ABANDON REMOVAL OF ANCIENT TUSK

Efforts to retrieve the tusk of a prehistoric animal from an Applegate placer mine were given up yesterday as futile. The tusk crumbled to bits when an attempt was made to move it.

The tusk was found in the Alaska of Oregon mining operations. E. R. Santo and William H. McClure, of the Southern Oregon Gem and Mineral society, encased one side of the tusk in plaster of Paris Thursday. They went back Friday to complete the plaster operations but when they turned the tusk over they found it was hollow, the root of a tree filling the inside.

Only the shell of the tusk remained and it fell to pieces.

Atkins Winner Of Calf Hefting Test

G. W. Atkins of Central Point was announced yesterday as winner in the calf hefting contest conducted during the week by the Davis Feed company. Prize was 100 pounds of Sperry sure-calf meal.

When weighed the calf tipped the scales at 175 pounds and four ounces. Mr. Atkins had estimated the weight at 175 pounds. The calf was on display all week so that contestants might carefully observe it. Oliver P. Wilson was judge.

Honorable mention was accorded Al Hanson, of Route 2, who estimated the weight at 174 pounds, and C. J. McCoy of Route 4, who estimated 177 pounds.

HEALTH WORK IN ALL COMMUNITIES OF COUNTY GAINS

Miss Mildred Carlton President—Other Officers Re-Elected At Annual Meet

Progressive work in all communities of Jackson county, bringing nearer to realization the goal of good health for every child, was reported here yesterday at the annual meeting of the Jackson County Public Health association, along with summaries of information gained at the annual meeting of the Oregon Tuberculosis society and the meeting of the western branch of the American Public Health association. Miss Mildred T. Carlton, president, and other incumbent officers, were re-elected for the coming year.

Representatives of the various communities were heard in the panel, conducted by Mrs. R. E. Green, and delegates to the two conferences were introduced by Mrs. J. C. S. Wells, treasurer of the association, acting president for the day.

Opportunities made possible in Jackson county through social security were outlined by Mrs. Blanche Frisbie, supervisor of public health nurses. Two more nurses were added to the county health department staff through moneys coming from this channel, bringing the total to five. Mrs. Frisbie stated. A county physician has been added to the staff making it possible for the health officer to devote his time to public health work. Increased educational opportunities have been opened to all staff members and the consultant staff of the state board of health has been increased to the extent that all types of information, long needed for an intelligent operation of health departments, is now available.

Opening the review of the meeting of the western branch of the American Public Health association, Mrs. Wells repeated the warning frequently heard there that public health must be kept out of politics. She stated that under social security a long planned and efficient health program has been realized. She urged members of the association to do their part in insuring the continuance of a non-political program.

Speaking on nutrition, Mrs. R. E. Green, who was also a delegate to the AUSA meeting, stressed the need for education, declaring that malnutrition is not always the result of poverty, but many times caused by lack of information regarding foods, occurring in the wealthy as well as the poor family. She also issued a plea to Jackson county people to improve their maternal death rate, which she says is not what it should be.

Mrs. Howard A. Hill reported the discussion of syphilis, asking the public, as did the speakers in Portland, to view it as a disease instead of a disgrace, making possible the much-needed early recognition of the disease. Examination of waiters, beauty parlor operators and other public servants was urged.

Miss Helen Bullis spoke further on the same subject, explaining the work of the famous bacteriologist, Dr. Reuben L. Kahn, who appeared on the Portland program. The Kahn test for syphilis has been recognized throughout the civilized world.

Mrs. F. Corning Kenly gave a summary of the social activities, which included a tour to Bonneville dam. Mrs. Moore Hamilton spoke on public health.

Mrs. Elwood Hedberg and Mrs. W. E. Bartlett of Ashland reported a very informative meeting of the Oregon State Tuberculosis society at The Dalles, stating that many other Oregon counties are now challenging the rank of Jackson county, pioneer in public health work.

Mrs. Kenly, who directs dental clinics for the association, stated that 318 children were cared for at 55 clinics during the past year. She added that prevention, not correction is steadily becoming the aim.

Mrs. Raymond Driver, representing Girl Scouts, assured the association members that the scouts are constantly carrying on health work and that their organization is closely related to the association in its aim.

