MEDFORD TO BENEFIT BY CAMPAIGN TO SELL STATE GIFT PRODUCTS

Medford business is in line to benefit from a campaign being conducted by the Portland Chamber of Commerce and Columbia Empire Industries, Inc.

The two organizations are conducting a joint campaign to persuade Oregonians to purchase Christmas gift boxes of Oregon products. While in Salem Monday, A. H. Banwell, manager of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, prevailed upon Walter W. R. May, secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, to include Medford in the campaign.

Last night Medford packing houses sent descriptions of their gift boxes of pears, prices and other pertinent data to E. N. Weinbaum, manager of the trade and commerce department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. These gift boxes will be included in the campaign, Mr. Banwell said.

Medford firms sending the gift box data were the Pinnacle Packing company, the Crystal Springs Packing company, American Fruit Growers Inc., Southern Oregon Sales, Inc., Charles A. Wing and Bear Creek Orchards.

Any other Jackson county concern putting up gift boxes of local products should notify the chamber of commerce for inclusion in the Portland campaign, Mr. Banwell stated.

APPLEGATE LADY CAPTURES BEAR

BIG APPLGATE, Nov. 17.—(Sp1)—The bear stories continue to clatter down out of the Applegate hills, but yesterday it was a woman who captured a bear.

"I went to the trap and found him, peeping around a tree at me," said Mrs. Glenn Saltmarsh, who had set her trap on Sulphur fork in the Little Applegate area. Not having her own gun, she preferred not to shoot the animal, and returned two and a half miles on horseback to a neighbor's for aid in completing her capture.

It was a small black bear weighing about 100 pounds and it was the first bear Mrs. Saltmarsh has trapped. About four years ago she launched her career as a bear hunter.

IMMEDIATE RETURN OF CENSUS CARDS ASKED OF PUBLIC

Questionnaires On Unemployment Must Be in By Midnight Saturday—More Postals Ready if Needed

Completion of the distribution of unemployment census cards was announced today by Postmaster DeSouza, but if additional cards are needed they may be procured from mail carriers or at the general delivery window at the postoffice.

The questionnaire cards were distributed to every family by mail carriers yesterday. In case anyone did not receive a card or in case not enough cards were left at any home, more are available. Mr. DeSouza emphasized that the questionnaires should be filled out by every family or partially unemployed person who is capable of working and wants full-time work, as the government's aim is to obtain a complete census, the postmaster pointed out.

When needed, help in filling out the cards may be procured in the postoffice lobby where clerks are now on duty for this purpose. Many sought help yesterday, Mr. DeSouza said. Some had difficulty in reading the cards while others were not sure of the information required in reply to some of the questions, he explained.

Deadline Saturday. The cards must be filled out and returned not later than midnight Saturday, Mr. DeSouza counseled again. He urged that the cards be returned without delay.

Persons who are fully employed or who are not capable of working or who do not want employment should not fill out the cards, the postmaster pointed out.

White House Gets Supply Of Cards In Jobless Count

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A postman delivered several unemployment census cards Tuesday to a fairly pretentious, white-painted residence at 1800 Pennsylvania avenue here.

The postman grinned at the butler as he handed over the large double postcards. The butler grinned at the maid as he placed the cards on a silver tray.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, employed as president of the United States, had been included in the federal unemployment census which started today.

Rudolph Forster, White House executive clerk, was responsible for the cards being sent to the president.

CARTER INDICTED AS HIT-RUNNER; GRAND JURY ENDS

The Jackson county grand jury concluded its present session late yesterday, returned one secret indictment, one not true bill, two true bills, and filed a report.

Francis Willard Carter, Forrest creek district resident, was indicted on a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident, as the result of an auto collision last month between cars allegedly driven by Carter, Applebaker of Jacksonville and Lewis, causing a head injury to Clara Milkowski, a passenger in the Applebaker auto. A dozen stitches were required to close the wound.

Carter allegedly failed to stop and render aid after the crash.

Lynford Dixon and Stanley Cole, transients, were indicted on charges of larceny from an auto. The pair entered plea of guilty in circuit court yesterday and were each sentenced to state prison, not to exceed two years. They were charged with robbery of a number of autos parked at the Bend-Medford high school football game on the night of October 29. Most of the loot was recovered.

Cole and Dixon and two companions were arrested at Klamath Falls a few days later. The two companions were cleared by Cole and Dixon who declared they were not present at the time of the auto robberies.

A not true bill was returned against Menno F. Davis, charged with larceny by bailie, while acting as an insurance company agent. The case was re-submitted to the grand jury.

Last Saturday an indictment charging Eli Cagle Jr., Stanley Borden, and Marshall Hearn, Oregon Normal at Monmouth football squad members, with robbery by force and violence without use of a dangerous weapon, was returned by the grand jury. An indictment charging John Sletton, Applegate section resident, with non-support, was also returned.

Queer Home Sharing Plan Revealed in Court Action

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A household arrangement whereby a mother and her son lived happily for five years with her divorced husband and his second wife provided a strange chapter for the records of the circuit court today.

A disagreement over domestic finances wrecked the idyllic triangle in suburban Oak Park. A subsequent rift over the custody of the youth led to the revelation of the unusual arrangement in a court hearing yesterday.

The principals were Earl P. Cady, his first wife, Anna, their 12-year-old son, Willis, and Cady's second wife, Eileen. Cady was divorced in 1930 and the married Eileen in 1931. When he found himself unable to pay $7 weekly alimony to Anna he invited her and their son to share his home. The arrangement was approved by the second Mrs. Cady, explained Attorney Irving Abrams, counsel for wife No. 1. The latter did the housework while Cady and his second spouse took jobs to meet household expenses. The mother and her son occupied separate quarters in the home.

Last January Mrs. Anna Cady left the home and went to live with her former husband's mother. Later she filed a petition to secure custody of her son, a move opposed by Cady and his second wife. The latter, explained Cady's attorney, had grown attached to the boy.

Judge Phillip J. Finnegan termed the amicable relationship between the two women "remarkable" and said the youth would be well treated by

Who Said Pills? It's Fun to Keep "Regular"!

Is keeping "regular" a chore in your family? Does it mean over-stimulating your intestines with cathartics? Then here's good news! You can AVOID common constipation and cathartics, and have a grand time doing it! Instead of abusing your intestines, eat a NATURAL laxative food. Instead of bad-tasting pills and liquids—ENJOY crunchy, toasted Kellogg's All-Bran with milk or cream and fruits. Or in All-Bran muffins, or All-Bran cookies. All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the time-table—but it works so differently from harsh purgatives. It doesn't over-stimulate your intestines; it gives them TWO things they crave and need. First, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. And next, the intestinal-tonic vitamin "B." All-Bran is a good source of this vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract. Use All-Bran regularly; eat two tablespoons every day and drink plenty of water. The results will delight you! Ever grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
