RECORD CIRCULATION PROVES NEWSPAPERS RETAINING INTEREST

NEW YORK, April 28.—(AP)—Newspapers have sold and will continue to sell more merchandise than any other medium yet devised, James G. Stahlman, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, told the New York Advertising club today.

"One of the silliest views held by some advertisers," he said, "is that the public is losing its interest in the press and is turning to other media for its information."

"The daily newspapers are still the primary news disseminators, and, likewise, the most powerful agencies of public opinion."

Stahlman said the fact that the daily newspapers of America have a circulation of more than 42,000,000—an all-time high—is "the best answer to those assertions that reader interest in the press is on the decline."

"The press is still the most powerful agency of opinion in America," he continued.

SPANISH FLEETS CLOSE TO CLASH

HENDAYE, France, April 28.—(AP)—An engagement between the fleets of the insurgents and the Spanish government was narrowly avoided, it was learned today, when insurgent war vessels bombarded government land forces yesterday.

Dispatches from both sides said the insurgent fleet, including the cruisers Canarias and Almirante Cervantes, together with smaller vessels, rained shells on government lines along the Mediterranean Wednesday, especially Alcala de Chivert, north of Castellon.

Barcelona radio orders sent the government ships steaming at forced draft to the area, but their commanders declared they arrived too late to engage the insurgents.
