ed tax changes when congress had them ready to be made. With a smile, however, he said he did not want to fly in the face of critical editorials of the past which warned against undigested legislation—that is, the White House just handing in bills to a rubber stamp congress.

He emphasized all legislation should be considered thoroughly. Recall Morgenthau
The reduction in federal aid highway appropriations recalled Secretary Morgenthau's recent speech in which he listed this item as well as relief and farm aids as possible outlays that could be cut to help balance the budget.

Asked if this was the first step under the Morgenthau program, the president replied by saying the other cuts proposed were budgetary and did not require legislation whereas the highway slash did.

Elaborating at another point, the president said his message Tuesday would say that the transportation bill to trim the annual road authorization bills. He noted that the government was now spending approximately $200,000,000 compared with $80,000,000 or $90,000,000 prior to 1923.

Unsound Practice
The practice of authorizing such appropriations a year or two in advance was unsound, he said. He added that under this system future congresses were more or less obligated to appropriate the full amount authorized because after passage of agriculture was required to notify the states before January 1 as to what their share would be.

Thus, the authorization was more than that, the chief executive remarked; it became a tender, and all the states had to do was to make the tender and it obligated the federal government.

The president, in his letter asking federal agencies to hasten purchases of supplies to stimulate winter industrial production, will point out that the government's requirements between now and June 3 involve an expenditure of $245,000,000. The estimate was furnished him by the treasury's procurement division.

To Continue Conferences
In still another move to aid industry, the president said he would continue his conferences with power utility executives which he resumed from the south early next month. He wants them to undertake an expansion program.

At one point in his press conference President Roosevelt reiterated that the United States government would keep on trying to bring about world peace. He made the statement when asked what if any steps were under consideration now that the nine-power conference at Brussels on the Sino-Japanese conflict had recessed.

Before the conference ended the president was asked to comment on his statement made at Charleston, S. C. in October, 1935, in which he said, "We are coming back more soundly than ever before because we planned it that way." In reply Mr. Roosevelt said the statement was correct at that time.

His questioner did not mention the name of Senator Vandenberg, E. Mich., who, in a radio speech last Monday, recalled the Charleston speech. Vandenberg said the Charles-assembling a submarine fleet at Vladivostok and doing its utmost to increase the capacity of its railways across Siberia have been coming out of Siberia for three or four years, and in large measure have been confirmed.

Fleet Coming Home
Imperial headquarters, delegated with administration of the China conflict, announced that "to meet spectacular developments in the Shanghai area," the Japanese battle fleet would return to home ports to expedite transportation of provisions and troop reinforcements.

Reports of friction between Japanese and Soviet Russians on the island of Sakhalin, off the coast of Siberia, reached Tokyo today.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency in a dispatch from Toyohara, on the Japanese-owned portion of the island, said Japanese police had decided to adopt a more stern attitude toward Russians.

Several Japanese residents were sentenced to serve 30 years in Soviet prisons without cause, Domei said, and Soviet officials halted Japanese fishing boats.

Who Wants to Be Slave to a Pill Box?
Millions of people who used to be cathartic-slaves have found relief from common constipation—and from pills and purgatives, too! Keep regular as you go, with a NATURAL food laxative—Kellogg's All-Bran.

All-Bran is not habit-forming. It supplies TWO things your intestines need. First, it's a good source of vitamin "B"—the amazing vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract. Second, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination.

Kellogg's All-Bran is a crunchy, toasted cereal. Eat it with milk or cream and fruits. In muffins it's delicious. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation and cathartics, too! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
