

Lyons and Chick Grapple Main Event Tonight Without Time Limit

REMATCH SIGNED AFTER HOT DRAW ON CARD BEFORE

Black Secret and Tony Garibaldi to Trade Grips in Middle Event — Pacer and Britt Will Open Show

Red Lyons, hefty Joplin Ghost, and Bobby Chick, ex-light heavyweight champion of the world, go to the post in a no-time-limit, finish match in the Medford armory tonight. Following their sensational draw last week, in which they went the full 60 minutes with neither gaining a tumble, Promoter Mack Lillard made the proposition that they battle it out this week until one or the other was flopped twice. Both grapplers readily agreed to the bout, and local fans are expecting one of the best squabbles of the current season.

Meeting in the center engagement will be the Black Secret, defater of Sgt. Bob Kenaston last Monday and a number one villain, and Tony Garibaldi, a clean, scientific mat worker from Italy. Making his first showing here last Monday, Garibaldi gave Fritz Hanson a sound trouncing, proving that he is capable of taking care of himself against meanies.

Lefty Pacer of Indiana and Floyd Britt of Lacey, Kan., two newcomers to southern Oregon, will open the card in a six-round, two-out-of-three-fall match. Both grapplers are reported to be masters of every scientific maneuver, and a sparkling exhibition is expected. Britt is a brother of Alvin Britt, former junior heavyweight champion of the world. Tonight will mark the last appearance here for several months of Red Lyons, a great drawing card and riled one of the industry's top-notchers. Promoter Lillard was able to sign Lyons for only two weeks, as the Ghost is in great demand in larger wrestling centers.

Although usually a dirty grappler, Lyons failed to cut loose with many unorthodox tactics in his Chick match last week, and fans are wondering if he will do so tonight, or attempt to whip his opponent with legitimate maneuvers.

To Tackle Tony Garibaldi

The Black Secret (above), hated hooded monster, gets a chance to ply his villainous tactics against Tony Garibaldi tonight in the middle grapple bout at the Medford armory. Last week the masked bad man wallowed Bob Kenaston.

Father and Son Team Wins Catfish Championship While 5,000 Spectators Applaud

Before 5000 cheering spectators a Medford father-son team won the national catfish derby championship at Emigrant lake near Ashland yesterday afternoon. Twenty-three teams competed.

The Grants Pass aggregation, defending title-holder, went down to ignominious defeat, catching not a single catfish. The sum total of their two hours of fishing consisted of a piece of snagged log and a deceased frog.

The team bringing the handsome gold loving cup to Medford was composed of J. P. McGonagle, Clarence McGonagle and David McGonagle. Enticed as the Dadson team, they landed 16 catfish for top honors.

Ideal spot.

The sloping hills of Emigrant lake made an ideal amphitheater for the great throng of spectators. The hills provided a perfect view from any angle or position while the Fluhrer loud-speaking system kept the spectators informed of everything that went on. The afternoon was crowded with events, from the coronation of the derby queen at 1:45 to the awarding of the last prize shortly after 5. Merriment reigned supreme and the spectators indicated their enjoyment by applause, cheers and the honking of automobile horns.

Medford's mayor, Charles C. Furness, was given an emotion when he crowned Pearl Woodski queen of the catfish derby. He was the only one of the five mayors who had been invited to officiate to put in an appearance and he was warmly applauded for his courtesy and sportsmanship.

Frank DeSouza, master of ceremonies of the National Catfish Derby association, presided at the microphone and kept things moving at a lively clip all afternoon. He was master of the situation at all times.

Queen Popular

Mr. DeSouza was ably assisted by Frank Perl, association president, Kenneth Anthony, secretary-treasurer, and William Grenbemer, executive committeeman. They had prepared the groundwork and the thoroughness of their planning was evidenced by the smoothness with which the extensive program was carried out. Most of the entertainment features had been planned by George Hunt before illness compelled him to withdraw.

Queen Pearl, lovely in her royal robes, proved a gracious and popular monarch. Her court of beautiful attendants and handsome princes added a gala note to the event.

After the catfish contestants were started on their way at 2 p. m., the afternoon's frivolity began in earnest. First sparkle of the glittery program was the presentation of a complete contraption described as an angle worm stretcher. It was awarded to Mrs. Russell D. Davis for her difficulty in finding enough angle worms for the fishermen.

The young woman was called to the lake platform, but she declined to give a speech. With her was Isobel Stuart, Hollywood script girl and author of two recent articles in Collier's weekly who was introduced to the throng by Mr. DeSouza.

An unexpected feature was the introduction of Kip, Heine Fluhrer's great dog, who rescued a man from drowning in Klamath lake. The heroic animal acknowledged the crowd's applause by barking into the microphone.

