Junior High P. T. A. Meeting Is Tuesday

The Junior High School Parent-Teacher association held a very successful meeting Tuesday evening at which Dr. Walter Bedford of Astoria was the guest speaker.

The Junior High orchestra, under the very capable and inspired leadership of Miss Floy Young, performed in an outstanding manner. The group, most of whom have played together only a part of last year and a few weeks this fall, show the results of unusually fine instruction.

Adjutant G. R. Durham of the Salvation Army, who is contributing so much of his time to civic interests, directed the singing which is a part of the regular monthly program of the P. T. A. He will meet with the group for each session.

A committee consisting of Mrs. A. E. Brockley, Mrs. W. P. Stewart and Mrs. Ashcraft is organizing a group to study the parent education course offered by the extension service of the Oregon State college. Everyone interested in joining is requested to get in touch with one of the committee within the next week.

A committee was also appointed to secure funds for suitable uniforms for the orchestra. Mrs. Orval Hayes is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Lou Biddle and Mrs. Leo Wilson in carrying out this worthwhile project.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the visit to the home room where the instructor in charge gave helpful information about the purpose of the home room, its activities and projects. The Junior high teachers displayed a remarkable understanding in instruction and guidance of the students.

All officers and chairmen are requested to meet in room 2 at the Junior high school Monday, November 15 at 8:30 p. m. It is very important that everyone be present, according to Mrs. C. L. Hopkins, president.

M'DONALD DIES, ENGLAND DIVIDED ON LONG CAREER

Donald twice won the dubious title of "the most hated man in British politics"—for his pacifist stand during the World war and for his leaving of the labor party to form the coalition government following the financial crisis of '31. He had become Britain's first labor prime minister in 1924.

Only six weeks ago the Scotsman who never accumulated wealth was bequeathed about $200,000 in trust by Sir Alexander Grant, a biscuit manufacturer and close friend of the former prime minister.

After resigning as prime minister June 7, 1935, when he was succeeded by conservative Stanley Baldwin, MacDonald remained in public life until last May.

As lord president of the council he shared duties in connection with the abdication of Edward VIII last December and the coronation of George VI. Last May he gave up his office and was offered a peerage but declined the honor.

Later he remarked that he hardly could expect his north country friends, who had always called him "Jamey," to call a native of Loamsmouth "Milord."

Leaders of all parties in the house of commons planned a tribute.

MacDonald's daughter, Isabel, who accompanied him to Washington in 1929 when he and President Hoover held their "log-sitting" conference at Rapidan, said her father probably would be buried beside his wife, Margaret, who died in 1911, in the tiny cemetery of Synnife Kirk at Loamsmouth. The ceremony lies near where the River Loosie pours into the windswept Moray Firth.

MacDonald often praised the beautiful countryside which, he said, "makes a Scot want to stay there forever."

The regular meeting of the Eagle Point Parent Teacher association will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school with Mrs. Lillian Purce presiding. There will be a round table discussion led by Miss Melba Day, the subject being the second in a series of "Preparing for School." Two musical numbers will be given by the primary and intermediate grades. Miss Georgia Putman is teacher of the former and Mrs. Maxine Corliss of the latter.

The special committee for the playshed has completed plans for the project and is ready to present them to the association. A social hour and sea will follow the business session.

WALL ST. REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Better Wall street sentiment lifted the stock market fractions to 7 points today. The more cheerful feeling in financial circles had its origin in Washington. They met to discuss means of spurting construction. This, analysts argued, meant the chief executive may be paving the way to administration measures to stem the tide of business recession.
