Lodges To Fete Anniversary

Southern Oregon I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodge will celebrate the 119th anniversary of the I. O. O. F. organization Tuesday evening, April 26. The session will be held in the First Methodist church. A banquet at 6:30 o'clock with a musical program will take place. In the main auditorium at 8 o'clock the Hon. H. K. Zimmerman of Astoria, grand master of the state lodge will address the members. Mr. Zimmerman will also be the guest of honor at the banquet.

Alpha Deltas See Calvon

The Alpha Deltas class of the First Christian church met yesterday afternoon for one of the most interesting sessions of the season. Following the business period, entertainment was presented by Calvon "the man of mystery" who baffled the crowd with prestidigitation. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Julia Gregory and her committee.

Medfordites Attend "Fire Over England"

The benefit showing of "Fire Over England" played in Ashland at the Variety theater in Ashland Wednesday evening to a very appreciative audience. The film presentation was made by Prof. Angus L. Bowmer, director of dramatics at the Southern Oregon Normal school. Proceeds from the film are to go to the Oregon Shakespeare fund.

EDUCATIONAL ADVISER OF NINTH CORPS AREA CONFERS WITH OWENS

Dr. D. E. Wiedman, educational adviser for the ninth corps area, arrived last night for a conference with Major G. R. Owens, commander of the Medford CCC district, and Dr. H. Fields, district adviser. Dr. Wiedman, former Medford district adviser, is now in charge of CCC educational activities for the ninth corps area, which embraces the entire west coast. He planned to visit Camp Prescott today and inspect the educational facilities there.

Wenonah Club Has Bridge Affair

Mrs. Myrtle Kent and Verma Rawlings were hostesses for the Wenonah club Thursday afternoon for a dessert bridge at the Redman hall. There were seven tables in play with scoring awards going to Maude Lovell and Gladys Dooms. The hall was attractively decorated with spring flowers and tapers. Refreshments were served by Ione Dooms, Gladys Laurence, Rose Kyle and Lucile Ansell.

With the arrival of new enrollees to bring all camps of the district to full strength, the educational program is receiving new impetus here. The Medford district has long been a leader in CCC educational work and many of the teaching methods developed here since Dr. Wiedman began as district adviser four years ago are now in general use throughout the United States. Before beginning his service as corps area adviser on the Pacific coast, Dr. Wiedman served as adviser for the seventh corps area with headquarters at Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Wiedman accompanied the corps adviser here. They will leave tomorrow for Vancouver Barracks, visiting Camp Gasquet, near Crescent City, and Coos Head, near Marshfield, enroute.

Grade Teachers To Luncheon

The Jackson County Grade Teachers' association will enjoy a luncheon to be held Saturday at 1 o'clock at Valentine's cafe.

OLD CITY ORDINANCES COVER MUCH GROUND

FRESNO, Calif.—(AP)—There are 2,283 city ordinances in this town and you're liable to get into trouble where you least expect it. For instance: Don't sell a hamburger without giving the customer a list of ingredients. If you ride a bicycle on the sidewalk, you must alight, but not bow, on approaching a pedestrian.

The Hawes Style Dictum? It's Simple -- Be Yourself

A.P. Feature Service Writer. By CHARLES NORMAN

NEW YORK—To be well-dressed, dress yourself, says Elizabeth Hawes, a leading creator of women's styles and author of "Fashion Is Spinach," which should give you an idea.

"Fashion," says Miss Hawes, "comes and goes fast—very fast. It is mainly promotional on the surface. But style is intimately connected with personality. If clothes are right for you and well made, you can wear them till they fall to pieces."

"How is one to know what is right?" she was asked. "Fat, fatter; Short, shorter. 'It's really very simple,' she replied. 'Take whatever outstanding characteristic you have and dress accordingly. If you are fat, dress to look fatter. If you are short, dress to look shorter.'

"I am short and I always wear clothes that make me look shorter. Of course I'd like to be tall and all that, but being short has its compensations. People open doors for me. They look after me."

"The well-dressed woman doesn't long to be something she cannot be. She has herself down pat. She knows what she looks like, who she is, and where she's going. Money has nothing to do with being well-dressed. It's an expression of personality."

"The trouble with women," she concluded, "is that they won't look at themselves. I have seen them trying on dresses and nodding their heads in front of their hips to hide what they don't wish to see."

Brown-eyed Miss Hawes is five feet three inches tall and weighs 110 pounds. She was wearing a plaid wool suit with a sleeveless coat and a full skirt with a pleatum. It was ample, released women, but, she says, they confused freedom with masculinity and tried to achieve flat figures like men. The result "was horrible."

Now there won't be a fundamental change until there's another blow-up. "And then?" "It's pants next for women," she exclaimed. "They'll be too busy for dresses in the next war."

Miss Hawes, who was a professional dressmaker at 12, is a graduate of Vassar. After graduation she studied designing in Paris; a few years later she created a sensation in fashion circles by taking her own creations to Paris. Her dressmaking house here employs 80 girls, three of whom are models. Her dresses start at $25 (for a summer creation); for an evening dress it's $135 and up.

"And Shoot Yourself." Her genius lies in the selection of unusual materials, which may range from rare, imported stuffs to ordinary burlap for trimming. "Full of rich, warm colors, her creations have a timeless air, eternal femininity. Black she dislikes, because, she says, it's unbecoming to most people. But you can have it if you want it."

"Buy a black dress," she is fond of saying, "and then shoot yourself." The color of a garment, she holds, has nothing to do with the color of your eyes, as many people suppose. It's the skin that is the deciding factor. Skins, she says, are "green," "pink" and "yellowish-green," chiefly the last.

She thinks styles change only when fundamental changes occur in people's lives. The world war, for example, released women, but, she says, they confused freedom with masculinity and tried to achieve flat figures like men. The result "was horrible."

DOLDRUMS HOLD JACKSON COUNTY POLITICAL SEAS

Calm continues over Jackson county political seas, with the primary election only a month away. No local candidate is stirring interest, observers saying this is because the voters are chiefly concerned with the renomination of Governor Martin on the democratic ticket. It is estimated between 300 and 500 Republicans, many of the rock-ribbed variety, have registered Democratic to enable casting a vote for the chief executive.

273 CCC RECRUITS ARRIVE IN NIGHT

A special CCC train carrying 273 replacements for camps of the Medford district arrived here last night. The train was commanded by Lieut. John W. Page of Camp Applegate, with Lieut. Romulus W. Stevens, Jr., as mess officer and Capt. A. C. Kerr as train surgeon. Lieutenant Stevens is reporting here from the fourth corps area for duty.

On the train were 73 men for Camp Prescott, 85 for Big Springs and 115 for Gasquet.

Word was received here today that a special train left Dallas, Texas, yesterday with 135 men for Co. 2854, Camp Pleasant, near Redding, Calif. The train is commanded by Capt. Norman A. Douglas of district headquarters here and will arrive in Redding April 24.

Another special is en route from Fort Benning, Ga., with fourth corps area enrollees and will arrive here tomorrow. Capt. William C. Ryan district welfare officer, is in command.

Thirty-five thousand Colorado elementary and junior high school students participated in a recent highway safety campaign.

ARMY CONTINGENT WILL STOP HERE

Fifty vehicles and 100 officers and men of Company A, 29th Engineers, will be quartered in the Medford armory overnight, April 27, it was announced today by Capt. Carl Y. Tengwald, commander of the 180th Infantry here.
