Mid-Air Collision Plunges Five Navy Men to Death

A throng is shown above inspecting wreckage of an amphibian plane which carried five navy fliers to their deaths after a collision over Boeing field in Seattle. Terrible force of the impact with earth is attested by the demolition of the plane and wide scattering of the wreckage. The white bundles in the foreground of lower picture are the bodies of the five dead. (A. P. Photos).

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Stocks traveled a rocky road in today's market and while many leaders limped into lower territory, others tilted forward at the close. A series of dips and mild rallies punctuated the session, reflecting nervousness of traders over confusing foreign and domestic developments. Depressing was the estimate this week's steel mill operations would show the eighth consecutive decline. Bar gold in London, in terms of the dollar, stepped up to a new 2-year peak and there were signs the United States may soon lose some of its yellow metal stores. Further repatriation of short-term balances from America pushed up sterling to a new top since September, 1936. The French franc also exhibited strength. Transfers were around 1,400,000 shares.

Ronald Colman Has Leading Role Film on Craterian Screen

Right on the heels of "Lost Horizon," Ronald Colman ushered in another magnificent bit of entertainment with his dual role in "The Prisoner of Zenda," which opened a three day run at the New Craterian theatre yesterday. The picture is a modernized version of the famous Anthony Hope swashbuckling tale of love, intrigue and adventure in the courts of Europe, with Madeline Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in the chief supporting roles. Colman is at his charming best in the difficult dual role of the adventurous Rudolf Rassendyll and the roistering King Rudolf V, whom he resembled so closely. Then the agents of the king's brother, Black Michael (Raymond Massey), who is plotting to seize the throne, render the king incapable of attending his own coronation by drugging his drinks. Colonel Zapt (C. Aubrey Smith), and young Captain von Tarlenheim (David Niven) enlist Rassendyll to impersonate the king at the coronation. Rassendyll does so well that he even deceives the lovely Princess Flavia (Madeleine Carroll), betrothed of the king, who proceeds to fall madly in love with him. Rassendyll loves her, too, and is about to reveal the deception when it is discovered that the king has been kidnaped by Black Michael and his henchman, the dashing Rupert of Hentzau (Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.) and imprisoned in Zenda castle. It thus becomes necessary to keep Rassendyll on the throne. It is from this point that the story moves to a sweeping climax with the king's real identity kept a secret. North China experiences the coldest winters in the world for its latitude.
