SHERIFF SPREADS BALLOT BOXES TO PRECINCT PLACES

Distribution of ballot boxes for the primary election Friday to the 70 precincts of Jackson county was completed late yesterday by the sheriff's office. The locked boxes were left in custody of the election judges.

County Assessor J. B. (Bill) Coleman predicted "not more than fifty per cent, but more likely forty per cent of the registered vote will go to the polls." The county registration is 17,361.

Assessor Coleman, a veteran political observer of these parts, says this has been the calmest campaign in his memory, with no local interest except in the Democratic contest for the governorship. He predicts Martin will carry Jackson county, over Hess by a substantial margin. There is a strong Martin sentiment in this section, he asserts.

Sprague is figured to carry the county, over Sam Brown rated as the second strongest entry for the Republican governorship nomination. Brown's strength lies chiefly in the rural precincts.

With the double boards operating in the larger precincts of the county, a fast count is expected. Twenty-two absentee ballots have been issued by the county clerk's office. Some of these have been cast. All absentee ballots will be counted in the precincts, where the absentee resides.

K. Crews, junior district agent of the U. S. biological survey, Charles Elmore has been selected by Mr. Crews as foreman. The foreman and the poison are furnished by the federal and state governments without cost to the farmers contributing the labor.

The program has been endorsed by Robert G. Fowler, county agent, who asks the cooperation of the farmers. The farmers are requested to meet with Mr. Elmore to receive the poison and instructions as to its use. A meeting schedule has been partly completed and other meetings are being arranged, Mr. Fowler said. At the meetings farmers will be organized into groups for war on the destructive and potential plague-carrying pests.

The incomplete schedule of meetings follows: the sessions to be held in each case from 8:30 to 9 p.m.: Upper Applegate, May 19; Applegate, May 20; Central Point, May 21; Sams Valley, May 24 and 25; Beagle, May 26; Lake Creek, May 31; Griffin Creek, June 1; Phoenix, June 4; Talent, June 6 and 7; Bellview, June 8, and Upper Rogue June 9.

At all these places excepting Beagle the meetings will be held in the Grange hall. At Beagle the meeting will be held in the general store.

They can fry eggs on their wishbones

SINGULARLY unneighborly is the disposition of the Motilones Indians who dwell dourly in the far jungles of Venezuela—and that fact has just now set time back by centuries.

When oil drillers braved the tropic tangle of the Rio de Oro region to seek rich oil reserves, the Motilones welcomed them with fiercely resentful arrows.

You may smile to think of these as bow-and-arrow days. But the oil men found an arrow was just as unpleasant a way to die as any. By radio they sent an SOS call for something just as obsolete as arrow or battle-ax. They wanted shirts of mail.

Now they work—safely—in "iron kimonos" such as Richard the Lionhearted wore. In tropic heat they sizzle like a skinner. But the men have nothing to worry about except mosquitoes—and snakes—and fever.

Pioneers of oil go into both the back-country of the world and the hinterland of time to the end that the public's supply of petroleum shall not fail. In 1595, mail-clad Sir Walter Raleigh received similar hospitality from the ancestors of these Indians, or their close cousins, along the River Orinoco. He sought Manoa, a South American El Dorado. The modern mail-clad explorers seek a liquid treasure Sir Walter never heard of.

ATTENTION REPUBLICANS:

Don't Take the Democratic Bait!

The Democratic organization, driven to desperation, is requesting Republicans by letter addressed to them and by editorials in the local paper to write in the name of Governor Martin, the Democratic candidate for Governor, as the Republican voters' choice.

This is to advise all Republican voters that the election laws are such that a Republican vote cast for Martin for Governor will be a total loss of that voter's vote, for such vote cast in the primaries cannot be counted for Martin as the Democratic candidate for Governor. The law prohibits it.

The purpose of this Democratic plan is to take as many votes away from a strong Republican candidate as possible and in this manner accomplish the nomination of a weak Republican candidate and play into the hands of the Democratic party.

Any Republican voter who casts his vote for Martin in the election this coming Friday will be wasting his vote. It will not be counted for Martin as the Democratic candidate. Don't be deluded into pulling chestnuts out of the fire for the Democratic party.

Republicans don't need the advice of the Democratic party as to how to vote. We have strong able men seeking the Republican nomination for Governor. Go to the polls Friday and vote your choice of Republicans for the Republican nomination for Governor.
