

RESEARCH IN USE OF CROP SURPLUS MAY BE SHELVED

Economy and State Rivalry Peril Plan for Laboratories — Virtually Every State Issues Big.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—Economy and state rivalry threaten to shelve a national venture in putting science to work for the farmer in seeking out hundreds of new uses for surplus agricultural crops.

A congress deep in the study of the farm problem approved establishment of four regional research laboratories to cost $1,000,000 a year each to investigate ways of turning cost-depressing surpluses into profits—a plan envisioned by its proponents as the "only way out" for the farmer.

Presentation of the first 1938 Buddy Poppy to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, by 6-year-old Mary Jane Colgan, of the V. F. W. National Home for war orphans, Eaton Rapids, Mich., officially launched the countrywide annual sale of the copyrighted poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States

News of 4-H CLUBS

(By Ruth Weems.) Beagle 4-H club left May 14 on its overnight trip. Due to an attack of poison oak, one member, Ina Pearl Lucas, could not complete the required ten meetings.

(By Louise Britton.) The following boys and girls of Griffin Creek exhibited their handiwork at the extension unit's 9th birthday exhibit at Medford high school:

Zelda Gay, sewing club No. 1, breakfast cloth, zipper purse, needle case, pin-cushion and sampler.

Louise Britton, sewing No. 2, tea towel, hot-dish holder, dress and apron.

Cooking No. 2, Josephine Arnold, Helen Zash and Louise Britton, each a sponge cake.

Glenn and Melvin Hall, handcraft: Barney Britton, needle rack, waste-paper basket, whisk broom holder and taboret.

Griffin Creek 4-H clubs met in the auditorium, May 3.

John Darby showed the boys how to make the miter-box. He wrote the out numbers from 1 to 100 and the boy who guessed the number nearest to the one which he drew was to be given this miter-box.

Girls in sewing No. 1 are working on their samplers.

The leader for sewing No. 2 was absent and Mrs. Conger took her place. Most of the girls have finished their dresses.

Cooking No. 2 discussed a tea party to be held at the home of Betty Osborn for their mothers, May 7.

The following girls served tea, cup cakes and sandwiches: Betty Osborn, Josephine Arnold, Helen Zash, Afton Guches. They also put on a program for their mothers and guests.

Helen Zash read a poem; Betty Osborn read a story written by herself. After that they sang songs and gave yells.

Mrs. Pich and Mrs. Jackway were visitors. Mrs. Ray Guches, Mrs. Jim Arnold and Mrs. Osborn were the mothers honored.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19.—(AP)—Robert York, 18, a prisoner at Indiana reformatory, was released in custody of a guard today to attend his mother's funeral. To save the family "face", Guard H. E. Phillips removed the handcuffs. While all heads were bowed in prayer, York quietly moved out the back door and escaped.
