FIELD IS CHOSEN MEMBER OF CITY APPRENTICE BOARD

Succeeds Stanley Jones As Commission Holds First Meet of Year—27 Boys Now Have Training Jobs

Harvey Field became a member of the Medford apprentice commission at its first organization meeting of the new school year in the Holland hotel yesterday afternoon.

All other commission members attended the meeting, they being Maynard Bush, who was elected chairman; James K. Hoey and Leland Mentzer, secretary and vocational coordinator of the Medford high school.

The meeting gave considerable time to the study of the wage scale and general orders of the state welfare commission, especially those affecting the part-time co-operative apprentice training program.

Program Explained The term "part-time co-operative" means that the student apprentice spends part of his time in the school and part time on the job, the employer and the school co-operating to train the youth.

While in school the student-apprentice must study English, history, civics, science and other subjects related to his trade or profession, Mr. Mentzer pointed out.

"This plan enables the boy to graduate with his class but in the vocational division," Mr. Mentzer said. "Rarely do the boys of this group plan to go to college. Most of them will continue in the trade or business in which they have been working."