Losers Save Allbit

So cocky was Grants Pass that it entered only a two-man team, announcing that it did not need the full-strength three-man team to repeat its championship performance of a year ago. The team was composed of Luke Wyatt and John Williams.

The losing champions were sportsmen to the end; they offered no excuses.

"It was a fair contest and we're over-confident and that's all there is to it. We'll be here again next year to do our best to recapture the championship."

The Grants Pass anglers, however, did not go home without a prize. They received an award for being the team that came the greatest distance, 83 miles.

Second in the team competition was Don Nosler of Ashland. Making up the whole team by himself, he caught 15 catfish, one behind the champions.

The junior championship crown was awarded to the Phoenix team composed of Robert Vroman, Marvin Madden and Junior Groves. They were tops in the junior division of the derby.

Third team prize went to the Cheviots, composed of Tom Pitcock, Clarence Galey and E. Childerth of Medford. They landed ten big catfish.

Fay Margard received the prize for the largest catch by a woman. Wanda Coe, registered from Trail, but well known in Medford, took the woman's prize for the smallest catch above zero. She landed one catfish.

Ben Swindler of Trail took first prize for the largest catfish of the day. He was teamed with Wanda Coe and Dr. W. W. Coe. Charles Rose got a prize for catching a turtle instead of a catfish.

With Bill Rathke hurling masterful baseball and his teammates contributing spectacular support both at bat and afield, Medford's Craters opened their Southern Oregon league home season yesterday afternoon at the high school park with a frisky 6 to 1 victory over the Grants Pass Merchants.

A large opening-day crowd saw Rathke scatter 6 hits over 8 innings with deadly effectiveness and leave 8 Merchants batters standing at the plate. He missed a shutout when Grants Pass bunched two blows in the eighth, Roger's double and Koll's single doing the work. In no other frame did the Merchants rap out more than one hit. Southpaw Lowell Brown hurled the ninth inning and faced only three batters.

Craters Start Early

While their stocky right-hander was turning in a sweet exhibition the Craters didn't hesitate in taking care of the offensive phase. They hopped on Oeville Hoffman, lanky right-hander, for three tallies in the first heat, scelled him out of the box in the second by scoring twice more, and collected their final marker in the sixth off Glen Elliott, an 18-year old southpaw from Myrtle Creek high school. All in all the Medforders hammered out 11 safeties, including a home run walk-off by Rathke, himself, a triple by Manager Rickert and a double by Dick Lewis.

It was a great pitchers battle between Rathke and Elliott, after the latter relieved Hoffman with one out in the second inning. Elliott, who looks like a real prospect, broke a huge southpaw curve past five Crater hitters for the third strike and allowed only one run in his six 2-3 innings of toil.

Three Double Plays

The Medford club gave Rathke brilliant support in the field, coming up with three dazzling double plays. In the second inning, Drolette, in the second inning, Elliott, who looks like a real prospect, broke a huge southpaw curve past five Crater hitters for the third strike and allowed only one run in his six 2-3 innings of toil.

Cliff "Chief" McLean's blazing single into center field was the big punch in the Craters' three-run first inning outburst. With one away, Rickert got hit by a pitched ball and went to second on Lewis' Texas leaguer into center. Hoffard forced Lewis at second, but Rickert went to third and Hoffard immediately stole second to set the stage. The Indian catcher then scored Rickert and Hoffard with a blow to center. McLean crossed the plate when, after stealing second, the ball went into the outfield and Chuck Ostrom heaved it home a mile wide of the plate.

Rathke Homes

Rathke, first man up in the second, rifled a drive into left center and made the complete circuit before it could be retrieved. When Rickert tripled to left center and scored on a passed ball, Manager Jud Pernoll yanked Hoffman and sent Elliott to the rubber. Lewis greeted the southpaw with a double to right.

PRESCOTT BOXER WINS MAIN BOUT AT ELKS SMOKER

Troy King, 175, Camp Prescott, defeated Jim Miner, 171, South Fork, with a first round technical knockout in the main event on the CCC boxing card at the Elks' temple Saturday evening.

The fight was short-lived, King dazing Miner with hard rights to the jaw early in the round and Referee Fred Erickson stopping the bout before the end of the round.

The best bout of the evening was for nearly three rounds, both being knocked to the canvas twice. Moore showed an early advantage but Thompson was awarded the nod on a foul when Jojo unintentionally dropped one out of bounds.

Bill Weaver, 153, Applegate, defeated Jack Kennedy, 151, Prescott, in an exciting three-rounder which kept the audience in an uproar.

Bill Byrd, 147, Wimer, defeated James Hamlin, 145, Prescott, in another hit three-rounder. Both boys hit 'reel and gave the crowd a good run for its money.

In a good curtain raiser, Roy Heger, 120, South Fork, won the nod over Harry Burns, 121, Applegate.

