

CALL GRAND JURY ON WEDNESDAY IN ASHLAND ROBBERY

The Jackson county grand jury will be called Wednesday for consideration of the cases of Bill Cagle, 23, Marshall Hearn, 20, and Stanley Borden, 19, members of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth football squad, who with Richard M. Messenger, 22, Ashland, drug store clerk, are charged with assault and robbery upon E. D. Rice, Dallas, Texas, traveling salesman. District Attorney Frank J. Newman said today.

The accused youths, following a conference Saturday with Attorney James T. Chincock of Grants Pass, former state senator, asked for a grand jury inquiry and the right to appear before it, the district attorney said.

Messenger is at liberty on $2000 bonds, furnished by his father and his employer. The Monmouth athletes are held in the county jail.

According to the district attorney, the four youths have all made signed statements, purportedly admitting participation in the assault and robbery a week ago on the Pacific highway near Ashland. Rice alleges he was beaten and robbed of $31 when he went with the accused in Messenger's auto to haul in Rice's disabled auto. Rice met the youths in an Ashland cafe on the evening of the Southern Oregon normal at Ashland-Oregon Normal "home-coming" football game October 30.

Messenger was arrested at Ashland shortly after the alleged assault and robbery was reported, and the three Oregon Normal athletes last Monday at Monmouth.

DENTAL BILL SAVED
MILAN, Mo.—J. L. Shepherd, 62, postmaster, figured he needed some teeth so he went to a dentist to be fitted for plates. An examination revealed he was sprouting a brand new set of molars.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK
BUFFALO, N. Y.—The "fisherman" is working here again. Last winter police received numerous reports that purses had disappeared while parties were in progress. Often a window was found open, a fishing pole outside. Then the robberies stopped.
But today a party guest reported the loss of a purse. Police found an open window—and on the grass outside a fishing pole.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?
POCATELLO, Idaho.—Co-eds at the University of Idaho, southern branch, are having kissless dates and liking it.
The reason: Male students began a whisker growing contest.

ON THE WAGON
DENVER.—O. M. Rundahl fell off the wagon and saw more snakes than he cares to think about.
The farmer's left leg was broken when his team shied at a snake and toppled him from the wagon. He crawled about a mile through snake-infested prairie to a highway, where he was found and rushed to a hospital.
"There were a lot of snakes around," said Rundahl, but he realized "if I didn't get help I would bleed to death."

PERSONAL INTEREST
MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Leonard J. Mueller, 28, went before Judge A. J. Hedding charged with stealing $19 from the poor box of Holy Angels Catholic church.
Mueller asked for a chance to make restitution.
"Not a chance," said Judge Hedding. "I put some money in that poor box myself."
Mueller was fined $10 and costs.

CAT VS. CURIOSITY
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa.—Mrs. Joe Carlyle's cat likes to watch her mistress operate the electric washing machine—that is, she did until she decided to investigate the gears.
The curious cat became entangled in the machinery and Mrs. Carlyle called police. A patrolman threw the gears into reverse and out came kitty—ruffed but with her nine lives intact.

TO CURTAIL EXTRA CAR TEST SERVICE

No examinations for automobile drivers or chauffeurs will be held here Thursday because of Armistice Day. It was announced by Ward McReynolds, state examiner.
In accordance with a recent schedule of extra services for Medford and vicinity, however, examinations will be conducted Wednesday from 8 to 5. Persons seeking licenses or permits to drive cars were asked by Mr. McReynolds to consult the examiner at his headquarters on the top floor of city hall.
The special service has been available for some time every Wednesday and Thursday but after this week the schedule will be curtailed to every other Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. McReynolds said.

Mr. McReynolds and his staff will be here as usual every Saturday from 8 to 5.

BEAUTY OPERATORS TO SEE DEMONSTRATION

Beauty shop owners and operators and the general public are invited to attend a demonstration of lacquered and gilded coiffures at the Hotel Jackson Tuesday night at 8 o'clock featuring Darwin Jones, noted hairdresser. The demonstration is being sponsored by the Portland Beauty Supply company and will be under direction of Walter LaBranch, manager.
There will also be a special demonstration in permanent waving and a showing of new developments and new appliances. This will be the first demonstration in southern Oregon of the new lacquered coiffure.

ADDITIONAL TALKS ON GAME OF LIFE BY VIOLA SWEET

Additional lectures will be given by Viola Sweet, who recently gave a series of free lectures on The Game of Life, due to many requests from interested persons for more lectures. These lectures will be given Tuesday evening, Nov. 9 at 8 o'clock and Wednesday morning, Nov. 10 at 10. The lectures like the recent series, are under sponsorship of the Mail Tribune and are open to the public without charge.

