

UNION SPOKESMAN WOULD PUT WIRES UNDER POSTOFFICE

Senate Committee Told Telegraph Service Part Of National System Similar To U. S. Postal Service.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Willard Bliss, a spokesman for a C.I.O. union of communications companies' employees, suggested to a senate committee today that the government take over telegraph companies and operate them as part of the postal service.

Bliss, vice-president of the American Communications Association, testified at an interstate commerce subcommittee's hearing on a resolution by Senator Neely (D-W.Va.) for an investigation of the "monopolistic tendencies" in the telegraph communications field.

When Bliss urged the committee to approve the resolution, Chairman Bone (D-Wash.) said a decision probably would be delayed until next session.

"The telegraph industry is becoming more restricted and tends to be a dying industry," Bliss said. "The only solution is for the government to take it over."

"You would not want the government to take over a losing business would you?" asked Bone.

"No, but telegraph communications are part of the national economy and definitely a public service similar to postal service," Bliss answered.

Neely's resolution proposes an inquiry also into understaffing, employment conditions and wages.

Jane Smith, slim, bobbed-haired blonde from New York City, testified that Western Union teletype operators had faced a "speed up system" during the past two years which had increased their average from 50 messages an hour "to 80 and as many as 120 messages."

"This has caused nervous breakdowns of some of the operators," she said.

WINTER ROAD DAMAGE ENFORCES CHANGES IN IMPROVEMENT PLANS

Due to the $15,000 damage last winter to Jackson county roads, the county court has been forced to abandon several proposed road improvements and to curtail others.

In order to remain within the budget, the $15,000 damage must be eliminated from other items such as oiling and construction. The general road fund contains but $1,000 for emergency purposes.

It was stated that the road improvements eliminated from this year's program would be given priority and preference next year.

The county court and county engineer are studying the problem, but have not determined what projects will be eliminated. Work will be started on roads that seem the most necessary, and wherein they have the co-operation of property owners benefiting by the improvements.

The county court holds that more roads should be improved, while at the same time realizing the budgeted amounts can be exceeded under no circumstances.

SCIENTIST CHURCH WOULD PRESERVE OUR GOVERNMENT

Directors In Annual Meeting See Necessity For Alertness To Situation At Home And Abroad.

BOSTON, June 7.—(AP)—Declaring governments "conceived largely in selfish ambition" cannot survive, the board of directors of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, today asserted Christian Science students had "a definite responsibility" to preserve a system of government which protects the civil rights of the people and insures freedom of speech, the press and religious worship.

In a statement issued after the annual meeting, the directors declared: "While we should not magnify error or become unduly alarmed by the present day suggestions of war and disaster aggressively presented through many channels, we must be keenly alert not to allow a false sense of security to lull us to sleep and make us indifferent to situations of national and international character which, unless corrected, are destined to affect our interests as directly as if the scene of their action were within the bounds of our own community."

The directors announced the election of Ralph Hastings Knapp of Needham as president of The Mother Church, to succeed Judge Clifford P. Smith of Newton. Knapp is a member of the faculty of Mechanic Arts high school, Boston.

C. Augustus Norwood, manager of the committee on publication, asserted: "Medical regimentation appears well entrenched, from the League of Nations through national-state, county and local health departments; and the public in general was never more apathetic with regard to it."

"Our position is a strong one. We never interfere with the rights of others to enjoy whatever method of healing they may prefer; we ask simply that our right to rely on spiritual means for healing be not interfered with."

BOSTON, June 7.—(AP)—Election of five new members to the Christian Science board of lecturership was announced today at the annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The new members are Miss Lucia C. Coulson; Thomas E. Hurley of Louisville; Mrs. Elizabeth MacArthur Thomson of St. Louis, and George Channing of San Francisco.

The duties of the board, now composed of 25 members, consist of delivering lectures on Christian Science throughout the world.

It cannot be considered a desecration of the Sabbath to indulge in wholesome recreation," he observed.

Tooth of Ancient Shark Found on Valley Ranch

A shark's tooth millions of years old was today in possession of Dr. Francis J. Moffatt at his office in the Medford Center building.

The tooth was found recently on Dr. Moffatt's ranch on the Old Stage road about eight miles from Gold Hill. Dr. Moffatt, X-ray specialist, took photographs of the tooth and sent them to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. A letter from the institution quoted Dr. R. S. Bassler, its head curator of geology, as follows:

"The photographs illustrate a fossil shark's tooth of the genus Carcharodon of the Miocene period dating back some millions of years. The large size of the specimen is of interest and we should be glad to have it for our collection."

The letter was written by J. E. Graf, associate director of the institution. Enclosed in the letter was a government frank so that Dr. Moffatt might send the tooth to the institution without expense.

