

ORDER RESURVEY PORTLAND LABOR IN PEACE EFFORT

National Board Acts With Hope of Achieving Early Settlement Long-Drawn Interunion Dispute.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The national labor relations board ordered today a resurvey of the labor situation at Portland, Ore., with the hope of achieving an early settlement of an interunion dispute there.

PORTLAND, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Portland's dizzy labor maelstrom whirled today around the national labor relations board.

In Washington, Joe Carson, Portland mayor, demanded the board move immediately to end the AFL-CIO sawmill dispute or stop and let municipal officers "solve its problem."

Charles Pashy, the board's general counsel, wired local CIO officials a denial he had told the national conference of mayors, as quoted in a newspaper dispatch, that the board was without jurisdiction in the Portland dispute. He said the board had jurisdiction in jurisdictional disputes where "representation of employees" was involved.

CIO Backed. Charles W. Hope, regional director, denied the Inman-Poulsen company's request for an employee election and asked an explanation of the firm's alleged refusal to bargain with the CIO sawmill union, previously designated bargaining agency by the board.

Hope advised CIO leaders that "if the employer refuses to bargain you have a right to file charges under our act."

Company officials said they had "not answered" Hope's telegram, and intended to go ahead with election plans.

CIO leaders said they would picket the Inman-Poulsen election and sought the co-operation of 29 civic, religious and other organizations in a CIO-sponsored election covering the seven closed mills.

Mill owners blamed the closures on an AFL boycott and a slack market.

Carson Questions Right. The labor board has claimed authority over neither.

Carson, in Washington for the mayor's conference, wrote Chairman J. Warren Madden of the NLRB that he believed the board lacked power "to do more than prevent the employer from influencing his employees' freedom of collective bargaining and freedom of action from his domination."

"I do not believe there is anything in the act, express or implied, which would permit or allow you to say who is to be the representative of the workers employed in any industry any more than it gives that right to the employer himself," he wrote.

"Then, too, it is futile and folly for your board or any of its representatives at any time to express any opinion or make any certification that cannot be enforced by you or the federal courts."

He urged the board to "admit your inability to handle the situation and frankly state to the workers involved that you have no jurisdiction or power to alleviate them from their present predicament so that we in our own state and city may proceed to solve this problem."

24 whole cloves
2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup apricot juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
Scrub ham. Cover by four inches with cold water. Slowly bring to the boiling point. Cover and let simmer for three hours. Cool in the water in which cooked. Remove ham and cut off rind and excess fat. Place ham, fat side up, in a baking pan. Slice with cloves and cover with sugar. Add rest of the ingredients. Cover with lid and bake for two hours in a slow oven. Baste every 15 minutes.

Carrot Ring.
4 cups chopped cooked carrots
1/2 cup soft bread
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon minced onions
1 tablespoon chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup milk
4 tablespoons butter, melted
3 eggs, beaten.
Mix ingredients and pour into a buttered ring mold. Bake for 30 minutes in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven. Carefully unmoist into serving platter and fill center and surround with cooked buttered Brussels sprouts.

Date-Nut Pudding.

SOLONS TALK ON AS FARM BILLS NEAR READINESS

Senate Committee Votes Saturday On Ever-Normal Granary Bill — Southerners Continue Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Congressional committees neared completion of farm control bills today while senators and representatives devoted another day to talk.

Chairman Smith (D., S.C.) announced his senate committee would vote tomorrow on an "ever-normal granary" bill. The house committee, taking up individual items, voted marketing quotas for corn and voted down processing taxes on both corn and wheat.

Senator Connally (D., Tex.) continued a filibuster by southerners against the anti-lynching bill.

War State Defeated. The house, starting another day of varied debate, was prevented from considering a resolution to declare a state of war exists between Japan and China. There was a single objection to consideration, which required unanimous consent.

A similar resolution was being considered for the senate. Senator Nye (R., N.D.) said a bi-partisan group of senators would meet next week to determine whether such a measure should be drafted.

A house tax subcommittee tentatively agreed today to increase the exemptions from the undistributed profits tax and to make up some of the revenue that would be lost by boosting the normal corporate tax.

In the anti-lynching debate, Connally demanded removal of a big sign condemning lynching from the wall of the senate chamber.

Seek Rumor Probe. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and Senator Lewis (D., Ill.) joined in asking an investigation of a report that William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, had been sent to Poland to "warn" that country against participating in the Italo-German-Japanese anti-communist pact.

The house rivers and harbors committee ordered hearings to begin next Tuesday on regional planning, a point in President Roosevelt's program for the special congressional session.

Prospecta improved for enacting wage-hour standards and crop con-rol legislation, other points in the president's program, before congress quits for the Christmas holidays.

