FRIENDLINESS OF SEC PLEASES UTILITY HEADS
INVITED TO SUBMIT OWN REORGANIZATION PLANS
PERIOD OF GENIALITY IS BELIEVED LIMITED
PUNITIVE STEPS EXPECTED IF FIRMS FAIL TO ACT

WASHINGTON, May 3.—In the past thirty days, the managers of the $13,500,000,000 of capital invested in American public utilities—Wilkie, of Commonwealth and Southern; Groesbeck, of Electric Bond and Share; Fogarty, of the North American Hudson; Carlisle, of Niagara Hudson, and the lesser fellows—have journeyed to Washington to pay their allegiance to the securities and exchange commission.

They have come, like the eiders of Calais, with halteres around their necks. They are the men who led the utilities' bitter fight against government regulation. They are the men who joined in the utilities' costly lost-cause stand against submission to the holding company act, which ended when the supreme court spoke a month ago. They had no reason, these rulers of the great utilities empire, to expect kind treatment from the SEC.

It is unusually interesting to know what treatment they did get, in these days when the disastrous results of prolonged warfare between government and business are at last being recognized. And it is reassuring to be able to report that even Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Groesbeck, Mr. Fogarty and Mr. Wilkie themselves are pleased with the SEC's behavior toward them.

This is, to be sure, only an interim report; the SEC may go berserk tomorrow, as government agencies sometimes do. But, thus far, every effort has been made to enforce the holding company act, to prepare for the simplification and integration of the intricate corporate structures of the utilities in the simplest, most intelligent and least disruptive manner possible.

The men who have most often received the utilities executives, have been the left-wing members of the SEC. Chairman William O. Douglas and Commissioner Jerome N. Frank and Robert E. Healy, these three—the sandy-haired, tough-minded Yale law professor, the brilliant, urbane intellectual, and the leathery and hard-hitting Vermont—have been most feared of all by the utilities executives. Yet, the bogymen have turned out to be surprisingly friendly and accommodating.

"It's up to you," Chairman Douglas has said to his colleagues, "to tell the holding companies themselves to get on with it. We're ready to let the holding companies themselves take the lead in complying with this law. If you work out something reasonably satisfactory to us, we'll take your plan and not bother you with ours."

SPOKESMAN SEES COMPLETE TIE-UP COASTAL SHIPPING

All Members of Maritime Federation Agree to Abide by 'Hot Cargo' Edict Tacoma City Council Is Told

TACOMA, Wash., May 3.—(AP)—Tacoma longshoremen today announced all Tacoma cargo would be declared officially unfair by the Maritime Federation of the Pacific at 1 p. m. today.

T. Thronson made the announcement at the special meeting of the Tacoma city council in an attempt to end the tie-up of all waterfront commerce here. Thronson is a member of the IIA special committee appointed by the Tacoma local in connection with the waterfront closure.

He predicted freely the declaration making Tacoma cargo "hot" might lead to a complete tie-up of all Pacific coast ship traffic. He said all members of the Maritime Federation, and several other unions had agreed to abide by the ban on Tacoma cargo.

Thronson made his statement in the form of a guarantee that Tacoma waterfront employers would not lose by having cargo diverted to other ports during the tie-up here. The ban, he said, would apply to cargo moving from here and trans-shipped elsewhere, and cargoes originally intended for Tacoma but diverted elsewhere.

"Madame Perkins (secretary of labor) had better work fast," Thronson said, "if she wants to avoid a coast-wide strike, because it's beginning, in effect, at 1 p. m. today."

FLORIDA PRIMARY FEATURES BALLOT IN FOUR STATES

(By the Associated Press)

Florida Democrats chose their nominee for United States senator today in a five-cornered contest, whose national aspects made it outstanding among primary elections in four states.

Senator Claude Pepper asked recognition as a consistent supporter of President Roosevelt's policies. He bore the endorsement of James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary.

One of his opponents was Representative Mark Wilcox, who has opposed several White House recommendations. Wilcox as a campaigner criticized the "brainstorm of brain trusters."

Former Governor Dave Sholtz, another candidate, aligned himself with the administration at Washington, calling at the same time for less governmental interference with business. Two other candidates were T. C. Marchant, weekly newspaper publisher, and Finley Moore, head of an extract company.

In South Dakota, Alabama and Indiana, local interest was high but national issues were not so directly involved. All four states were selecting nominees for congress and various state offices.

The South Dakota campaign witnessed a last-minute injection of religious issues. Anti-Catholic handbills were circulated anonymously, and a reward was offered by former Governor Tom Berry for identification of their source.

SENATE APPROVAL GIVEN NAVAL EXPANSION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—The senate approved today the administration's $1,156,000,000 naval expansion bill.

The measure now goes back to the house for action on several major amendments, including a proviso to limit to 35,000 the tonnage of three battleships to be built under the measure—unless the president finds that other nations are building larger vessels.

