

RELIEF OF FARMER MAJOR NECESSITY AVERS N. Y. MAYOR

Men, all the rest of this balancing is easy."

Noted Figures Present.
On the platform, in addition to White, were such national figures as Secretary of Labor Perkins, H. R. C. chairman Jesse H. Jones and Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan.

LaGuardia, aquat, excitable and politically unorthodox—a trend and co-worker on some matters in the past with the LaPollettes of Wisconsin—was disclosed only Wednesday to have abandoned his last theoretical tie with the Republican party. He had registered formally about a month ago, it turned out, with the American labor party, bringing speculation he might have a third party national movement in mind.

His subject assignment at the dinner was "the shape of things to come," and he said in response that what interested him most was "what's going to come from Washington?"

"The way to get out of our present troubles is to face the facts. Nothing is going to be balanced so long as we have right to ten million people unemployed through no fault of their own."

Farmer Is First.
"First attention must be given the American farmer. He has been getting a raw deal—here he shouted and beat his hands together—"through nearly all the growth of this country."

"We've established standards of living so beautifully described by Mr. Gifford (Walter Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, who previously had delivered a defense of capitalism)—and our standards were always established through the tariff."

"The farmer buys in a protected market, but when it comes time for him to sell his stuff, he must sell in the world market."

"Unless we create our own market in this country, people will suffer—and Mr. Gifford, people won't be able to use the telephone, except maybe to call up the relief bureau."

Gifford had asserted that Americans had been missing "the main road to success" recently by looking to foreign countries "for methods to copy," which he declared would land us "where they are—with lower material well being than we have now."

System Misnamed.
He said the capitalist system might be called more properly "the worker and consumer system."

"Capital in the form of an organization of people with able management and with a purpose, and with the tools, equipment and materials to carry it out," he said, "is the basis of the well-being of the past and the hope of the future."

Prof. Felix Frankfurter of the Harvard law school envisioned greater governmental control of private industry in the future. Calling self-interest the "dynamo of our economic system," he declared that "various forms of collaborative enterprise, including the largest club to which we all belong, namely the government, must step in, first to rein up self-interest where it is doing harm, and secondly, to perform those tasks of mutual aid which must be done communally."

Dictator Threat Visioned By Kerr
PORTLAND, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A dictatorship of intimidation and violence threatens American liberty, Dr. W. J. Kerr, former chancellor of higher education, told the Progressive Businessmen's club yesterday.

"It is because a group of men are trying to better their condition," Dr. Kerr said. "No, it is that certain men may gain power."

The ex-president of Oregon State college said dictatorships had given the people confidence in Italy and Germany, but had destroyed liberty and a free press.

ELYRIA, O. (UP)—When police found a prisoner with a bar of soap wrapped in a towel in such a way as to make an effective blackjack, deputies replaced county jail supplies of bar soap with liquid soap.

JAPANESE YIELD TO U. S. MARINE CHIEF'S PROTEST

over protests of American and other officials and there was tension in the settlement.

I stood within a short distance of the explosion. The Japanese troops, conveyed by tanks and with airplanes overhead, broke for shelter. Gaining sidewalks, excitedly they peered at upper stories of buildings on both sides of the street as if expecting further volleys.

Thousands of Japanese civilians lined the streets, waving flags, displaying banners, and shouting "Banzai!"—horray!

The cries turned to screams as the grenade burst.

Chinese and Japanese alike scattered. Hardly had the excitement begun to subside when the patriotic Chinese hurled himself into the street near me, falling in a mangled pulp into a barbed wire barricade.

Then a British lawyer, E. T. Maitland, formerly advocate of the Shanghai municipal police, added to the tension by breaking the staff of a Japanese flag across his knee.

Japanese troops, he said, molested him. British police took him under guard.

American Punched.
An American businessman, Vincent Reed, was injured in the face by a group of Japanese officers. They punched him because he refused to move.

The entire city was dangerously tense tonight.

MONTAGUE BOWS TO GOLFING BABE

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The New York Sun quoted Babe Ruth today as saying he had beaten John Montague several times on various golf courses in recent weeks.

The Sun said Ruth confirmed reports he had beaten the Californian by a sizeable margin in a strictly private match at the Quaker Ridge course. This was a few days after the indecisive match which Ruth, Montague, Babe Didrikson and Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg played at Fresh Meadows.

"Yes, I beat him at Quaker Ridge but I was pretty lucky," Ruth told the newspaper. "He was out of his game."

Joe Williams of the World-Telegram said he understood Ruth's victory was 5 and 3 but added the former home run king declined to give any details.

Ruth told the Sun he had played Montague three or four times and that the Californian had yet to beat him.

SALVATION KETTLES ON STREET SATURDAY

Medford citizens will tomorrow have an additional reminder that Christmas is near when they hear the tinkling of the Christmas bells of The Salvation Army. Adjutant Durham announced today that the familiar pots and tripods will be placed on the street tomorrow at 8:30 a. m. and Salvation Army lassies and laddies will make music with the bells until 5:30 p. m. The pots will not be on the street again until the following Saturday when they will again make their appearance and will then be out each day until Christmas.

Money dropped in the pots goes to purchase supplies for the army's Christmas baskets for poor families. Through the effort last year the army was enabled to distribute 107 baskets of food costing $3.50 per basket and, in addition, provide a Christmas tree with new presents for 350 needy children.

SMITH COMPANY ROW WILL BE ARBITRATED

agreed in principle to his arbitration plan in the Smith Wood Products company dispute here.

He will return next week for signing of agreements.

The plan provides for a department of labor arbitrator to decide on the return and union status of C.I.O. workers now on strike. The mill is operating under an exclusive agreement with the A.F.L.

Four-fifths of the productive forest area of the United States is privately owned.

MEDIATION CHAIRMAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Jas. W. Carmalt, chairman of the national mediation board, died at his home today after an illness of several weeks.

Carmalt had served on the board since 1934. His public service prior to that time included a two years' job as counsel to the federal co-ordinator of transportation and several years as chief examiner of the interstate commerce commission.

Poetess Passes.
PORTLAND, Dec. 3.—(AP)—MATT Aletta Woodward, 64, co-winner of the 1929 international poetry contest of the American section of the Poetry Society of Great Britain, died yesterday. "To Omar Khayyam" was her winning poem.
