistant manager of the Montgomery Ward store, has been transferred to Merced, Cal., and with his wife and small son Bobby will leave Saturday morning for his new position. He is to be assistant manager of the store there.

From Ashland - Harry Johnson, SOONS football player from Ashland, was in Medford yesterday afternoon.

Transferred Here - William Rullhauser, civilian employe from the Redding CCC headquarters, recently discharged, has been transferred here and will be on duty as a driver at the district motor transport pool.

Band to Meet - Accordion band will meet this evening at 7:30 at the Baldwin piano shop. The group appeared at a special assembly at the Southern Oregon Normal at Ashland Wednesday morning.

Grange to Meet - Roxy Ann Grange will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Grange hall. Election of officers is scheduled at the business session. All members are asked to attend.

On Inspection Tour - H. C. Obye, assistant supervisor of the Rogue River national forest, and Paul Brinson, junior forester, left this morning for inspection logging operations being carried on at Chemult by the Chiloquin Lumber company. From Chemult, Mr. Brinson was to return to Union Creek for a conference with foresters tomorrow. Mr. Obye was to continue to Klamath Falls to transact other official business.

Religious Census - A religious census of all companies in the Medford CCC district is being taken. The census will show the religious faiths recognized by the army: Catholic, Protestant and Jewish. It will not be broken down into separate denominations of the Protestant religion or differentiate between reformed and orthodox Jews. The census will be used as a guide in determining the religious services desired in the various camps.

Membership Drive - Yearly membership drive of Medford post of the American Legion is in full swing, with 100 Legionnaires having paid dues. It was announced today by Lee Garlock, membership chairman. The drive closes December 13, date of the American Legion district conference to be held in Medford, Garlock stated. The local post expects to have reached its quota by that time. All Legionnaires wishing to pay their dues may either see Garlock or mail their checks, he explained.

Mrs. Upp Returns - Mrs. Louis J. Upp, who has been traveling in the east for the past six weeks, returned to Medford Thursday. She visited her old home at Dacatur, Ill., after an absence of 12 years. In settling an estate she discovered that oil fields had been opened and were in operation both north and south of the family's properties. Her return journey included a trip through the southern states and a visit in New Orleans. Mrs. Upp was more favorably impressed than ever with southern Oregon upon her return, she said.

Durham Speaks - Adjutant G. R. Durham of the Salvation Army spoke to the leaders' association of the Girl Scouts the past week on community service projects. He outlined a definite plan of organization and listed numerous activities to be carried out each month, including monthly distribution of new magazines, cheerful pictures, scrap-books, flowers, stories, etc. for the seldom-visited children of the hospital. He also suggested campfire programs for all the children in the community and special Christmas parties. Adjutant Durham gave the leaders suggestions which all the leaders said they appreciated and the projects will be developed by the scouts in their program of service to the community.

Hills Brothers To Aid Coffee Makers With Novel Booklet

An attractive and informative booklet has been prepared by Hills Brothers for the use of coffee drinkers and this interesting book is now available without charge to southern Oregon people, according to an announcement today by A. E. Fossell, Hills Brothers representative in this area. Calculated to increase the public's enjoyment of coffee, this little booklet offers helpful hints and a few precautions for those who make coffee. "The Art of Coffee-Making" is the appropriate title of this carefully prepared and worthwhile book. Medford and Rogue River valley grocers offer their patrons, without charge, postal cards with postage prepaid requesting a copy of "The Art of Coffee-Making." Those who mail cards may also check their own method of coffee making, if special information is desired. Those who do not secure these cards may write to Hills Brothers, No. 2 Harrison Street, San Francisco, for a free copy.

BAKERY TRUCK, AUTO DAMAGED IN CRASH

A Beck's bakery bread truck, driven by Walter Alfred Prady of 741 Andrews road and a machine operated by James L. Kershaw of route 4 collided late yesterday afternoon on the Crater Lake highway about five miles from Medford, a city police report said today. Although neither of the drivers were injured, the vehicles received considerable damage.

Marlene Dietrich in Sunday Hit

Marlene Dietrich and Robert Donat play a lady in distress and a modern-day knight who comes to her rescue in "A Bride for Henry," which comes to the Rialto theatre for a two-day run Sunday. The picture is adapted from the famous novel by James Hilton, author of "Lost Horizon" and "Goodbye Mr. Chips."

Ronald Coleman On Sunday Bill

Steel rings on steel as Ronald Coleman in the role of Rudolph Rassendyl, parries thrusts with Rupert Henzau, portrayed by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in the new, modern version of "The Prisoner of Zenda," opening its local run Sunday at the Craterian theatre. The famous story of the man who suddenly found his striking likeness to a king bringing him into the midst of dangerous adventure and intrigue, has touched a responsive chord in the hearts of theatre fans throughout the country and has become known as one of the best pictures of the new season.