DALADIER ORDERS INCREASE IN ALL ARMED BRANCHES

Edict by French Premier Also Places New Sacrifices to Support Cost of Modern War Machinery

PARIS, May 3.—(AP)—Increases in man power for all France's armed forces were ordered today by Premier Edouard Daladier, head of the "national defense" government now ruling the nation by decree.

An edict which became law this morning demands more soldiers, sailors and airmen, along with many new sacrifices from Frenchmen to enable the nation to support the cost of the modern machinery of war.

Decreases in the same series increased France's annual tax bill 4,000,000,000 francs ($120,000,000), leaving a flat eight per cent increase in all direct and hidden taxes.

Announcement of the government's intention to enroll additional fighting men was contained in the premier's report to President Albert Lebrun on a decree opening new credit of 4,712,500,000 francs (about $141,375,000) for national defense.

Daladier said this would be used for: Strengthening the army by incorporating an untrained number of reserve officers into the regular service; Increasing the navy's man power from 69,600 to 72,500 men; Increasing the air force man power from 44,000 to 52,500 noncommissioned officers and men.

REPUBLIC STEEL WINS STAY IN NLRB ORDER

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—(AP)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals issued today an order temporarily restraining the national labor relations board from "taking any steps or proceedings" in the board's recent order against the Republic Steel corporation.

The board, declaring the corporation in violation of the Wagner labor relations act, had ordered it to reinstate 8000 employees dismissed during the 1937 "little steel" strike.

MARTIN CHARGES ENEMIES MAINLY GANG ELEMENTS

Governor Says Opposition to Campaign Coming From Camp of Racketeers, Gangsters, Self-Seekers

Gov. Charles H. Martin told a Rotary club luncheon-Forum in the Hotel Medford this afternoon that the forces opposed to him in the gubernatorial campaign are concentrated in one camp, which includes racketeers and gangsters, self-seekers, malcontents who have been refused the offices they have sought and the radical element which abhors "my stand for the American form of government."

In general his campaign is opposed by the "elements of discontent and darkness," the governor declared in his campaign address which was broadcast by KNED.

Overlook Crowd.

The hotel's main dining room was filled to overflowing. The luncheon accommodations were to have been limited to 200, but at the last minute room was made for 25 more.

More than 1000 who came at the last minute to attend the lunch were turned away. Scores of others, after eating in other parts of the hotel or elsewhere, filtered into the dining room or the mezzanine balcony overlooking the dining room to hear the governor's talk. In all, well over 3000 were packed into the dining room.

The Rev. E. S. Bartlam, retiring Rotary president, presided. He turned the chairmanship over to E. C. Corn, program chairman, for the introduction of the governor. During the luncheon a Medford Glee Club quartet sang two members.

Delegations were present from Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Ashland, Eagle Point and other southern Oregon cities.

Jokingly Governor Martin avowed he had to be careful what he said during the primary campaign and so he would have to read his address. Characteristically, however, he interposed from time to time, much to the enjoyment of the large audience.

Liberty Retained Here.

Speaking seriously of what he termed "subversive elements" who seek dictatorial power, the governor interposed: "You down here in the Rogue river valley have not submitted to dictation and you have retained your liberties."

"It is only natural that my policy of keeping the selfish looters in check and out of circulation has aroused antagonism," the governor said. "These selfish scoundrels never are content and are always vengeful especially when they can attack undetected and at no risk to themselves. I am minded that these types are opposed to me."

"We must continue the fight against those who would rob us. Remember that our riches in resources are bound to attract the pirates and the plunderer. They look with greedy eyes upon Oregon and would gain control for their own ends. These ends do not include the welfare of the good people of the state. These ends are loot and loot, leaving the wreckage to the victims."

"I am confident that the good substantial people of this state want an administration of law and order without fear or favor and that they will be giving to the support of those who are ready to do so that we can work and live in security and safety. The decision and the ultimate results are in your hands. You can choose now whether you will go ahead and be rich or turn the state over to those whose ideas of sacking and pillaging are as vicious and as self-centered as those of the pirates of the Spanish Main."

The governor said he began his "goon" prosecution to free the laboring man from "leeches" and "vampires." By so doing, he added, "we have made available the greatest resource we possess—our man-power."

No one denies the worker the right to organize and conduct his organization on sound democratic principles. Governor Martin said. The worker, he added, must be protected in his fundamental rights protected from "racketeers and gangsters" and from "the forces of reaction and selfish employers who would grind the worker into the dust."

Window Curtains Furnish Dresses In Latest Mode

CHICAGO, May 3.—(AP)—If you've got a window curtain left over, (this is intended for women), just make it up into a dress and be in step with the new idea of clothes and furniture matching or harmonizing.

This trend was noted today at the American Furniture Mart's spring trade market, for some of the new types of materials are doubling in clothes and in upholstery.

And the colors of both are in accord—there's a soft upholstered, industry pink, brocade, straight chairs with seats of luggage tan leather, occasional chairs in aquamarine.

One of the revivals is the tester bed (canopy bed to you) with canopy and flounced bedspread of dotted swiss, and there are dresses of dotted swiss as well as window curtains.

