Legion Auxiliary To Attend Ashland Luncheon Tuesday

Mrs. O. L. Overmyer, president of Medford unit of the American Legion auxiliary, has announced that Mrs. Frank N. Waters, department president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. J. W. McInturf, secretary, and some of the other department officials will be the guests of the Ashland unit at a luncheon and open meeting on Tuesday, May 3. An invitation has been extended to members of Medford unit to be present and all those who wish to attend the luncheon are asked to phone Mrs. Overmyer as soon as possible.

A special Mothers' Day program is being arranged for the evening of May 3, under the direction of Mrs. Nettie Ellenburg and following the regular meeting of the auxiliary at the armory. An invitation has been extended to the department officials to attend and local Gold Star mothers will be honored guests of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Leticia Kunz, poppy chairman, has announced that plans for the poppy sale have been completed and that the sale will be held on May 28, the Saturday before Memorial Day.

The American Legion auxiliary officially adopted the poppy as its memorial flower at the national convention in Cleveland in 1921 and pledged the profits from the poppy sales 100 per cent to welfare relief for service men and their families. In 1924 the auxiliary adopted a national poppy program which eliminated the commercial poppy from the sales supply of the auxiliary and thus protected the disabled veterans who each year have made the little red flower for Poppy Day. More than 10,000,000 poppies are made annually in the United States, under the guidance of the American Legion auxiliary, according to Mrs. Kunz, and these poppies are sold on Poppy Day by the auxiliary. Every penny that is received from the sale of the poppies is devoted to rehabilitation work by both the Legion and the auxiliary, which includes aid to needy veterans and their families.

Each year, on Poppy Day, the public is given an opportunity to help the great work of the American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary, as well as an opportunity to pay tribute to those men who gave their lives during the great war.

Oregon's D. A. R. Delegates Guests of McNarys at Tea

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—(Special Correspondence)—State Regent-elect Mrs. Gilbert E. Holt and Oregon delegates and alternates were guests of Senator and Mrs. Charles L. McNary at a beautifully appointed tea Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. R. M. Evans, member of Crater Lake chapter, poured for Mrs. McNary, and a number of army, navy and congressional friends were invited to meet the Oregon Delegates. The tea table and the drawing room and hall of the apartment were aglow with artistic bouquets of colorful spring flowers and ferns.

Thursday night, Mrs. Gilbert E. Holt, dressed in flowing white chiffon and carrying a huge bouquet of deep red roses presented her by her delegation, read the report of the splendid work done by the holding state regent, Mrs. Boone G. Harding; Crater Lake chapter, during the past year.

These reports were entered in the order in which the states entered the Union, beginning with Delaware, 1787, through to Arizona in 1912 (Oregon, 1859, was the 34th)—followed by Alaska, and reports from D. A. R. organizations in 10 overseas countries.

The closing day, Saturday, at 11:30 a. m., Mrs. Gilbert, with all the newly elected state and national officers, will take the oath of office administered by the chaplain general and be installed as state regent for Oregon for the next three years. This ceremony is most beautiful and impressive with the justly famous United State Marine band playing, flags and the state banners massed, hundreds of pages dressed in pure white, and every retting and incoming official carrying masses of gorgeous flowers.

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Roosevelt will receive the members at the White House, and with the gala banquet Saturday night, attended by from 2000 to 3000 Laughters and friends, the 47th Continental Congress, N. S. D. A. R., will close.

Paul Henepeter, overseer, Richard Niedermeyer, chaplain, Ruth Coke, secretary, Joyce Henepeter, Ceres, Phyllis Wendt, Pomona, Barbara Earl; assistant steward, Joyce Niedermeyer, and juvenile matron, Mrs. Olive Floyd. The state regent, Mrs. Grange voted to observe church Sunday, May 1.

The lecturer presented the following program: Reading, Carl Niedermeyer; review and account of a trip to Florida via the Panama canal, I. A. Dew; musical reading, Joyce Simms; solo, Henry Niedermeyer, and the auctioning of a cake baked by the new juvenile master, Dorothy Hansen, in order to raise funds for regalia for the newly started Grange.

