ANNUAL PLAY DAY HELD BY SCHOOLS APPLIGATE REGION

BIG APPLIGATE, May 21.—(Spl.) Thursday was a big day for 175 grade school youngsters of the Appligate district who met at Ruch for sixth annual play day. Contrary to popular opinion, childhood does have its heartaches. A wee girl forgot her tennis shoes bought just for the occasion; prize ribbons wouldn't quite reach and some had to be cut in half, a little boy felt quite sure he was being cheated. But these woes somehow were smoothed away in this glorious day of new dresses, races and ice cream.

C. E. Gates of Medford was a guest speaker on the forenoon program, which was held on an outdoor platform decked with flowers and evergreens. Mr. Gates complimented the community on its progressive spirit in promoting play day, and suggested that the neighborly attitude which it creates could extend even outside this area through attendance of Medford business men.

C. D. Conrad of Medford, county 4-H club leader, spoke on the 4-H work being carried on in the Appligate schools, naming the projects studied in each school. He mentioned the possibility of exchange of projects between city and rural children.

P. E. Matheny, chairman of the Ruch-Sterling school board, gave the address of welcome, and Max McHenry acted as master of ceremonies. Crowning of the May queen, Rosella Offenbacher of Beaver creek, as she sat on her throne together with the Maypole dance by pupils of Appligate school, beautifully climaxed the forenoon program. Flower girls for the queen were Janet Prowell and Lucille Cully of Beaver. She was crowned by Ruch-Sterling girls, Elsie Kitchen acting as crown bearer, with Ina Bell West and Sena Hall ladies-in-waiting.

The program opened with the flag salute and community singing, which were followed by piano and vocal selections by Walter and June Medley of Little Appligate; play, "The Sick Doll," and "Picnic Song," by Forest Creek; rhythm band selection by Thompson Creek recitation include a solo by Dorothy Chastrow of Gantowen; a duet by Unlontown and Watkins schools; folk dances and harmonica band selections by Beaver and Ruch. Referenced for the track events which occupied the afternoon were Miss Phyllis Crouse and Jess Barton of the Southern Oregon Normal school. Mrs. Kathryn Denzer of Appligate acted as general chairman for the day.

All enjoyed the picnic lunch spread on individual tables assigned to each school. All local schools closed Friday with exception of Ruch, which will close May 27. Winners in track events for the young group are as follows:

Potato race—Georgia Benedict, Appligate, first; June Medley, Little Appligate, second; Jean Crenshaw, Appligate, third.
