

BUSINESS ILLNESS ONLY TEMPORARY SAYS HENRY FORD

profits alone is terribly handicapped to begin with. "Here is a nation that might be the richest nation in the world, when actually we haven't enough of anything, because there is not enough production. The need is here; the ability to produce is here; the stoppage is in the system that puts profit before production—and that is the money system."

"The solution," Ford said, lies in teaching the coming generation the real purpose of money and an understanding of a system that may have been adequate for society's needs many years ago, but no longer meets its requirements today. "New Day Loans. Honest financiers Ford went on, 'have done a great job of making the present system work as well as it has, but there will be a new race of 'financial engineers' coming along whose pride will be the social efficiency of the system, rather than its profit-making possibilities. Their efforts, however, may be hindered unless there is a more general understanding of the shortcomings of the present system."

Referring to the great surplus the Ford company maintains, Ford said it was as much part of his company's equipment as are the drill presses, blast furnaces and assembly lines.

"We could not operate without that surplus," he said. "If we had to borrow money we could do so only on terms involving surrender of control of our plants. Then we could not be justly called a business. There are too many laws on the statute books that, if they are not modified, will drive independent manufacturers into the arms of the money lenders and that simply means putting industry back under the financial control from which it has been freed itself."

A real understanding of the money system, Ford said, might well be taught in the nation's schools.

AIDES TO ACCOMPANY REGIONAL WPA CHIEF ON VISIT TO MEDFORD

On his visit here next Tuesday E. J. Griffith of Portland, regional WPA administrator, will be accompanied by Ivan E. Oakes, acting deputy administrator, and Wilfred Shulhorn, state director of the division of labor, it was announced today by the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Griffith is to be principal speaker at a luncheon-forum to be given in the Hotel Medford at 12 o'clock Tuesday by the Rotary club and the chamber of commerce. The public is invited.

Mr. Griffith and his assistants are to arrive here Tuesday morning. After the luncheon they will inspect the municipal airport which has been developed through WPA assistance. The airport tour will be conducted by Fred W. Scheffel, city superintendent. Statistical data and charts will be presented to Mr. Griffith. He will also be shown a model of the airport.

The city at present is seeking to procure additional WPA funds to complete widening of the main runway to meet department of commerce standards. The matter has been presented to WPA headquarters in Washington, D. C., by Sen. Charles L. McNary.

After the airport inspection Mr. Griffith and his aides will be taken by Mr. Scheffel on a sight-seeing tour through Prescott park which is being developed by the civilian conservation corps.

The chamber of commerce said that Mr. Griffith would inspect other WPA projects during his visit here if it was desired.

CITY EMPLOYEES WORK ON YULE DECORATION; FOREST SERVICE AIDS

About 20 city employees have been working for the past few nights at the warehouse preparing colorful decorations which will grace Medford's downtown streets during the Christmas holidays. Huge frame stars are being covered with green fir boughs and laurel berries and these will be placed around all street lights on Main and Sixth streets. The men are also making garlands to hang from the posts. Another group of employees are covering street lamps with red and green cellophane. Decoration of the lighting standards with the stars and garlands will start Friday. City Superintendent Fred W. Scheffel stated. The stars were made by the manual training classes at Medford Junior high school. Jackson County Chamber of Commerce appropriated $75 for material and wires. Through the co-operation of the Rogue river national forest and the CCC camps in this district, fir boughs and laurel berries were obtained by the city. CCC enrollees brought the decorations to Medford in forest service trucks.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Pre-holiday indecision ruled the stock market today, and while prices gyrated on both the plus and minus sides, the final tendency was to lower levels. What rallies there were lacked steam, although offerings were absorbed without much trouble. The list gave ground at the opening but recovered later as selected shares were picked up. Another setback and another mild rally followed. The trading pace, slow at first, quickened a bit in later dealings. Transactions approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Shelter Available

Rest rooms and sanitary facilities are available at Annie Spring, as well as a shelter for the eating of basket lunches, park headquarters here announced. Sanitary facilities are also available at the lake rim. It was added.

It was expected also that many would take advantage of the holiday to visit the Oregon Caves. Guide service through the caves is available and the chateau is open and serving meals in both the dining room and the coffee shop.

Only a thin layer of snow covered the ground at Lake of the Woods today. Rogue River national forest headquarters announced. Roads to the lake from Butte Falls and Klamath Falls were open but the Dead Indian road was closed. Headquarters said. Use of chains was advised.

Forests Skilling Poor. The road from Reese creek junction to the South Park CCC camp has just been graded and is in good condition, the forest service stated. Forest roads in the Union Creek district, soaked with continual rains since November 10, are slushy and sloppy, rangers reported. Snow is not encountered on the Crater Lake Highway until 10 miles above Union Creek, the rangers stated this morning.

Main roads in the Applegate district were in good condition but branch roads were muddy and chains were needed, foresters reported. Skiing conditions were not good in any part of the forest, headquarters stated.

BURKHARDT CASE IN FINAL STAGES

The case of E. F. Burkhardt against Jay R. Williams, Nettie C. Williams, Bert Williams, Dale Stokes, Lois Pretwell and Opal Nelson, for $5000 punitive and $5100 alleged damages against each defendant, was expected to be in the hands of a circuit court jury late today.

The action grew out of the filing of an insanity complaint against Burkhardt by the defendants, last April. All parties concerned are residents of the Dry Creek district. Testimony in the trial was extensive, and involved the conduct of the school, justice court suits, and other matters, so much so the court this morning admonished counsel to expedite the procedure.
