

STUDENTS TO SEE BENEFIT PICTURE AT MATINEE SHOW

A special matinee of "Fire Over England" will be given at the Varsity theater in Ashland Wednesday afternoon for students of the Phoenix, Talent and Ashland schools. The show will be presented at 2 p. m. and the schools will be dismissed for the matinee.

The film will be repeated Wednesday evening at the Varsity. Several short subjects will also be shown to round out a complete program of motion picture entertainment.

The matinee and evening show is a benefit for the Oregon Shakespeare fund, the presentation being in charge of Prof. Angus L. Bowmer.

Flora Robson in "Fire Over England."

director of dramatics at the Southern Oregon Normal school. As the film will be shown only on the one day in southern Oregon, Prof. Bowmer urged the public to support the fund and to procure tickets early. Tickets may be obtained in Medford at Pruitt's Music & Radio center, 111 West Main street.

"Fire Over England" has been described by critics as one of the greatest dramas ever to come from a film studio. It is an Elizabethan drama based on the novel by A. E. W. Mason and is taken from one of the most colorful pages of English history.

The film depicts the romance and grandeur of England in the adventurous days of Queen Elizabeth, together with the hostilities between England and Spain which culminated in the destruction of the famed Spanish armada.

With a charming love plot, beautiful and authentic costuming and lavish court scenes, the film offers entertainment of wide audience appeal.

The story is portrayed by a cast of notable actors.

Choice Livestock Eyed by Judges

Some of the far west's choicest livestock was under the critical eyes of judges in South San Francisco, Calif., at the 11th annual interstate junior livestock show. The young owners are members of Future Farmers and 4-H clubs in California, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Utah and Nevada. Attending the show with their livestock were (left to right) Robert Mundkowski, 17, Santa Rosa, Calif.; Leeta Lou Linebaugh, 17, Utah county, Utah; and Fritz Jane Neddertier, 17, Minden, Nev. The 11 month old Hereford, "Jimmy Boy," belongs to Miss Neddertier.
