American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. O. L. Overmyer, president of Medford unit No. 15, of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today that a district meeting would be held in Medford on December 13th, and that an invitation had been sent to Mrs. Mae Waters, department president, as well as to a number of other department officials, to be present. District 4 includes fourteen auxiliary units in the southern part of the state, and extends from Beedport, in the north to Ashland and Klamath Falls. It is expected that a large delegation of visiting auxiliary members will attend the meeting and Medford unit is making extensive preparations to take care of its guests and show them a good time.

The business session will convene on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Medford at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Fannie Thompson, of Klamath Falls, president of District 4, presiding. Reports from each unit president and from the various committee chairmen will be read and a membership roll call will be held. In the evening the legion and auxiliary will hold a joint banquet at the Hotel Medford, to be followed by dancing.

Mrs. Waive Enders, radio chairman has announced that Medford unit will be on the air next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, when a special hospital and rehabilitation program will be broadcast over KMED.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

The general course in training for Girl Scout leaders under the local council was completed Tuesday evening and 43 adults attended the sessions, including several council members, troop committees and interested parents in addition to the regular leaders.

As a result of these classes there are eight new trained leaders registered as captains and lieutenants and each leader received some training and new interests for her troop.

Replacing the training courses will be individual conference and assistance at troop meetings. After the holidays a training course will be offered for troop committees sponsored by the Medford council for Girl Scouts.

The regular Leaders' Association of the Girl Scouts will meet Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Otto J. Frohnmayer has planned a Christmas program and the social committee will serve refreshments.

Members of the training and personnel and badge and awards committees are also members of the leaders' association. Mrs. Verna Thatcher will report on the community service projects completed during Thanksgiving. Leaders are asked to report to her regarding their Christmas citizenship plans in time for her report to the chairman of the council before the regular council meeting which comes the second Wednesday in December.

Troop four, a newly organized junior high troop under the leadership of Mrs. Alice Boswell and Mrs. Doris Husong, meets regularly on Wednesdays at the St. Mark's Guild hall.

HUNDREDS ENJOY GAY OPENING OF CHRISTMAS TRADE

City and county residents thronged the Medford business district yesterday to view the first general display of Yuletide merchandise and start their Christmas shopping early.

Hundreds reading on the edges of town were conveyed to the shopping center by the Medford Motor Bus company which gave free rides all day long to cooperate with the merchants in the formal opening of the Christmas shopping season.

Buses were crowded throughout the day as sightseers and shoppers were conveyed to and from town.

The Christmas opening was said to be the most largely attended of any in recent years.

The stores were prepared for the display with an extensive and varied display of new Christmas merchandise. Business was described as brisk, indications being that the buying public would shop early this year to take advantage of wide selections and to avoid a last minute rush.

Additional decorations are to be put in place on city streets Monday when evergreen garlands will be draped around lamp standards. It was announced by Fred W. Schefel, city superintendent.

DRAMA INSTITUTE OPENING MONDAY

Annual Jackson county dramatics institute will open Monday evening, November 29, at the court house auditorium, according to Mabel C. Mack, county home demonstration agent. The institute is held each year for the purpose of assisting adults interested in community drama.

Miss Iroha Jensen, extension specialist in community social organization, will be instructor. The program will include discussion and demonstrations in play selection, casting, direction, acting, make-up and staging. The institute is scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. There is no charge for enrollment. The only requirement is that those who enroll will be expected to attend all three sessions.

All organizations interested in production of plays are urged to send leaders to the school. A special invitation is also extended to all rural school teachers.

Closing time for Two Late to Classify Ads is 1:30 p. m.

WRITERS WILL FORM LOCAL ORGANIZATION WEDNESDAY EVENING

An organization meeting for the newly planned Writers' Club in southern Oregon will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the small studio at Pruitt's radio and music center.

Almus Pruitt, manager, has offered the use of his studio for the writers meeting and all persons interested in short story or magazine article writing are invited to turn out. The club will be organized on an informal basis and will provide an opportunity for writers to discuss their problems and offer helpful criticism.

The club is an outgrowth of the meeting held recently with Prof. W. F. G. Thacher, of the University of Oregon, in attendance. All writers are being urged to enroll in the extension courses in advanced short story and magazine article writing and if a sufficient number enroll, Professor Thacher will be brought here for two meetings early in the year.

Mrs. Una Inch, county school supervisor, who sponsored the original meeting, will be asked to help in the organization plans. A temporary committee, made up of Mrs. T. E. Knackstedt, Owen T. Barnhill and Roy Craft, will arrange a short program for Wednesday night to supplement the business meeting.

Roosevelt Pupils In Turkey Program
Pupils of Roosevelt school presented a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon at the school auditorium as follows:

Song, "A Big Fat Turkey," by 4B class; Thanksgiving songs by 1B, 1A and 2B classes; "Harvest Hymn," by 6A class.

A play, "The First Thanksgiving," was given by the third B and 3A with the following cast: Pilgrims, Governor Bradford, Earl Stiele, John Alden, Bobbie Reinhardt, Miles Standish, Nicholas Green; Priscilla, Susan Inskip, and Dixie Earl, Ruth Earl.
