

CONGRESS NEARS THIRD WEEK END WITHOUT ACTION

Debate On Farm Bill Continues at Slow Pace — Borah Lashes Measure As Completing Bureau Reign

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. — (AP) — Congress neared the end of the third week of its special session today without completing any part of President Roosevelt's farm bill.

Debate on the farm bill continued at a leisurely pace in both chambers, causing house leaders to abandon hope of a final vote there this week-end.

Nor was the conclusion of talk by senators in sight. Senator Borah (D., Idaho) unleashed his oratory against the bill at the opening of the day's session.

In a lengthy speech, he said the measure would complete "bureaucratic control" over farmers and would entail "the reduction of crops at a time when there are millions of hungry and needy persons in the country."

New Fight for Wage Bill. Backers of the wage-hour bill, a second item on the president's special session program, began a new fight to save the measure from revision.

A house subcommittee, meanwhile, considered a constitutional amendment or act of congress to permit federal taxing of $14,854,000,000 of state and municipal securities and state and local levies on $35,548,000,000 of federal issues.

At present, state and local securities are exempt from federal taxation and federal securities cannot be levied upon by the states and localities.

In the off-the-floor discussions of the wage-hour bill, one group disclosed it would try to strike all geographical differentials from the measure, a goal which would intensify the already heated north-south conflict over the measure.

Senator Ellender (D., La.) and McGill (D., Kansas) contended the farmer already was required to comply with land use requirements to obtain soil conservation payments, and would therefore be under no additional compulsion.

Use It As Club. "It's contrary to public interest," Borah insisted. "You're going to use it as a club to drive the farmer into this program." He said the senate bill amounts to government "blackmail" of farmers who do not comply with the projected agricultural control program.

"Crop control and the philosophy of reduction in the midst of plenty originated in the previous administration," Borah shouted.

"Mr. Hoover was the author of that. He was the first man in the history of the United States—in the history of the world—to propose scarcity as a cure for economic ills."

"If there is any glory in this philosophy which we now are enacting into law, that glory must be shared with the previous president of the United States."

KINGFISH WOULD JOIN GRAPPLERS

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. — (AP) — King Letinsky, one-time night mayor and pride of Maxwell street, swelled his chest with a sucking-in sound today until the buttons of his coat nearly popped off.

It was preliminary to an announcement of tremendous importance to him.

"Hey, you louse," he bellowed, putting up in front of a beer tavern. "You're just the guy I'm looking for."

"I want to make a wrestle," he parried, squinting his eyes. "There ain't no more mazzina for me fighting any more. From now on I'm a wrestle, a murrer of the mat."

The strapping Kingfish, who earned $300,000 with his fists since 1929 and then lost it, is going in for what he regards as important dough grunting and growling on the mat. The individual he wants to meet is none other than Bronko Nagurski, recognized here and there as heavyweight champion.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. — (AP) — Stocks swung over a wide range in today's market, leading issues lunging forward briskly at times and falling back suddenly at others. Mild selling appeared at the opening but was flushed in the second hour by a buying spurt that put the ticker tape behind and lifted favorites 1 to 4 points generally. There were a few more spectacular climbs among volatile stocks. Steels were among the best performers.

While profit taking cut down extreme gains substantially in the final hour, advances were well distributed at the close. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

CANFIELD BREAKS LEG IN TUMBLE

I. D. Canfield, prominent war veteran and owner of the Aloha orchard south of Medford, was confined to a Sacred Heart hospital today with a broken right leg.

Mr. Canfield met with the accident yesterday afternoon when he was pruning trees on his orchard. The ladder he was standing on slipped and he fell six feet to the ground. His fall for help brought Mrs. Canfield from their home. She summoned neighbors and Mr. Canfield was brought to the hospital here. Mr. Canfield is president of the Last Man's club and past commander of the local chapter of both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

WILL LINK PORTLAND, SPOKANE, YAKIMA ON CHICAGO AIR ROUTE

SEATTLE, Dec. 3. — (AP) — Plans for connecting Portland with Yakima and with transcontinental planes at Spokane shortly after January 1 were announced by Croil Hunter, president and general manager of the Northwest Airlines, operating between Seattle and Chicago.

"We also anticipate putting in a direct service from Portland on express schedule that will make elapsed time approximately 11 hours between Portland and Chicago," Hunter advised A. G. Kinsman, western traffic manager here. "Our company has been endeavoring to extend its line into Portland for the past three years and that hope has been realized with the granting of permission by the post office department." Officials said the line would put a complete fleet of new Sky Zephyrs into service on the Pacific coast by the first of the year, and that the ships would be able to land easily at Swan Island airport at Portland.
