'Round the Horn in a tin can

THUS came to the Golden Gate, the Columbia River, and Puget Sound the first petroleum products—mostly "coal oil"—brought in any ship that could heel down a slant of wind past Hatteras, take Cape Horn abeam, and haul once more across the Line to drop hook after 16,000 miles of venture.

Even now much of the 150,000 barrels of "crude" processed daily by the Standard Oil Company of California is transported in some form by water.

Life at sea—particularly the hours men ashore can spend where and how they please—has been made as pleasant as possible for our tankermen.

New sister tankers, costing two million dollars each, provide each two men with a stateroom having comfortable berths, individually lighted—hot water—radio outlets—showers nearby. Dining rooms replace "mess" rooms and the men get the same menu as officers. The crew's lounge is a seagoing club.

This is typical of our labor relations policy. This Company has grown—since the days of sailing ships—and recognizes that our maritime employees have helped it grow.

Easter Breakfast Reveals Betrothal Of Thelma Heard

The announcement of the engagement of Thelma Heard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heard of this city, to Roy L. Howe, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Howe of Santa Paula, Calif., was made Sunday morning at a nine o'clock Easter breakfast given at the Heard home on the South Pacific highway.

The Easter motif was carried out in the table decorations, the centerpiece was of ornamental peach blossoms and tapers. Each guest found their places by a unique arrangement of chocolate Easter eggs in green nests with each name written on the egg.

The betrothal was made known by an egg hunt with the announcement also written on the egg. The ring was concealed in a miniature Easter cart drawn by Stanley Johnson, small nephew of Miss Heard.

Present at the party were: Louise Miller, Lunetta Bussey, Faith Robinson, Cathryn Heard, Gertrude Menden, Jean Pugh of Vancouver, Wash. and Itha Johnson of Portland, sister of the bride-elect.

The wedding will be an event of the late fall, in this city. Miss Heard has lived in Medford most of her life, she is a graduate of the Medford high school.

LIONS MINSTRELS WIN APPLAUSE IN INITIAL SHOWING

Offering a wealth of entertainment of sparkling comedy, unique dancing, melodious songs and minstrel attire, "Hit It Up" delighted the audience at the initial showing last evening at the high school.

The musical revue, presented by John B. Rogers producing company, under auspices of the Medford Lions club, with a versatile cast of local talents "Hit It Up" for two hours of laughs and applause.

The Junior Symphony orchestra, opening the program with several selections directed by Prof. John R. Knight, was followed by a chorus of "Sing and Be Happy" with the cast attired in clever costumes.

"Kiss Again" featured the Arusso Corinne and Nola Harwood, Miss Jewell Deter, dancing teacher, and her pupils starred in "Top Hats," "Quiet Waters," featuring Mary Louise McElhoose and Corinne Harwood as soloists and chorus of Eve Benson's studio, was most picturesque.

"Medford Melody Trio," composed of Josephine Bullis, Corinne Harwood and Mary Louise McElhoose, sang several selections which were very well received. This trio of local girls were beautifully attired in formal dresses of pastel colors.

"Vocal of the Southland," with Miss Betty Davis featured in a specialty dance, held all of the atmosphere of an old southern plantation with pickaninny dancers and singers forming the chorus.

Highlight of the entertainment was the Junior Accordion band, directed by Mrs. Harry Prentice. In smart uniforms of black and white, members of the band presented several outstanding selections and then returned to please the audience again in an encore.

"Wasting Back to 1901," with two boys and two girls, featured the era of some time ago, delighted the audience with their antique costumes and songs. The side-splitting event of the evening, entitled "Muddy Waters," was a chorus of daintily clad local Lions, prancing about the stage with maneuvers which were not exactly graceful.

Medford's own Gleemen, with Director Sebastian Apollo as pianist, turned out an excellent performance. As the final number, "Hit It Up" of minstrel Moderne, a light minstrel take-off of the age-old minstrel show, between acts, through out the show, several brief comedies were given.

It is expected that this evening's performance, which begins at 8 o'clock will be even more spectacular than last night's, as the cast polished off the edges in Tuesday's show.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—The stock market found a foothold for a rallying effort today after many shares had yielded one-third to one-half the April recovery gains.

Declines of fractions to more than a point, still ruled in the main list. But forenoon losses, running to more than 3 points in leading industrials, were cut down before the finish more than an ebb in offerings than expansion in buying.

Aviation shares showed the way on the upside. A few gold stocks joined the advance. Transactions approximated 800,000 shares.
