FRANCE PREPARES TO FORCE ALIENS OUT OF COUNTRY

Laws Are Drawn for Drive to Be Centered On Undesirables of All Nations — Refugee Totals High

By Hugo Speck
United Press Staff Correspondent....

PARIS—(UP)—Every one of the two and one-half million foreigners are going to find themselves being put over a frontier in the near future if they can't show good reason why they are living in France.

Determined to rid the country of all undesirable foreigners, Albert Sarraut, minister of interior, has drawn up laws which will be issued by decree, enabling him effectively to plug all of the holes through which unwanted persons have poured into the country or returned after having once been expelled.

It is estimated that 40,000 refugees have come to France from Austria and Spain during the last four months. Efforts first will be made to find all foreigners who have not complied with the regulations and are now living with friends. A system is being worked out to make this check easier. In the new laws measures also will be included for meting out punishment to anyone, French or otherwise, harboring undesirable foreigners.

Regulations Lax

For the expulsions an organization is being formed for the purpose of being certain an expelled person can't re-enter the country. Present regulations are rather lax and in some cases it is known that an expelled person has returned to the country within 24 hours after being put over the frontier. For those who are able to make their way back into France and who fall into the hands of authorities, stiffer prison terms will be provided in the future, increasing in severity each time they re-enter the country illegally.

Although trustworthy political exiles will not be interfered with, a rigid campaign will be started to rid the country of international extremists who either have been deported from other countries or who fled their homeland for political reasons.

In round figures, the latest estimates show that there are 2,563,539 foreigners living in France. Italians, totaling 887,732, far outnumber any other nationality.

Spanish Near Half Million

The Polish and Spanish refugees are about the same, with 463,143 for the former and 410,183 for the latter. There are 211,484 Belgians living in France, 88,880 Swiss and 63,349 Russian refuges. Armenians, Germans and Czechoslovakians each total around 50,000 while the Portuguese and British number 30,000. Americans, as such are classified with the Canadians, totaling 11,467.

These figures, however, represent persons known to the police, who possess identity cards, or their whereabouts are known. Before the Spanish war is over thousands of more Spaniards undoubtedly will take refuge in France, but the greater majority of those who already have been admitted to the country have come in groups and, due to the fact that they do not speak the language, it is not difficult to keep a close check on them.

With these and persons living here for legitimate reasons, the government will not concern itself but it is determined to rid the country of undesirables of every nationality who have been able to escape police detection due to the open door policy France has always maintained toward political refugees.

CALIFORNIA DUE FOR HECTIC RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—(AP)—Highlighted by campaigns involving Republican Governor Frank F. Merriam and Democratic Senator William G. McAdoo, California's election year will get under way June 1 with the opening of filings for the August 30 primary.

Candidates who already have announced their intentions and those who favor last-minute strategy will have until June 25 to sign up for the battle.

One of the warmest campaigns appears to be for the Republican gubernatorial nomination between the 72-year-old incumbent; his lieutenant governor, George J. Hatfield, an attorney nearly a quarter of a century his junior, and Z. S. Leymel, former mayor of Fresno.

At least seven candidates were expected to file for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and Raymond L. Haight, Los Angeles attorney who ran third to Merriam and Upton Sinclair in 1934, has announced he would file on the Democratic, Republican and Progressive-Commonwealth tickets. He is identified with the latter party.

Democratic aspirants for governor to date include five Los Angeleans—Col. William H. Neblett, war-time artillery officer and former law partner of Senator McAdoo; J. F. T. O'Connor, former controller of the currency and also once identified with the McAdoo law firm; Supervisor Herbert C. Legg; Representative John F. Dockweiler, and State Senator Culbert L. Olson; and Sheriff Dan C. Murphy of San Francisco and Robert Noble, the latter supporting a $25 every Monday" pension plan.

William E. Riker, 63, "father of the world's perfect government" at Holy City—religious community in the Santa Cruz mountains — has announced he would seek the governorship with his "American party."

SALEM CELLS NOT LIKE HOTEL ROOM

PORTLAND, May 28.—(AP)—Cell blocks in the Salem state prison are among the worst in the United States, Dr. Phillip A. Parsons, Eugene, declared in a civic club speech yesterday. He cited the need for prison reform in Oregon.

He said the prison contained 30 prisoners more than its supposed maximum capacity; and many cells intended for the use of the one inmate contained two or three.

An organization of advocates of prison reform to demand desired legislation was urged by Dr. Parsons.
