Leaders Addressed By Mrs. Hoffmann At Wednesday Meet

Mrs. Ethelwyn B. Hoffmann spoke to the members of the Girl Scout Leaders Association, Wednesday, on "The Inside Facts of Buying." Mrs. Hoffmann stressed the mental attitude of the buyer, as being one of the most important factors determining a successful purchase. These guides to buyers were offered: Shop in the morning when both the purchaser and sales force are alert. Have in mind the purpose for the garment and the places you will wear it. Never shop when in a hurry, and "courtesy begets courtesy." In closing Mrs. Hoffmann offered suggestions for re-modeling seldom worn dresses that were on display by the leaders.

The third class for leaders and troop committee members will be held Thursday at 1:30 o'clock. At this meeting each leader will bring a design for the arts and craft field of the second class. Also the community life class will be given this same day. Leaders are requested to plan the material according to the suggestions given in the Girl Scout Leader.

April 30, all Girl Scout leaders, troop committee members, council members, mothers of Girl Scouts and all Girl Scouts are to have a luncheon at the Elk Temple. Leaders are urged to send in their reservations before Thursday.

Mrs. Curran New P.T.A. President

Mrs. E. T. Curran was elected to the presidency of the Washington School Parent-Teachers association at the regular meeting of that organization Friday afternoon at the Washington school building. She will succeed Mrs. Clifton Pond who has made a splendid record as head of the Washington P.T.A. during the past season. Mrs. Hobart Price was selected vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Cooney will serve as secretary and Mrs. B. H. Thomas as elected treasurer.

"Heredity, food and environment are the most important elements in physical and mental growth of children," Dr. William F. Roney told the parents and teachers at yesterday's meeting in the feature address. He emphasized the fact that parents should not make light of children's troubles but should listen to them with a sympathetic ear and give careful counsel. Little trials and tribulations of children, though they may seem small to grown-ups, are vital, important problems to the children themselves. Fathers, he said, should interest themselves to an equal degree with mothers and assist in giving wise advice.

An enlightening discussion of the Teachers' Retirement bill was presented by Miss Watling in which she stressed the fact that teachers do not want a pension, but instead a means of systematic saving which will provide future security when their period of active teaching has passed.

In the enjoyable program at yesterday's meeting, the pupils of Mrs. Huntress and Mrs. Deuel entertained with songs of other countries. The kiddies appropriately costumed, sang the Mexican song, "Piestita," the "Santa Fe Trail," a cowboy song; "Rosa Let's Be Dancing," a Dutch number, an Italian song, "The Organ Grinder's Song" and Indian and Chinese numbers. The singing of "America" by all the kiddies was the finale of their delightful song program.

Various committee chairmen reported on their activities during the past season and Mrs. Pond expressed to all her sincere appreciation for the generous support which has made possible a most successful year. The meeting closed with refreshments with Miss Gregory and Mrs. Deuel presiding.

Club Members Hear Reviews

The Wednesday Study club held their regular meeting at the Girls' Community club Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. A. Meeker opening the program giving current events. Of particular interest was an article concerning the state of Nebraska which is the only state in the union being out of debt.

"White Banners" by Lloyd Douglas was very ably reviewed by Mrs. H. E. Sneider who particularly stressed the author's simple philosophy of life. Mrs. Carlton Jones gave a splendid resume of Helen Keller's latest book "Helen Keller's Journey." The chronicler concerns her journey to Scotland and to Japan, with her companion Polly Thompson, but the theme is her overwhelming grief over the recent death of her life long teacher and her valiant effort to continue living without this dear friend.

"Suns Go Down" by Flannery Lewis was very entertainingly presented by Mrs. E. N. Warner. The story depicts the life of the author's grandmother in Virginia City during the boom days of the Comstock Lode up until the present where she is almost the sole inhabitant.

University To Fete Mothers

Mothers of University of Oregon students in Medford and in other sections of the state, have been sent warm personal invitations by sons and daughters to be present for the annual Mothers' Day celebration scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 6, 7 and 8, on the university campus.

The celebration will be part of the traditional Junior Weekend and mothers will be honored guests at such events as the annual junior prom, canoe fete, campus luncheon, and other activities. In addition, special events have been planned for mothers themselves, including their regular business session, teas, meetings, tours of the campus and other events.

Mothers will begin to arrive on the campus Friday when registration will open at ten o'clock. At noon, with sons and daughters, they will take part in the huge campus luncheon to be held on the lawn in the central portion of the campus. A tea for mothers on Friday afternoon will be sponsored by the Associated Women Students and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Saturday will be a busy day for the mothers, with the annual business meeting scheduled for ten o'clock. At 12:30 the visitors will take lunch with sons and daughters at living organizations and from 2 to 4 o'clock, will be conducted on tours about the campus. They will be given an opportunity to inspect the new buildings, the Museum of Oriental Art, the Museum of Natural History, and many other campus features. The Eugene Mothers' club and the Women's Faculty club will also be hostesses at a tea on Saturday afternoon.

New and unusual features are being planned for the annual Mothers' Day banquet to be held Saturday evening in the John Straub Memorial building. Following the banquet, Mothers will have a special section set aside at the annual canoe fete on the millrace.

Sunday, special services for mothers will be held in all Eugene churches and living organizations will honor the visitors at a special dinner.

ELECTRIC SERVICE is your most dependable and economical servant. Just push a button or plug in an appliance and this servant goes to work immediately, no matter how late or how early it might be... that's dependability! As for Economy... what else is there that can do so much for so little? And the more you use the cheaper the service becomes. Economy is the theme in which every householder is interested!

This chart shows how and why the average cost of electricity per kwh decreases as your use increases.

WHAT IS A KILOWATT-HOUR?
The kilowatt-hour is really a giant unit. It is the energy of a horse working for one and
