Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—Utilities and specialties put on a quiet rally of their own in today's stock market, leaving many issues to drag along in a fruitless search for a trend.

Brokers found the news much more to their liking, but most customers apparently had yet to be convinced a turn for the better was near at hand and these were inclined to stand aside and await something more definite from the Washington front.

After a fairly steady opening industrial stocks backed away and, until the final hour, losses running to a point or so were well distributed. Support around the close enabled an assortment of red-canceled issues and financially irregular.

Activity was low from the start, with transfers approximating 600,000 shares.
