money for themselves" was scored in the statement. Peace efforts were ordered continued by the I.W.A., which voted to add two men to a committee of three which met last week with A.P.L. men and David Robinson, Citizens' Committee representative. Authority to endorse a settlement without a referendum was granted. C.I.O. delegates said they considered the Phlego corporation was involved in a legitimate labor dispute, and declared pickets would not be withdrawn in line with the Robinson proposal for an end to hostilities. The governor's decision to use his own "course of action" was attacked by Don Helmeck, I.W.A. international representative, who said "sacrificing" and calling out troops would not end the trouble.

Annapolis Picture Pleases Crowds at Craterian Showing

With an all-around program of exceptional merit, the New Craterian theater should be a busy place until tomorrow night. The outstanding feature is the thrilling story of love and football, "Navy Blue and Gold," as the feature attraction and two exceptionally interesting short subjects, "The March of Time" and "Romance of Radium." First of all, "Navy Blue and Gold" is commendable in many respects. It presents life at the United States naval academy with what according to naval experts, more than usual authenticity—the drama behind the scenes, the comedy and the romances of the middies. Secondly, there is football of the type you dream about, the razzle-dazzle dippy-dew spectacular form the basis of the story. The cast was well chosen, with James Stewart adding to his lustre of potential star timber, Robert Young in another fine performance, Tom as the well-liked son of rich New York people, Florence Rice as "Tom's" sister, and the object of Stewart's and Young's romantic attentions—Liane Barymore, Paul Kelly, Billie Burke and many others. The story shows the three boys—Young, Stewart and Brown—all from different classes of life, joining together as room-mates and becoming fast friends. The adventures they experience, dramatic, comic and romantic form the basis of the story. "The March of Time," dealing with heart disease, the gambling fever that has gripped England, and, particularly of interest at the present time, the fight of the Alaskan fishermen against the Japanese trying to poach on their salmon grounds, is one of the most interesting of these subjects to ever be released. "The Romance of Radium," admirably prepared, edited and explained by Pete Smith, is a romance in itself, and shows things the average person has never dreamed about.

and leaves the country, becomes "dead" to her boy so that he may never hear of her disgrace. Finally she winds up in South America, a drunken harridan who cares nothing about living. There she becomes prey for the scheming machinations of a blackmailer who discovers who she really is. He takes her back to France to face her husband and collect a handsome fee for keeping his mouth shut. But to silence him and retain her secret, "Madame X" shoots the blackmailer and is then charged with murder. Finally comes the climactic court scene during which she learns that the attorney defending her is her own son, appointed by the court to take her case. And that, indeed, and gentlemen, is one of the most dramatic scenes you've ever seen.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

LABOR TROUBLES FACING FARMERS EYED AT MEETING

(Continued from Page One.) Local turkey growers had endeavored by telegram and telephone to find out directly from the San Francisco unions what should be done but had obtained no satisfactory reply. Mr. Warner stated. He added that the union executives had promised to express their stand explicitly by 9 a. m. today, but that no word had been received from them. Assistance Voted. Upon motion of Raymond R. Reter, the county association voted to assist the turkey growers in every possible way. Capt. S. M. Tuttle declared that the action of the San Francisco unions was only the beginning of a policy of agricultural harassment and that if the present situation were not faced squarely every other form of agriculture here would be faced with a similar predicament. He

"It's a well known fact," he added, shifting his attack to Seattle's Mayor John Dore and Teamster Leader Dave Beck, "that you can't operate a business in Seattle without paying tribute to labor racketeers. But we're going to stop the racketeers in Seattle. We're going to run one ace labor leader out of town and right into the bay."

Factions Unimportant In a statement Governor Martin of Oregon declared he was "not concerned with promoting the welfare or strength of either of the contending factions (AFL and CIO), especially as presented by their present leadership." Gladys George Has Lead Rialto Drama Paging the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences! One of the outstanding candidates for the award of being best actress for the year 1937 is now proving her right to that award at the Rialto theater. She is Gladys George, starred in "Madame X" and what a fine performance this capable actress turns in. Invariably when a star delivers an outstanding performance the whole cast seems to reflect the brilliance. "Madame X" is no exception. Warren William is a different player than the screen has shown before—a dramatic player with a fine instinct for the correct characterization of his part. John Best is another who has what is probably the best screen part. Then there is Reginald Owen, away from the comedy for which he is so well known, although he does dip into it every now and then in the picture. And so down the line. Result: One of the best dramatic screens has ever known, and certainly every bit as good as the Ruth Chatterton picture of the same name of eight years ago. Miss George is the wife of Warren William, about to sever an association with Phillip Reed when he is killed by a jealous "ex-flame." Add to this fact that her son had become ill while she was keeping a rendezvous and one can understand the late feelings of the husband—ramrod that he is. She loses her home