Cheering news for all members was brought to the meeting by Miss Helen Carlton. She stated that the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce would for the first time in its history have a health committee during the coming year. She also announced that special rooms for the health committees had been made available in the Prospect and Jacksonville schools.

A letter from Miss Mildred Carlton, who was re-elected president, was read by Mrs. I. E. Schuler, who also submitted the report of the nominating committee. Through it Miss Carlton thanked her workers for their achievements and urged them to continue working together toward greater accomplishments. A rising vote of thanks was given by the association to her in appreciation of her untiring service and devotion to the health program, within and outside the organization.

During the panel discussion, led by Mrs. Green, reports were made by Mrs. John Gammill, Phoenix; Mrs. H. K. Hanna, Jacksonville; Mrs. Medison Lively, Gold Hill; Mrs. Elwood Hedberg, Ashland; Mrs. C. L. Pierce, Central Point, and Miss Helen Bullis, Medford.

C. R. Bowman, superintendent of county schools, voiced appreciation of the health association, as the connecting link between the school teacher and the doctor in preserving health.

FINAL FIGURE ON XMAS SEAL SALES

The final total realized in the annual Christmas Seal Sale was reported yesterday by Mrs. J. C. S. Wells, treasurer of the Jackson County Public Health association, at the annual meeting at the courthouse auditorium. It showed $2,411.58, an increase of $300 over the previous year.

Mrs. Robert Hart was chairman of the very successful drive.

Other reports submitted by Mrs. Wells showed that $5000 was received and spent by the Health association, major recipients being nursing service, X-rays, dental clinics and health houses, two of which were constructed during the past year.

Valley Eagles Will Hold Flag Exercises

Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will unite in observance of Flag day in exercises at Grants Pass city park 8 p. m. Tuesday. The public is invited to the program, part of a national flag day observance by Elks lodges.

An appropriate program of music and speeches will be presented, the Medford lodge announced in issuing an invitation to the public.

Crater Lake School Phonograph Stolen

Crater Lake school district 3 reported to state police yesterday that sometime between June 2 and June 7 a schoolhouse on the Obenshain near Butte Falls was entered and a Victrola console and several records were stolen.

Entrance to the building was effected by forcing the padlock on the front door, it was reported.

5 PRESS AWARDS TO BE GIVEN AT STATE MEET HERE

Five awards will be made in newspaper contests at the annual convention of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers' association at Medford, June 18.

Silver loving cups will be awarded by Theta Sigma Phi, woman's professional journalism fraternity, to the daily and weekly newspapers judged to have had the best woman's pages during the past year. The daily cup has been won by the Albany Democrat-Herald and the Roseburg News-Review; the weekly cup by the McMinnville Telephone-Register and Grants Pass Bulletin. The ladies' contest is restricted to cities of less than 17,500 population. The presentation for the fraternity will be made at the convention by Miss Betty Wagner, journalism school senior and secretary in the ONPA central office.

Outstanding community service will be recognized by awards of the West Coast Engraving company's plaques, which will be presented by Paul Deutchmann, editor-elect of the Oregon Daily Emerald, for Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity. The plaque for daily newspapers' great community service has been received by the Astorian-Budget, Astoria, and the Grants Pass Courier; and that for weeklies by the Dallas Itemizer-Observer and Bandon Western World.

An engraved Sigma Delta Chi key will also be presented by Mr. Deutchmann to the writer of the best news story of the year written in Oregon outside of Portland.

Judges for the woman's page contest are Ruth Hopkins, Oregon Journal; Mrs. Lynn McCready and Mrs. Charles M. Hulten, both of Eugene and both former society editors. Herman S. Kehrl, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research at the University of Oregon will be the judge of the community service rendered by the newspapers, while the news story judges will be A. L. Crookham, city editor, Oregon Journal, Portland; Malcolm Bauer, Portland Oregonian; and Ben Titus, manager of the United Press bureau of Portland.

3rd Party In Penna PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—(P)—A new possibility arose today that a third party—supported by Governor Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin and his national progressives of America—may enter Pennsylvania's general election in November.

The Old "Cook Stove" is As Out-of-Style as Home Bread Baking

Imagine what a task it was to cook three meals a day on the old, dirty furnace-like fuel stove. But, even with the finest, modern ovens with automatic control, very few housewives think of baking their own Bread. Baker's bread is so good that it's really foolish to try to equal it.

The Cleanliness and Efficiency of
