

Here Are Plain and Fancy Fixin's for Turkey Feast

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

The well-dressed 1937 Thanksgiving dinner will boast a combination of old-time favorites and several culinary newcomers.

First on many a family menu will be a soup of a cocktail. Cranberry juice, cider, assorted fruit juices, dried fruits mixed with ginger ale, oyster, tuna, crab or lobster cocktails will all be served.

Cream of corn will be the soup in many sections of the country, with celery, asparagus, fish or tomato soups as tasty runners-up. Crunchy tid-bits will accompany cocktails and soups. Small, salted wafers, cheese biscuits, bread sticks, melba toast or whole wheat crackers are all good.

That's the Stuffing
When it comes to the main course the stuffing in the turkey will be important. Old-fashioned bread stuffing is still a favorite. It may be enriched with cooked chestnuts, sausage, cooked giblets, chopped apples, raisins, nuts, oysters or mushrooms. (Note: the careful cook will remember not to stuff the turkey too lightly, since stuffing expands and becomes soggy if it is wedged into the bird.)

If you'd like a change from white potatoes try a ring of wild brown or white rice filled with creamed mushrooms or giblet gravy. Candied sweet potatoes may be mashed and topped with honey and pecans or boiled, cut into bars and rolled in chopped salted peanuts.

Broccoli, asparagus, spinach, onions, cabbage, turnips and Brussels sprouts combine nicely with cooked chestnuts or mushrooms in a cream sauce. They are also excellent served with a lemon, egg, cheese or Hollandaise sauce.

Creole eggplant (tomatoes, onions, green peppers), tomatoes stuffed with tiny sausages, green peppers filled with corn or onions sprinkled with grated egg yolks will fit into any holiday meal.

A sherbet course is a help in a feast of Thanksgiving dimensions. Spiced fruit, cranberry sauce, jelly, elder punch, carrot strings, celery curls, pickles and olives all come in the catalogue of light variations.

The salad, if possible, should be made of greens—cress, chertoy, endive or lettuce. A highly seasoned French or Roquefort cheese dressing is recommended. Jellied cranberry, fruit, ginger ale or elder salads are sometimes served. Since they require boiled salad dressing or mayonnaise, however, they are generally considered too rich.

Pumpkin pie, cranberry tartlets, baked or steamed puddings, or ice cream will make tasty desserts.

Turkey Day Helps

Allow 25 minutes a pound for roasting the turkey.
A ten-pound turkey will serve ten or twelve—there will be no leftovers, however.

Spiced cranberry juice blends well with cider served hot or cold as an appetizer.
Chopped apples give added flavor to duck, turkey or goose stuffing.

Hollow out a pumpkin and fill it with popped corn. Then surround it with grapes and oranges and use it as a centerpiece.
Crushed pineapple, cooked apricots or peaches give added flavor to mashed sweet potatoes.

Giblets require long, slow cooking. They should be cooked for about one hour, in water to cover. To prepare chestnuts, remove the shells. Then cover the nuts with water and let them simmer for 30 minutes. Serve mashed or diced.

Prunes, stuffed with cream cheese and pecans, combine nicely with sliced oranges for a Thanksgiving salad. Top them with French dressing.

SILVER-WINGED SHIP BENEATH A SILVER-LINED CLOUD presented a picturesque study in modern commerce. This is one of Pan American Airways' clipper planes which took off from Baltimore harbor to inaugurate service between that port and Bermuda. During summer months the craft land in New York, as do Imperial Airways' ships. With start of trans-Atlantic service on a regular basis next year, huge flying boats will land at New York with alternate bases at Baltimore and Charleston, South Carolina, for use during winter.