The card was the first in many months and was well received. The Elks have sponsored CCC bouts in cooperation with Medford district headquarters for the past three years and have contributed greatly to the interest in the sport among the camps of the district.

Billy Hulen says:

Tiger Tracksters Should Give Bend Battle at O. S. C.

Bend or Medford, with the Tigers near an even shot to lug home the park.

The more this great aggregation of Bill Bowerman's performers, the more apparent it becomes that Bend's mighty Lava Bears, last year's champs and figured to go to face a whale of a battle next Saturday at Corvallis in the annual Oregon state track and field championships.

With practically the same outfit that romped away with the title last season, the central Oregonians can't be placed in any other role than the favorites. However, this Bend and Black Medford squad, winners of the Bill Hayward relays against 18 of the most powerful teams west of the Cascades and overwhelming of the southern Oregon district meet here last Saturday, must certainly be considered at least the second choice.

Of course, some other team may go red hot when the chips are down and upset the appraisals of both Bend and Medford, but it doesn't seem likely. The Tigers proved in the Hayward affair that they are the peer of any prep outfit in the Willamette valley, including Salem, Eugene, Corvallis, Albany and what have you, and decisively demonstrated last Saturday that no team in southern or southwestern Oregon can be seriously considered. With Bend unquestionably the class of eastern and central Oregon, and probably of most other parts, you have the picture. On paper, it's Bend versus Medford.

The Tigers will be especially strong in the hurdles, half-mile, mile, broad-jump, high jump and relay. Bob Newland, a member of Coach Bowerman's junior team, surprised by winning the high hurdles last Saturday in 23 seconds flat, with Martin Luther right behind. Both qualified for the state meet. Luther grabbed the high hurdles in 13.9, so will be entered in both events.

Chris Barker ran a nice mile in 4:47.2. Werner turned in a great half-mile in 2:04.8, and will be one of the favorites in that event. Don Horner went 5 feet 10 1/2 inches in the high jump for the best performance of his career. Bob Ettinger broad-jumped 20 feet 2 1/2 inches to win the event, with Dick Finch, another member of the junior team, finishing second, and the relay team of Ettinger, Verbeik, Finch and Crosby flew over the half-mile route in 1:36. The other Tigers qualifying for the state show were Bob Verbeik, who finished behind Klamath Falls' Hootin in the 440, Ray Johnson, and to Curry of Lakeview in the 220 and Louis Thurman, second in the javelin. These are the 12 performers who will battle it out against the state's best.

Now, merely as a matter of comparison on paper, let's look at some of the marks Bend tracksters produced two weeks ago in swamping Klamath Falls, 68 to 46 1/2. Kientofski, state mile champion last season, ran the distance in 4:48 against the Pellans. That's eight tenths of a second slower than it was stopped off by Barker

Saturday, Newby of the Lava Bears won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 4 1/2 inches, considerable below former's hop of 5 feet 10 1/2 inches in the southern Oregon district meet. Nelson, winning the half-mile against Klamath Falls, stepped the distance in 2:08.5. Russ Werner did it here Saturday in 2:04.8. And, the Bend relay team of Lindstrom, Langford, Newby and Dickson, won from the Pellans in 1:37.7, one second and seven-tenths slower than the Tigers raced over the route Saturday.

So far, the comparison on paper favors the Tigers exclusively, but actually such may not be the case. The above Medford marks are the best made by Tigers performers in competition this season, while Bend athletes may have turned in better records in other meets.

Here are some events which seem to give the Lava Bears the edge. Dyer won the 220-yard dash against Klamath Falls in 23.6, while Medford's state meet entry, Freshman Ray Johnson, finished second in the southern Oregon affair, won by Curry of Lakeview in 23 flat. Johnson was about one second behind Curry, which gives Bend a slight edge. Dickson ran the low hurdles in 23.5, in comparison to Newland's time of 25 flat, and Dickson also negotiated the high hurdles in 15.7 to Luther's 15.5. Again, Dickson leaped 21 feet 1/2 inch in the broad jump, while Ettinger was one foot two inches shy of that mark in a meet here Saturday. And Sawyer beat Klamath Falls in the 440 in the time of 54.7, while Medford's Verbeik placed second here as Hootin won in 53.3.

So, on the face of past performances by Bend in one meet and by Medford in the district affair, it looks like the Tigers are stronger in the mile, high-jump, half-mile and relay, while the central Oregonians are more powerful in the 220, high and low hurdles, 440 and broad jump.

LOCAL RIFLEMEN FIRST IN YREKA

With three of their first line shooters absent, the Medford Rifle club started outdoor competition yesterday at Yreka. The match included both telescopic and metallic sight events.

