News of 4-H CLUBS

(By Bryan Yorton.)

A class of Shropshire ewes was judged at the home of Carl Von der Hellen, May 7, by a group of 4-H club members.

There were 35 club members present, 11 from Lake Creek, 6 from Eagle Point, 12 from Antelope and 6 from the sheep club of Lost Creek.

C. D. Conrad, county club leader, told the clubs what to look for in judging sheep.

Friends wish to congratulate Merton Bradshaw of Lake Creek on his winning second place at the Pacific International exposition at San Francisco with his steer.

After judging sheep at Mr. Von der Hellen's the members went to Bill Bigham's to judge a class of Chester White pigs.

Antelope club members hope that those present had an interesting time and procured something of help to them in further judging tours.

(By Leonard Ferns.)

Fern Valley 4-H livestock club held the last meeting at the Fern Valley school, May 13.

Our leader, Mr. Lewis, conducted the meeting. Members chosen to go to Corvallis summer school were Ruth Williams, age 13; Ernest Lytle, 12, and Donald Lewis, 14. All have had the required two years of club work. The money for the scholarships was raised by the club by a dance, pie social and box social, with a remaining amount to be used towards our part on the 4-H club scales.

Leonard Ferns was presented with a last year's scholarship, given through the courtesy of Copco. He also has had two years of club work.

A new member was enrolled, Dale Job, with a project of sheep. This brings enrollment up to 18 members, about 90 percent of Fern Valley's grade school pupils now enrolled in club work. Visitors at this meeting were Mrs. Beery, Mrs. Lewis, Mr. Lytle and our county club agent, Mr. Conrad, and Mrs. Conrad.

Portland Attorney Wins Ross Award

PORTLAND, May 17.—(AP)—Albert E. Stephan, 32, of Portland, attorney for the interstate commerce commission in Oregon and Washington, was notified today he had received the $3000 Ross award given annually for the best paper submitted to the American Bar association discussing some important topic in the field of law and the administration of justice.

The subject of his 5000-word paper was "the extent to which fact finding boards should be bound by rules of evidence."
