OLD MODEL T AXLES AID NEW MEXICO IN BATTLE ON HOPPERS

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 27.—(AP)—New Mexico went into emergency production of mechanical piston spreaders in its battle against grasshoppers today.

Under personal supervision of Governor Clyde Tingley and Assistant Highway Engineer Burton O. Dwyer, the mechanical unit was installed at state highway shops here.

Thirty workmen were recruited from the ranks of unemployed Santa Fe shopmen.

The highway department launched an immediately fruitful search for the vital part of the spreader, old "Model T" Ford axles complete with wheels and differentials.

The state expects to construct 40 spreaders here by tomorrow night.

The spreader, now in use in 24 states, has proved highly effective in

KLAMATH POINTS MAIN ROAD NEED

KLAMATH FALLS, May 27.—(AP)—Expenditure of more federal road aid money on strictly rural roads and less on national forest and park highways was urged today in a resolution adopted by the Klamath county court.

Citing an asserted need for better school bus routes and farm-to-market roads, the court declared that roads over government-owned lands are already well supported by public land, Indian, forest and primary state highway funds and proposed money from any of these sources be denied a share in the federal aid funds.

The court also recommended consideration by the association of Oregon counties of the Oregon state recovery plan.
