In Rialto Role

Shirley Deane, featured in "A Trip To Paris," starring the Jones Family and playing at the Rialto theatre today and tomorrow as the companion feature with "Sailing Along," is the grand niece of Frank Redden, Mrs. Cora Carder and Mrs. A. S. Hilton of Medford. Miss Deane is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Aronson of San Francisco, who are quite often Medford visitors.

Alice Faye, Tyrone Power, Don Ameche In Craterian Hit

Only once in a "blue moon" is there a movie so truly great that no one can help but applaud it. And into such a category falls "In Old Chicago," which opened a five-day run to capacity crowds last night. Not one person that came from the theatre last night was able to speak so completely were they taken in by the great American Epic. The stars - Alice Faye, Tyrone Power, and Don Ameche gave superb performances - but the most outstanding role of the whole picture was played to perfection by Alice Brady - that of Mrs. O'Leary, whose three boys raised Cain in Chicago and whose cow kicked the lantern over that started the great fire that destroyed the colorful city of vice and romance. Miss Brady has won the year's Motion Picture Academy Award for this performance - and she deserves it.

Other outstanding roles are played by Andy Devine, as the bay-windowed bodyguard of Tyrone Power; Brian Donlevy, political enemy of Tyrone Tom Brown; as the little brother of the O'Learys; and Berton Churchill, as the socially ambitious senator from Illinois.

The picture starts with Mrs. O'Leary bringing her three boys into the 1854 brawdy city of Chicago - and by a dint of a lady's fancy mud-spattered dinner gown, launches herself upon a career as laundress in order to send her boys to school. The boys grow up and by 1870 Bob O'Leary (Tom Brown) is married to a German girl, Jack O'Leary (Don Ameche) is a struggling attorney and Dion (Tyrone Power) is making his first inroads into politics.

Dion first swings into his stride when he wooes Belle Fawcett (Miss Faye) so that he can control the choice site for a saloon which will drive his political boss (Brian Donlevy) out of business. The violent love scenes end with a slightly subdued Belle Fawcett becoming Dion's aide in a series of machinations which are culminated by a political plot.

selecting Brother Jack O'Leary as reform mayor of Chicago. The strange O'Leary tribe fights tooth and nail at times, and the climax comes when Dion has his brother perform the marriage ceremony that is to lead indirectly up to the fire and the end of Jack O'Leary and Chicago. But a new day is born and from the first scene to the last - the audience is completely "awalloed-up" by the exciting episodes in the great epic picture.

The fire - which lasts around twenty minutes on the screen - is a revelation in the art of movie make-believe and outdoes the famous earthquake scene of "San Francisco" and the hurricane of "Hurricane." In truth "In Old Chicago" is a picture that should be seen by all.

Sams Valley

SAMS VALLEY, June 1.-(Sp.)- Mrs. Sams Spurlin left May 28 for an extended visit with relatives and friends in San Francisco. She expects to be gone most of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clark will care for her place during her absence. A number of local farmers have been busy this week spraying alfalfa fields for weevil.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holst returned Sunday from a ten-day trip north. They visited their son, Ray Holst, and family in Eugene, then continued on north for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Hollenbeck and family. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson are the proud parents of a daughter, born May 24 in Medford.

Mrs. C. W. McDonough and small daughter, Nancy Carol, returned home Friday and are spending a few days with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Gold Hill.

Mrs. Betty Stelle and two children of Medford visited several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McDowell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hundley of Monrovia, Cal., are spending a two weeks' vacation here visiting her sister, Mrs. and Mrs. Wm. Marsh and sister, Mrs. Chas. Duggan and family.

Lewis Dusenberry has been engaged the past week in cutting a number of posts to be used as partitions on the local school ground. Herb Fitzgerald spent the week-end visiting friends in Eugene. Friends here of Lester Oden extend congratulations upon the announcement of his marriage to Miss Alma Brown. The young couple at present are making their home on Evans creek.

Mrs. Anna Gilchrist of Gold Hill visited over the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. George McDonough and family.

Nora Straus, Wm. Sarah Koger, the Chas. Duggan, Wm. Marsh and Hundley families were among those attending the baccalaureate services at the Southern Oregon Normal school in Ashland, May 29. The Misses Dorothy Straus and Mildred Duggan of Sams Valley are among members of the graduating class this year.

Young people of the local Grange have been invited to attend the dance in the Central Point Grange hall, Wednesday evening, June 1. The affair is being given by the young people's auxiliary of the Central Point Grange and is for all young Grangers of Jackson county. In hopes that they may become better acquainted. Several from Sams Valley plan to attend.

Sams Valley Grange will meet Saturday evening, June 4. An alternate delegate to the state meeting in Klamath Falls will be elected. The home economics committee will serve refreshments for which a very small charge will be made.