The tooth, Dr. Moffatt related, was unearthed by Ben Tucker of Central Point when he was digging a drainage ditch on the Moffatt ranch. It was not more than 16 inches under the surface, the doctor said.

The tooth weighs ten ounces. It is heart-shaped, coming to a fine point. At the base or roots it is about 4 1/2 inches across. The sides are about six inches long and through its thickest part it is about 1 1/2 inches.

The tooth is in a remarkably well-preserved state. Most of the enamel remains and the gum line is clearly visible.

Dr. Moffatt was at first inclined to send the tooth to the Smithsonian institution, but after talking with the Mail Tribune he said he thought he might retain it to lend to any museum that might be established here.

Brawley So Hot Earth Trembles

BRAWLEY, Cal., June 7.—(UP)—Two light earth shocks jolted the Imperial valley last night following a day of torrid weather that sent the mercury up to 112 degrees.

The first shock was scarcely perceptible here but the second, at 6:45 p. m., was heavy enough to rattle windows. No damage was reported.

Pioneer Dies

HEPPNER, June 7.—(AP)—James N. Luper, 88, son of Martin Luper, inventor of the Luper reaper, died here yesterday. Born in Indiana, Luper crossed the plains in 1853 and was one of the first settlers near Albany.

ARRIVES AT PARTY SPARKLING WITH INFORMATION

Cornelia Otis Skinner says: "As a child, I never learned the modern streamlining method of absorbing an entire paragraph at a glance. It takes me a week to read a novel, ten days for the average biography. This naturally narrows down my selection of reading matter."

"But now comes The Reader's Digest to keep me abreast of the times. The cutting and skipping has been done in advance by the editors. The pieces are of such compactness that even I can finish three or four on my way to a party and arrive sparkling with information."

"You will enjoy and benefit by The Reader's Digest, too, and I strongly recommend it to all our readers. Every issue is brim-full of worthwhile articles that you can't afford to miss (Adv.) The Editor.

The rose that is sweetest and fairest is the rose that is killed by the frost;

The love that is sweetest and rarest is the darling we have lost.

The sweetest flower is the first to fall, the fairest first to fade.

The fondest, dear, loved by all, within his grave is laid.

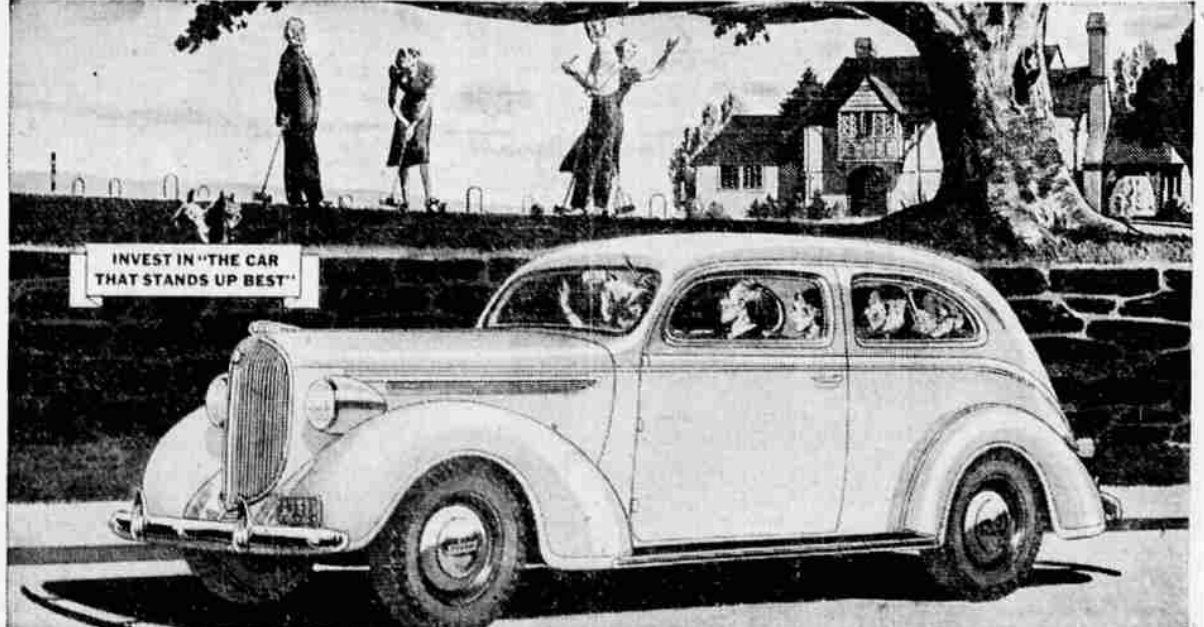

As into the garden of roses we go, we look for the finest and sweetest you know;

So it was with Jesus today when He called our darling baby away.
