15 CCC MEN WILL ESTABLISH CAMP IN ALASKA AREA

Fifteen CCC enrollees from Oregon camps in the Medford district and a foreman from Camp Prescott will leave for Alaska next week to establish a summer camp in the Mt. McKinley national park.

James V. McGowan, junior foreman at Prescott who has been employed here for the past several years on Prescott park and Crater Lake national park projects, will in all probability be among the park service personnel leaving Seattle May 18 on the transport for Alaska. McGowan has volunteered for the assignment and though definite word has not been received, it is expected that he will be among those selected, according to Robert Kent, project superintendent at Camp Prescott.

Fifteen enrollees from Camp Bly and Camp South Umpqua Falls will be selected by Medford district headquarters and it is possible some of these may be from Jackson county. The war department has been asked by the national park service to select 200 high calibre men from Oregon and Washington companies and the Medford district has been given a quota of 15. Only men volunteering for the Alaska assignment will be chosen.

The men will take their clothing and equipment with them and will establish a camp at the base of Mt. McKinley, highest mountain in North America. They will remain there until September, according to present plans and will be engaged on park service projects.

Enthusiasm for the Alaska trip was shown at Camp Bly today when the company was notified of the plans, and dozens of men volunteered, according to Lieut. Philo D. Smith, district adjutant. The lie will probably be made up late today, Smith said.

P.T.A. Activities

Oak Grove P.T.A. will convene at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the school gymnasium. Installation of officers will be followed by a talk by Frank Hull on immigration bills. Musical selections will be presented by the Jacksonville band. Oak Grove extension unit will have charge of the tea hour for the benefit of the 4-H clubs.

COVER SPRAY FOR MOTHS DUE SOON

First cover spray for control of first brood codling moth on all varieties of pears and apples should be completed on May 21, according to C. B. Cordy, assistant county agent and L. G. Gentner, entomologist of the Southern Oregon experiment station.

Where worm infestation has been light use 3 pounds of arsenate of lead plus 1-4 to 1-3 pound of spreader.

If worms have been a problem use 3 pounds of arsenate of lead, 1-4 gallon of light medium or medium summer oil emulsion, plus 1-3 pound of spreader. On apples, use light summer oil emulsion.

In addition to this if the codling moth population is to be reduced, it will be necessary to use at least one-third more spray per tree than was used last year.

TRANSIENT HELD FOR GRAND JURY ON THEFT COUNT

Charged with larceny from a building, John Hammond, 19, of Chicago waived preliminary hearing in justice of the peace court this morning and is being held to await action of the grand jury. Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman set bail at $1500.

City police arrested Hammond yesterday afternoon on North Riverside avenue after Mrs. A. W. Walker said he stole four $1 bills from her purse, which was lying in the Walker reality office at 223 North Riverside avenue. She told police she was standing in front of the office when Hammond came out and, because she hadn't seen him enter and realizing there was no attendant inside, she became suspicious. Investigating, she reported to police the bills were missing, and Hammond was picked up a short time later.