Personality will be the subject of the evening lecture. Charm—How to Attain It, will be Wednesday's theme. Both lectures will be given in St. Mark's Guild Hall on North Oakdale.
"Nothing so definitely contributes to your personal charm as being sure of yourself. And conversely, nothing so destructive of personal magnetism as being unsure of yourself. Anyone may have a poised, dynamic, radiant personality if willing to put forth earnest effort to acquire it," Mrs. Sweet declares.
"Many people," says Mrs. Sweet, "are preventing their own development and success by harboring ideas of their handicaps and limitations, things which exist in their minds and can be removed. They are limited only as they limit themselves."
Conflicting with no religious belief, equally helpful to persons of every known creed and in every walk of life, Mrs. Sweet's talks are directed toward the personal determination to succeed, willingness to learn the rules of the game of life and faith in the belief that everyone has the right to expect to live a vigorous, full life, play in the matter of living.

Mrs. Sweet has just completed her private classwork conducted since the close of her recent free lectures. She has established an enviable reputation in her work during the last ten years which she has always given under the guarantee that any student who is not fully satisfied may have the class fee refunded. She has been in great demand as a speaker for various clubs, lodges and organizations.
Everyone is invited to hear her messages of inspiration and cheer.

CENTRAL POINT HAS MATTRESS FACTORY
Central Point Mattress factory, under the management of L. P. Mathes and C. E. Naffziger, co-owners, opened for business Saturday in the building one door west of the Central Point post office.
The factory will rebuild and renovate old mattresses, according to Mr. Mathes, and will later manufacture new mattresses, being equipped to build inter-spring mattresses.
Mr. Mathes, who has resided in Medford about one year, has had much experience in mattress renovating. Mr. Naffziger recently moved to Central Point from southern Washington, and is also an experienced craftsman.