Visitors other than State Deputy Brown were Theo. Simms, master of Roxy Ann Grange, and Mrs. Simms.

A. E. Brockway, reporting for the legislative committee, announced the vote on the forming of power districts in the northern part of the state and called attention to the initiative measure to quell racketeering in labor which is being circulated for names to put it on the ballot in November.

Henry Conger reported for the marketing committee.

At Floyd again, announced the chicken dinner and dance on Wednesday, April 27, sponsored by Mrs. E. C. ladies.

Mrs. Reva Henepeter announced next serving committee would be Mr. and Mrs. Peters, M. Sanden, Mrs. Edens and Gertrude Coke. She reported the last meeting of the H. E. club at the home of Mrs. Chester Wendt was spent in discussing plans and appointing committees for the forthcoming dinner.

Becca was called by Worthy Master Otto Niedermeyer during which State Deputy Arthur Brown, assisted by Master Niedermeyer, Chaplain Gertrude Martin, Mrs. Emma Conger as marshal and Mrs. Katherine Earl and Mrs. Anna Wendt as emblem bearers, installed the following newly elected juvenile Grange officers: Master, Dorothy Hansen; lecturer, Charlotte Niedermeyer; steward, Barbara Niedermeyer; assistant steward, when an alleged gambling establishment was raided by officers led by City Commissioner J. E. Bennett. "Regardless of public sympathies involved, the law must be upheld," the mayor said. The raiders were the target of eggs and vegetables thrown by unsympathetic bystanders. Fifty-nine persons were arrested.

The Padres didn't know what it was

IT WAS HOT. Ramon Perea would have enjoyed a drink. Thirsty work it was, tracking a deer up the broken floor of Pico Canyon in the Santa Susana Mountains. So Ramon cheered when his eye fell upon a spring. Only it was not cool, dark water. It was a spring of black, clinging, slippery liquid, quite beyond the knowledge of one who from his earliest memories had been a shepherd.

"But if I do not know," Ramon reasoned, "certainly the wise padres at the mission can tell me."

So he filled his canteen with the mysterious liquid and back he trudged—to Mission San Fernando. The brown-robed padres didn't know, either, but a visitor, a Dr. Gelsich, fresh from the East where it was a new marvel, recognized petroleum.

That was one of the earliest discoveries of oil in California. Many years sped before a well was sunk there in August, 1875, by the California Star Oil Works Company, our direct ancestor.

That well, Pico No. 1, is gone now. But none of its 1724 active wells makes Standard of California prouder than neighboring Pico No. 4, which after 61 years, still produces its two or three barrels of oil a day.

Joe DiMaggio

"How about it, Joe, do you find that Camels are different from other cigarettes?"

"Any all-cigarettes-are-alike talk doesn't jibe with my experience. There's a big difference. I've smoked Camels steadily for 5 years, and found that Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me, in a lot of ways. Good taste. Mildness. Easy on the throat. And Camels don't give me jumpy nerves. Like a lot of other people I know, I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

BILL GRAHAM, seeing Joe DiMaggio pull out his package of Camels, asked his opinion on smoking. Joe came straight to the point: "There's a difference, a big difference, between Camels and the others." You, too, will find in Camels a matchless blend of finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic.

JOE KEEPS his hand in on mending nets. His family are fisher folk. DiMaggio is 6 feet tall—weighs around 185 pounds. His nerves are h-e-a-l-t-h-y!

IN THE KITCHEN of his picturesque water front restaurant, Joe says: "I eat pretty much what I like all season long and smoke Camels with my meals and afterwards, 'for digestion's sake.'"

CLOSE-UP OF JOE'S GRIP. "Ball players go for Camels in a big way," he says. "I'm a steady smoker myself. Camels have real mildness all right—don't irritate my throat."

Mr. Harold Craig, too, prefers his presence for Camels on what he knows about the kinds of tobaccos that go into the various cigarettes. "I get the check—so I know that Camels use more expensive tobaccos. Camel got the best of my last crop. That holds true with most planters I know too. You bet I smoke Camels."
