

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TURNS TO GRIEF WHEN PET KILLED

Cheryle Cody had all her little friends in for a birthday party last Saturday at her home, 319 Beatty street. It was a gala day for the children; Cheryle had long looked forward to the gay fete, had told her playmates about it and all had a lot of fun, playing games and enjoying the refreshments.

Even Bobby, her year-old bull terrier pet, helped her to enjoy the day. Bobby was more than a dog to Cheryle; he was a genuine companion, a real personality whom she remembered in her prayers each night. They were constantly together, Cheryle and Bobby.

Cheryle was four years old Sunday, the day after which her birthday was celebrated with the party. She had much to make her happy. She remembered her party with pleasure and she had her new birthday toys to play with.

Pepped up by the birthday festivities, Bobby followed a little girl to church. He was safely locked up during services released to the little girl afterward for the return home. Then tragedy struck. Bobby ran into the street, was struck and killed by a car.

Cheryle's birthday happiness turned to grief. All day she cried and sobbed praying for the restoration of life to her inert pet. Since then she has been sad and downcast.

Distraught, Cheryle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cody, have tried to procure a new pet as much like Bobby as possible. Their search thus far has been in vain. Today they issued an appeal: Has anyone in Medford a small bull terrier who can take Bobby's place and make Cheryle happy again? If so, they would like to be notified.

Cheryle's heart has been broken. Only another Bobby can mend it.

SOCK AT PEDDLER BRINGS $15 FINE

A justice court jury Tuesday afternoon, after ten minutes deliberations returned a verdict holding Edward Vismaw, superintendent of Fibbers' bakery plant guilty of assault and battery upon Walter Crank, a "real-silk" house-to-house salesman. Crank signed the complaint.

Vismaw appeared for sentence this morning, and was assessed $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace William H. Coleman. It was first intended to appeal the case to circuit court, but the plan was abandoned. Allison Moulton represented Vismaw.

Testimony in the trial showed that Crank had called at the Vismaw apartments to exhibit his wares. In an argument that ensued, Vismaw hit Crank "three times in the eye" dis-coloring the number. The plaintiff claimed Crank was "persistent" in his salesmanship. The defendant claimed he was not.

Wall St. Report

New York, June 15.—(AP)—The stock market got one foot on a rung of the recovery ladder today, but was too lackadaisical to climb.

The upward gesture carried several issues, notably raw material shares, up a point or so in the morning, and seemed to have been motivated largely by an inflationary flurry of gold buying in London.

The turnover in the stock exchange amounted to only about 350,000 shares.

Window Breakers Placed On Parole

Three juveniles charged with breaking windows, and inflicting other damage on the A. K. Ware home, in the Kings highway district, were given a hearing Tuesday and paroled to their parents.

The district attorney reported that the boys—the oldest 11 years, had caused $117 damage to windows alone, and besides had torn out heating pipes.

Authorities report this is the window-breaking season for small boys, and there are frequent reports of window smashing, but not as extensive as in this case.

COUNTY ROAD OILING STARTS NEXT WEEK

Oiling of county roads will probably start next week, according to County Engineer Paul B. Nyman. A rock crusher and other equipment are now being set up.

First operations will probably be on the Phoenix-Talent road, the longest stretch on the oiling program, the county engineer said. The oiling program in this city, announced to start today, was postponed.

WAGE BOARD AND FRUIT EMPLOYEES MEETING TONIGHT

An executive session will be held tonight of the conference board before which a hearing was held last Saturday on a plea for a reduction in the state minimum wage for women workers in packing plants, from 35 cents to 27½ cents an hour. The meeting will be held in the law offices of Porter J. Neff, board chairman, in the Cooley Theater building.

At 8 tonight a meeting for all fruit workers, both field and packing plant employees, will be held in the Labor temple, 219 West Main street. Purpose of the meeting is to review last Saturday's public hearing on the wage reduction plea. It was explained by Jack Long, secretary of the Central Labor Council which called the session.

The workers' meeting is not for the purpose of organizing, Mr. Long emphasized. "It is unfortunate that employees of the Rogue valley have shown an antagonism toward labor organizations and I think this is the result of misunderstanding," Mr. Long commented. "We are only interested in the welfare of Medford and vicinity and we should all be able to work harmoniously together."

Mr. Long said the Central Labor Council, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, prefers the employment solely of local workers in the packing plants. A survey made last year, he added, showed that about a third of the packing plant employees were transients.

The conference board will go over the transcript of the hearing at its meeting tonight. It is to make recommendations on the wage reduction plea to the state welfare commission. The commission may accept or reject the recommendations or accept part and reject part.

At the public hearing, packing plant representatives said that savings from any minimum wage reduction would be passed on wholly and directly to the growers whose financial status was described generally as desperate.

ADDITIONAL JOBS OPEN IN CCC SOON FOR COUNTY BOYS

Additional jobs for young men in the Civilian Conservation corps will be available early in July, it has been announced by the Jackson county relief committee which is the CCC selecting agency for this county.

An enrollee in the Civilian Conservation corps is paid at the rate of $50 per month. A small percentage of enrollees who show unusual ability receive $36 and $45 per month. Men with dependents must be willing to make an allotment out of their pay of at least $22 per month to such dependents.

In addition to the $30 per month basic pay, enrollees receive board and lodging at the camp, clothing, medical and dental attention, recreation, and the opportunity for education either in advancing to a higher grade in school, or to help in qualifying for some particular vocational field.

Young men to be eligible must be unmarried citizens between the ages of 17 and 23 years inclusive, in good physical condition, and unemployed and in need of employment. Each person selected agrees to remain in the corps for at least six months, unless urgently needed at home or unless offered a job in private employment.

Those who are interested should make application immediately to the office of the Jackson county relief committee at the city hall.
