What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

Medford Girl Scouts are preparing early for Christmas. Cooperating with the different local welfare agencies, Troop 3—Older Girl Patrol is collecting "disabled toys" for the firemen to give a contour treatment. Troop 3 is making personal gifts for "rather lonely ladies of grandma age." It is not always the young that need to be cheered at Christmas. Older girls of troop 2 are making bright scrap books for hospitals. Troop 3, Junior girls, are preparing stuffed animals and cuddley dolls for the local hospitals.

During the Christmas vacation plans are well underway for four days of "open house" at the scout headquarters. Treats will be served every afternoon. Christmas songs and Christmas stories will be a part of the entertainment. Mrs. Raymond Driver, chairman of the house committee, will be the hostess.

An all-leaders party is planned for Friday, December 17 at the recreation room. Every leader is on one of the committees and each committee is planning clever surprises for the group. A special feature of this party will be an investiture ceremony. Leaders who attended the general course will receive their Girl Scout pins and be invested by the local commissioner, Mrs. Wm. Holloway, assisted by her deputy, Mrs. O. D. Morrow.

THREE MEN HIKE, ONE GETS LOST, FINDS WAY OUT

Three men went on a hike through the woods yesterday. One got lost. The hikers were Paul Brinson, district forest ranger at Butte Falls, Don H. Cruikshank, manager of Underwood Elliott Fisher company here, and Archie Stewart, his assistant. They started their hike from the end of the Williams Creek road and headed for Oregon Caves, 11 1/2 miles away. Brinson is a forester. He carried instruments. Stewart is not a forester, though an experienced woodsman and hiker. He carried only a map.

The men were accompanied by their wives. The wives left the men to hike while they drove around to Oregon Caves. There they were to pick the hikers up and transport them home. Cruikshank stuck with Brinson. Stewart went ahead. Brinson and Cruikshank reached Oregon Caves together. Stewart failed to show up. The women had urgent business at home. They drove home with Cruikshank and Brinson. Then the two men were to drive back and hunt for Stewart. Before they started out again they received a telephone call saying Stewart had arrived at Oregon Caves. They went over and picked him up. He was quite exhausted.

Stewart got off the trail to Oregon Caves. Before long he was hiking far up the hillsides in two feet of snow. He studied his map and worked his way out. He went seven miles out of his way. He hiked from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. He was all right today. So were Cruikshank and Brinson. So were their wives who stayed in the car.

ROSA ELIZABETH LOAR, PIONEER RESIDENT, IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Rosa Elizabeth Loar, long time resident of Medford where she is known to hosts of friends as "Mother" Loar, passed away in a local hospital at an early hour Monday morning at the age of 74.

Mrs. Loar was an Oregon pioneer, born in Douglas county in the Looking Glass valley August 26, 1863, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stern. She was united in marriage at Marshfield, Ore. At the age of 15 to Charles P. Loar and to this union were born six children, four of whom survive. They are Charles Loar, Hill, Cal.; Mrs. Ed Walker, Medford; Mrs. Grace McCollum, Eugene, Ore.; and Mrs. Jack Jesman of Washington, D. C.

After her marriage she moved with her husband to Idaho where they resided until coming to Medford in 1894. For 35 years Mrs. Loar was owner and operator of an apartment house located at 445 South Front street.

There are also left four grandchildren, Owen and Robert Walker and William and Elsie Short. Also two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Conger funeral parlors upon the arrival of the daughter.

CHRISTMAS TURKEYS IN SMALLER DEMAND

PORTLAND, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Turkey distributors said today the volume for the Christmas trade was less than expected. Portland buying prices held at 22 cents a pound for top grade hens and 2 cents for toms.

Some offerings were one to two cents lower.

JAPANESE FORCES REACH OUTSKIRTS OF OLD NANKING

Smoke From Burning City Visible for Great Distance—Expect Fighting Within City by Tomorrow

SHANGHAI, Dec. 6.—(AP)—A vanguard of Japanese troops approached today within sight of the ancient walls of Nanking, China's evacuated capital.

(Dispatches to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi said the Japanese had captured Koachiaomen, a village about three miles from the Nanking walls, and that columns of smoke were visible for a great distance from fires within the capital.)

A Japanese army spokesman announced the advance tonight. He declared there probably would be fighting within the city tomorrow. The force, he said, carried Japan's Rising Sun banner to within three miles of Nanking. He said the unit was advancing from Anyang, on the Grand canal about 45 miles east of Nanking.

He announced also that Japanese had advanced toward Wuhu, Yangtze river port about 60 miles south-southwest of Nanking, and toward Chinkiang, where the Grand canal and Yangtze merge about 40 miles east of Nanking.

The Japanese also announced they had broken the boom across the Yangtze at Kianyin and that battle-ships were steaming upstream to bombard Chinkiang.

Japanese planes, meanwhile, were reported making heavy attacks on an allegedly bewildered Chinese retreat both from Tanking and Wuhu.

OCCUPANTS LOSE ALL IN DWELLING GUTTED BY FIRE; STOVE CAUSE

Fire last night gutted the one-story frame dwelling at 305 South Riverside avenue. Cause was attributed to an overheated kitchen wood stove which, firemen said, was left burning during the absence of the occupants of the house.

The property was owned by Mrs. R. Schuler of 911 West Tenth street. The loss was covered by insurance, it was stated by J. W. Wakefield, insurance agent.

Occupants of the house were Mrs. Mae Fredenburg, her daughter, Betty, and Jean Hogewood. Contents of the residence, including the occupants' belongings, were ruined, firemen reported.

Firemen answered the ward alarm at 6:05 p. m. Four hours later another ward alarm took them to a two-story residence at Jasper and Twelfth street where a fire fire was reported. Firemen stood by while the soot burned itself out. No damage was done, firemen stated.

JAIL AND FINES HANDED PAIR OF DRUNKEN DRIVERS

State and city police cracked down on two drunken drivers over the week-end and Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman this morning, after listening to pleas of guilty from both offenders, handed out twin fines of $100 plus court costs, of $4.50 and added county jail sentences of 30 days to both. Driving licenses of the men are automatically suspended for one year, also.

"Wine on beer" was the answer Vernon Magruder, 50, of route 1, gave to state police officers last night when questioned as to what he had been drinking when arrested on the north Pacific highway. State police said he was driving his Chevrolet coupe on the extreme left side of the highway and almost struck a parked car. He was taken immediately to the county jail and appeared this morning.

City police early Saturday morning arrested H. R. Williams, 52, of 137 Tripp street, and stated that he was jogging along East Main street in a machine that had a flat tire. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and lodged in city jail, where he was held until his appearance in court this morning. Police said he was in a "stupor" condition.

Neither convicted drunken driver was able to pay his $100 fine this morning. In case neither does before the expiration of the 30-day jail sentences, they will be forced to spend an additional 50 days behind the bars, "laying out" the fines at $2 per day.

Don't experiment with Children's Colds

Relieve Their Misery This Proved Way

WHEN your child comes down with a cold, you can't afford to take needless risks. Use the treatment that has been doubly proved for you—Vicks VapoRub.

It has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. There's no dosing—no risk of spoiling appetite, or disturbing a delicate digestion. VapoRub can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

You simply massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated) Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to begin...
Almost before you finish rubbing, the youngster begins to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double-action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after the little one relaxes into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.