NAME THE U. S. NATIONAL AS YOUR EXECUTOR

SOME REMARKS ON WILLS

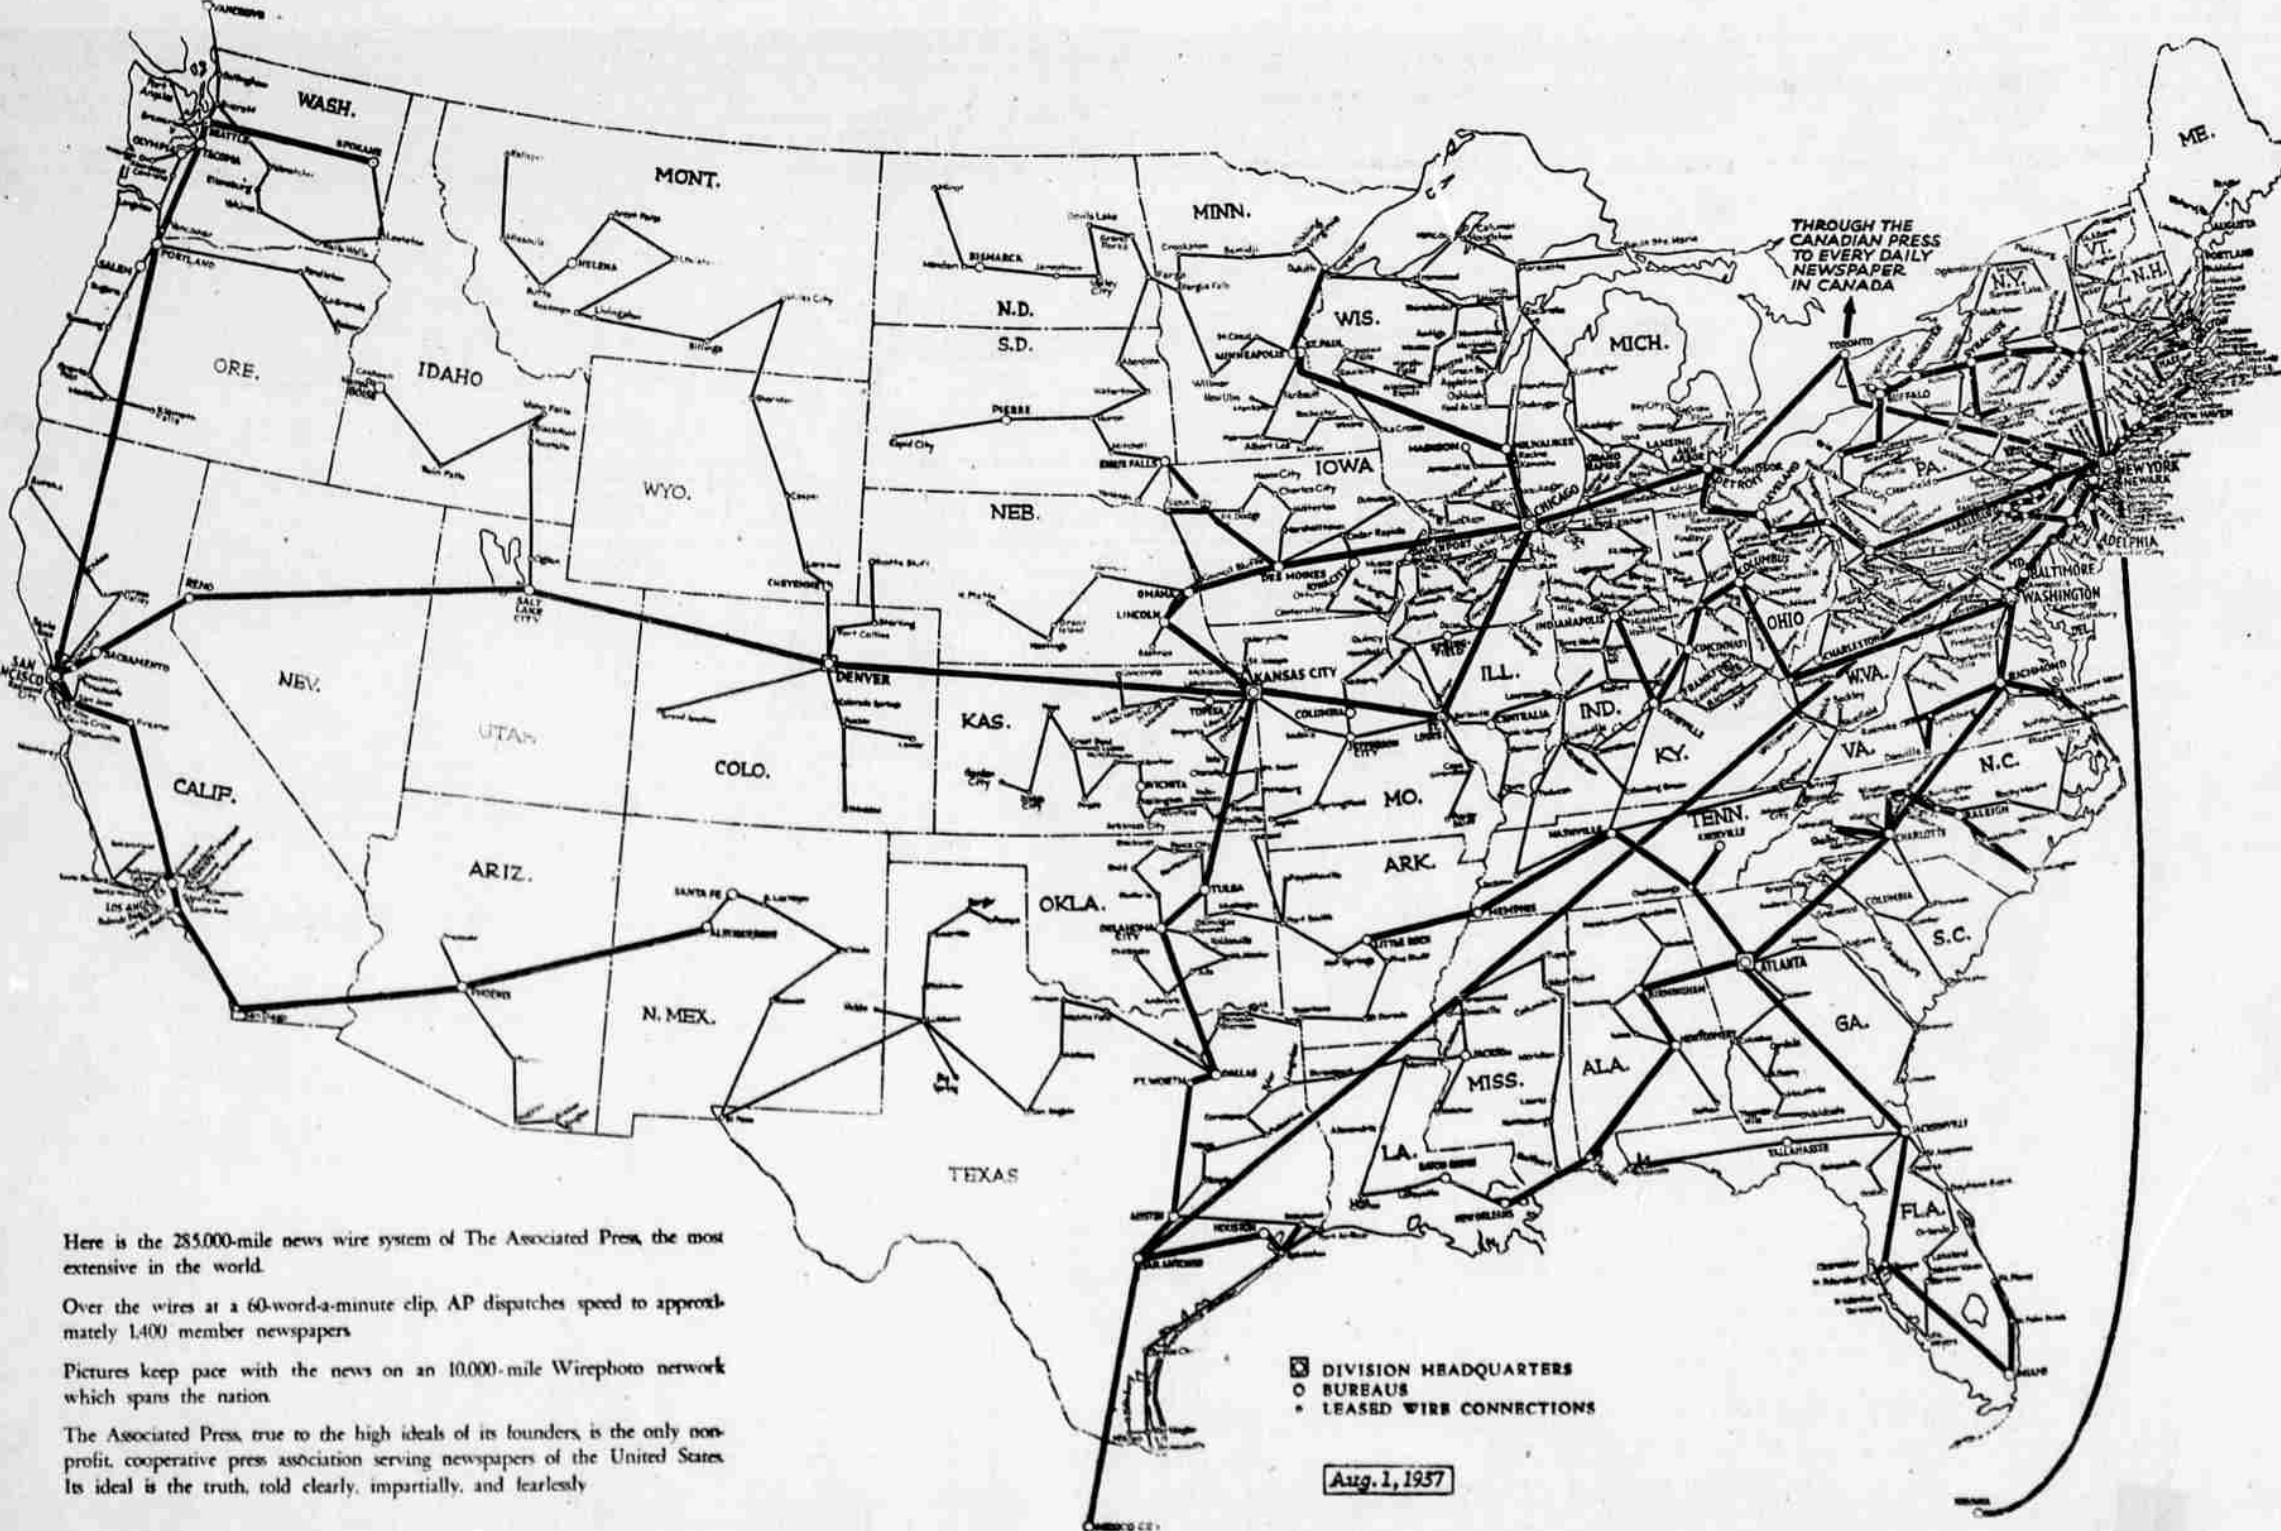

In making your Will you have the privilege of specifying an Executor of your choosing. If you do not the Court will exercise that right when you are gone. In making your Will consider the advantages of a corporate Executor, such as the U. S. National, over an individual who might be incapable, inexperienced, or who might die before fulfilling the important duties involved.

Call or write for Booklet on Wills. It points out many things in which you will be interested.