NAZARENE OFFICIALS OF PACIFIC REGION HERE FOR CONCLAVE

Delegations have been arriving constantly for the North Pacific district assembly, representing the Church of the Nazarene, including delegates from western Canada, western Washington and western Oregon; delegates from the six churches which comprise this area. When all have registered there will be approximately 300 out-of-town guests.

Distant arrivals among denominational leaders include Dr. J. G. Morrison, general superintendent; Dr. C. Warren Jones, general missionary secretary; Dr. E. J. Fleming, general secretary of the denomination; and P. H. Lunn, associate member of the publishing house in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Lunn stated today that the Nazarene publishing house does a gross business now of $255,000 annually and has operated with a substantial profit all during the depression.

Dr. Jones addressed the assembly at the missionary rally last night. His message was divided into three phases—The Church, Holiness and Missions.

Tonight the district assembly will be formally welcomed to Medford and southern Oregon through addresses of welcome by Rev. Fred M. Weatherford, host pastor; by Rev. Joseph Knotts, Medford's senior pastor and pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church; Mayor T. S. Wiley of Ashland; Dr. Sherman L. Divine, president of the Medford Ministerial association, and pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. E. E. Martin, district superintendent of the visiting delegation.

Dr. Morrison, general superintendent and presiding officer of the district assembly, will be heard in the closing address.

The public is invited to all of the services.

To a higher plane of economic and cultural life than ever before achieved by any people in the history of the world.

"Further, through proper and sound utilization, we can enjoy the benefits of these resources and their latent ability to produce wealth for us and at the same time place our inventory on a sustained yield basis through reproduction that will insure these benefits into perpetuity for the generations yet to come.

Development Program

"My program calls for development and conservation. I would replace the era of exploitation and looting of our natural resources with one that will conserve for all time and at the same time enable us to create wealth through using the natural yield."

"The conversion of raw materials into finished products is a phase of the problem that must be given immediate consideration, Governor Martin asserted.

"Too frequently Oregon loses the full benefit of its resources through shipping the raw materials to processors outside of the state. . . . There is no reason why our forest products, our farm products, our mineral products—in fact, everything we produce in Oregon—should not leave this state ready for the consumer. That would mean more jobs for our people and higher income for all of us."

The governor pleaded for an end to quibbling and for concerted action to carry the state forward.

"I urge you all to unite and work for Oregon, making use of the sound doctrine of the Golden Rule. Let's take off our coats and get to work," the governor concluded.

PORTLAND, May 3.—(AP)—J. D. Ross, Bonneville dam administrator, left for Washington last night to submit a proposed power rate schedule to the federal power policy commission.

ROMAN RECEPTION FOR HITLER TOPS ANCIENT GRANDEUR

Mussolini and King Greet Visiting Dictator at Specially Constructed Station—Thousands Jam Streets

ROME, May 3.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler arrived at Rome's Ostiense station tonight for the state visit which is to dramatize the solidarity of Europe's two great fascist states.

The German dictator's special train rolled in at 8:30 p. m. (2:30 p. m. E. S. T.) after a triumphal all-day journey across northern Italy from the Alpine barrier of the Brenner Pass to the eternal city.

Rome was prepared with a reception surpassing in size and grandeur any of the days of the Caesars.

Hitler and Benito Mussolini, makers of modern history, met for the third time when the German fuhrer stepped from his train at the station, built for his coming.

Mussolini and King Vittorio Emanuele walked up to greet him. They shook hands with him as bands blared forth fascist and Nazi music.

Peter all along the 400-mile route from Brenner pass, Hitler found an overwhelming Roman salute awaiting the station and along the Via Aosta Hitler, which was used for the first time.

On the sides of many freshly painted buildings along the railway the German leader could read excerpts from Mussolini's speeches. One of these was taken from II Duce's defense of the Italian government's attitude toward Germany's absorption of Austria.

"We do not discuss our frontiers; we defend them."

In Rome police intensified their already strict surveillance as a precaution against any attempt on Hitler's life. Every traveler arriving in the city was subjected to minute inspection of his baggage. Persons invited to attend the celebrations were warned against carrying cameras or packages of any kind.

SIMONE REFUSES IDENTIFY FRIEND

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—(AP)—While Simone Simon's secretary remained in jail, the film colony today speculated on the identity of the petite actress' mysterious friend.

To his friend, Miss Simon testified yesterday, she gave a set of gold keys to her home, pajamas, gold hairbrushes, dressing gown and slippers.

The testimony was given at the preliminary hearing of Sandra Martin, ex-secretary of the screen actress, who is charged with stealing $11,000 from her employer.

Miss Martin was remanded to the county jail pending her arraignment May 18. She is being held in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Miss Simon told of her gift to the unnamed friend when Defense Attorney William E. Simpson cross-examined her. He tried to bring out that a $738 check, signed by Miss Martin, was to cover money she advanced to the actress for purchase of the gifts.