Otto Howard earned first place with telescopic sights in the morning with a 399 to best Paul Dodge of Yreka by one point. Using iron sights in the afternoon Medford made a clean sweep. Shelby Tuttle taking first with 397, Mrs. Tuttle second, Otto Howard third and Ed Lull fourth.

The grand aggregate resulted in a battle between Medford shooters for first and second and fourth and fifth places. Shelby Tuttle "out niggered" Howard for first, while Mrs. Tuttle outranked Lull for fourth place. Paul Dodge of Yreka earned a third by one point over fourth and fifth places. In the team matches, Medford took both events, shooting the same team in each.

Considerable outside interest is being shown in the coming registered matches to be held here May 29-30, with requests for programs still coming from widely scattered points.

S and 106 ORILL

By W. Leonard.

for one thing or another were Sheriff A. C. Burr for Marion county who came to Medford by plane so that he might help officiate; George Callas, for ably representing the Ashland Tidings; Ted Smith, Ray Nugent, Richard Singler and Wayne Smith. Queen Pearl also was the recipient of several gifts for her gracious reign.

The prize for the spectator coming the greatest distance was awarded to Mrs. B. R. Motley of Delton. Mont. J. H. Hart of Plush, Ore., received the prize for being the man coming the greatest distance.

R. B. Beeson of Medford was rewarded with a prize for being the oldest person present. He was born on March 21, 1847. Oldest woman present was Mrs. C. M. Haynes who was born September 8, 1869. She also received a prize.

The great badger fight ended in a draw. Grenbemer and Sheriff Burk staging the scrap to the mad cheers of the throng.

Candidates Mike Shy.

Only one of the numerous program numbers petered out. That was the fish story-telling contest for candidates for 'public office' All the candidates got microphone 'right and forgot their yarns. Most of them said, "Hello, everybody," gulped, and ran for safety. Among the candidates were Sheriff Burk, Rudy Singler, Otto Carter, Nick Brophy, Gordon L. Schermerhorn and Herb Moore.

Numerous games and contests were held during the afternoon for spectators, children and adults, all of which contributed to the general merriment. Prizes were awarded in all events.

Coleman Too Late

Judge Bill Coleman appeared with a big string of catfish after the winners had been announced, saying he was reporting late because he didn't hear the closing gun and demanding that the judging be reopened so that he might win the championship. Under cross-examination, however, he broke down and confessed the fish were caught by three boys while he was attending the baseball game in Medford.

The prizes were donated by Lee's Men's Shop, Boyd's Market, Lamport's, Piche's, City Cleaning & Dressing company, Hansen Hardware, Lost River Dairy, Mann's Department Store, Reinhart & Barker, Strahan's Meat Market, Hubbard Brothers, Medford Service Station, Seider's Dairy, Monarch Seed & Feed, the What-Nut, West Side Pharmacy, Medford Flower Shop, Andy's Super Service, Trowbridge & Figg, Safeway Store, Pantorium, Office Stationery & Supply, Ethelwyn's Beauty Salon and Modern Plumbing & Sheet Metal company.

The crowd was treated to some really low comedy when Mr. DeSouza expelled his committee staff to enter into a foot race with a bunch of boys, while he sat in a comfortable chair and gave a running broadcast of the event. A few minutes later the committee got even with the master of ceremonies by forcing him to sing over the microphone. He sang a sentimental ballad in a tremulous baritone. He was not asked for an encore.

THREE SHOOTERS TIE IN PORTLAND EVENT

PORTLAND, May 15.—(AP)—Ray Glass, Eugene, Bernard Griffin, Corvallis, and Frank Troeh, Portland, tied at 99 dead birds in the 16-yard singles of the Portland Gun club registered trapshoot Sunday.

A field of 60, including many of the state's outstanding trap artists, competed in the two-day meet.

Oscar Shiffer, Timber, won the sliding handicap with 48 out of 50, and Edward Beck, Cottage Grove, ran 50 straight to take the regular handicap.

Other scores in the 16-yard, sliding handicap and regular handicap included:

S. G. Mendenhall, Grants Pass—16 yards, 99; sliding handicap, 46; regular handicap, 47.

OLD RUSE AIDS IN ASHLAND WIN

Scoring all their runs in the seventh inning, Ashland Lithians defeated Yreka, Cal. at Yreka yesterday afternoon, 4 to 3, in a Southern Oregon league baseball game. The losers tallied three times in the third.

The Lithians won the game on singles by Montgomery, Lewis and Gitzen, a double by Schonneker and a single by McNeese. Promoter Lillard was able to sign Lyons for only two weeks, as the Ghost is in great demand in larger wrestling centers.

Although usually a dirty grappler, Lyons failed to cut loose with many unorthodox tactics in his Chick match last week, and fans are wondering if he will do so tonight, or attempt to whip his opponent with legitimate maneuvers.