A statement by John L. Lewis, terming the wage-hour bill "undeniably sound" in principle, despite "serious limitations," encouraged its sponsors to redouble efforts to get the bill before the house.

Lewis wrote Chairman Norton (D., N. J.) of the house labor committee that labor's non-partisan league which he headed would do everything possible to bring about passage of the measure as soon as possible.

Mrs. Norton, who also has asked Secretary Perkins and President William Green of the American Federation of Labor for their views, continued her campaign to force the bill from the house rules committee. A petition to accomplish this has been signed by more than half the required 218 members.

Word Proved by Death. BELGRADE.—(UP)—To prove the efficiency of an automatic rifle which he had invented but could not sell, a locksmith shot himself. No one would believe Jeap Majaner when he said that he had perfected a rifle that would fire 10 rounds when a button was pressed. A few days ago he was found dead in his room with seven wounds in his body. Three other bullets were embedded in the walls.

Dips Into Tin Cans. LONDON.—(UP)—Consumption of canned and bottled fruits in the United Kingdom has risen during the past six years from 6 1/4 pounds to 10 pounds per head of the population. There has been a steady increase in imports of canned and bottled fruits, preserved with sugar, into the United Kingdom since the war.

War Steed Defended. MONTREAL.—(UP)—The horse is still the most valuable engine of war, believes Lord Mottistone, former British secretary of state for war and famous during the Great War as Gen. "Jack" Seely, commander of the Canadian cavalry bridge. He praised machines now in use, but clung to his preference for the horse.

Motorist Gets Fox. WEST CHESTER, Pa.—(UP)—Mrs. Guy W. Knauer of West Chester wasn't riding to hounds but she got the fox anyhow. When she was driving on Pottstown pike, a red fox, with hounds in pursuit, started across the road. The car struck the fox, so Mrs. Knauer has a new fur neckpiece.

To Protect Birds. STRASBOURG, France.—(UP)—Protection of useful birds is the aim of a new society started by more than 800 Alsatians. Next year the "Friends of Useful Birds" plan to visit every Alsatian school to explain to children how they can give practical aid to the crusade.

LAWS IN CONFLICT ON SIZE OF CORD

MOORHEAD, Minn.—(UP)—What the citizens of Moorhead and Fargo, N. D., would like to know is—How much is a cord of wood?

Complaints reached the city fathers of the adjoining towns concerning discrepancies in the measurement of sawed and split wood. Town officials looked into the problem and found the cause of complaints.

The Minnesota state law, governing in Moorhead, calls for 128 cubic feet when the wood is cut in 4-foot lengths, 160 cubic feet of sawed under 4 feet, and 176 cubic feet if sawed and split.

But in Fargo the law specifies 128 cubic feet as a cord, and the only other requirement is that if sawed into 20-inch lengths 150 cubic feet must be delivered.

Fuel dealers of the two cities are expected to confer and arrive at a compromise solution of the problem.

Six in Room Too Much. PHILADELPHIA.—(UP)—The Philadelphia registration commission has decided that six citizens cannot occupy the same hall bedroom. It was disclosed that the six persons had registered as voters from the same room. They lost their right to vote in the city election.

EDWARD KUBLI ENTERS COMMUNITY HOSPITAL. UPPER APPLAGATE, Nov. 19.—(Sp.)—Edward Kubli of the Applagate entered the Community hospital Thursday where he is undergoing observation.

Benton Pool of Applagate also is a patient at the Sacred Heart hospital, where he will undergo a major operation in a few days.

Police Protection Proved. PHOENIX, Ariz.—(UP)—A Fairview resident, who knew her home area had been annexed by the city of Phoenix, wanted to make sure she had "real city police protection." She telephoned an "emergency" call to police headquarters. A radio patrol car arrived three minutes later.

Ye Poets Corner

The Happy Hunting Ground
Yes, before so very long, you'll pass that great divide;
You will enter into space and travel, far and wide;
You'll take with you your hunting boots, your dogs and fancy hounds,
To the place which you so fondly hope is the happy hunting ground.

You'll find you cannot hunt up there, as you do down here;
You'll search the country far and wide, with haunting dread and fear,
To find some nook, or corner, in which to hide your gear.

But there will be no hiding place, in all that countryside,
And then you'll suffer pangs of grief, with desire unattained;
You'll strive to get back to this earth, but you will then have found, you are a poor unhappy wanderer in that happy hunting ground.

And then you'll find some earthly soul, with the same blood just as you,
And you will suck the essence of his desires to you,
You'll grapple him into your soul, with spirit hoops around.

But, my friend, 'twill do you no good, the satisfaction you think you get,
Will not be understood, or found, To help your soul's condition
In that happy hunting ground.

You must get rid of all your tools before this good old earth you leave,
Or you'll find yourself a-wandering 'round, a hopeless helpless creature
In the happy hunting ground.
