Set Loganberry Price.

GRANGE REQUESTS ENFORCEMENT OF MARKETING LAW

Diversion of More Highway Funds to Counties for Farm-to-Market Roads Urged by Convention

KLAMATH FALLS, June 16.—(P)—Warner Grange of Clackamas county was declared winner of the home economics contest at a home economics conference held here today in conjunction with the state Grange convention.

A gavel was presented to the Warner home economics leader in recognition of that club's outstanding report on its year's work.

KLAMATH FALLS, June 16.—(P)—Early enforcement of a Grange-sponsored state marketing act to allow a test of its constitutionality was sought in an Oregon Grange convention request yesterday to the state board of agriculture and Governor Charles H. Martin.

The convention delegation debated and rejected two resolutions, approved by the transportation committee, opposing a 70-car train bill now in congress.

Increased tariff on South American canned beef and reduced sugar importations were urged to protect American farm and livestock interests.

Seek Road Funds
Diversion of more state highway commission funds to counties for use on farm-to-market roads, rural mail and public school routes was demanded.

Grangers at the same time approved a change in laws to give the highway commission police jurisdiction in controlling state highway speed limits and to provide night lighting, but abruptly rejected a proposal to give the commission power to set speed limits or to replace the present "prudent rate" with more definite regulations.

Resolutions seeking establishment of minimum prices for all agricultural products and urging the proposal be made a national issue were rejected. Another proposal, asking a certified public accountant's audit of Grange books for 1936 and 1937, failed to win committee support and was promptly killed when it reached the floor.

Urges Book Cost Study
An interim committee to investigate methods of lowering public textbook costs was favored and the group urged that the state assume a larger share in support of education, that public school teachers take first aid course, and that each school be provided with first aid kits.

Stream purification measures, the Willamette valley, project and uniform legislation for all western states relative to truck load weights were supported. A proposal to establish a Umatilla county producers' and consumers' cooperative market was opposed.

Resolutions asked congress to issue advance bulletins on dietetics, pass legislation to prevent spread of spotted fever ticks, and the legislature to adopt a clearer definition of forest land in Oregon fire laws and establish a surplus crop laboratory at Pendleton.

Slaughter Defeated
Dr. Albert Slaughter, Portland, veteran member of the executive committee was defeated in a run-off election by W. A. Johnson, Grants Pass. Also elected in run-off voting were Roscoe Robertson, Wheeler county, steward; Henry Gustafson, assistant steward; L. Rena Slack, Klamath county, flora; and Dorothy Perkins, lady assistant steward.

In a relatively slow session this morning the convention resolved to employ a full-time deputy to cover the state in the interests of a Grange-supported cooperative movement for the purchase of farm supplies.

The special deputy will work under the joint direction of the state Grange and the wholesale board and will contact supply units and bring the movement before all Granges.

Mrs. Fanny McCall asked to be released from the chairmanship of the state juvenile committee and was replaced by Mrs. L. Rena Slack of Bonanza.

Drill team contests and a trip through Klamath county farm districts were on the Grange program for this afternoon, and Grange ritual, with a large class taking the sixth, or state, degree obligation, is scheduled for tonight.

Business sessions will resume tomorrow morning.

session, about 125 workers from various branches of the fruit industry met last night in the labor temple, 219 West Main street. It was also in a statement issued this morning by Jack Long, secretary of the central labor council, affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Discussions revealed that the fruit workers' earnings ranged from $150 to $325 for an average of ten weeks' employment, hours averaging ten a day. Mr. Long's statement said:

While no effort was made to organize the fruit workers last night, they were invited to affiliate with the central labor council. It was pointed out, Mr. Long said, that the council is composed of local residents interested in the progress and welfare of the community.

To Seek Conference
It was agreed, Mr. Long's statement said, that the labor council should seek a conference with employer representatives in the near future "to bring about a condition of harmony from one of discord."

The aims and benefits of the American Federation of Labor were explained to the fruit workers and labor council spokesmen stressed that the organization was opposed to strife, rioting and violence.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that the labor council stood ready at all times to help harmonize differences between employes and employers.

FLY CASTING EXPERT TO GIVE EXHIBITION AND TIPS ON TACKLE

Roy L. "Doc" Haslett, the man who originated the expression, "Fight the fish, not your tackle," makes his annual appearance in Medford tomorrow for the purpose of giving free instruction to all local nimrods in the art of scientific angling technique.

With his wife, who is an expert caster and angler in her own right, he will make his demonstration on the courthouse lawn between 4 and 7 p. m., and all fishermen, both male and female, are cordially invited to take advantage of the opportunity to learn the correct manner in which to cast both fly and bait. He appears under auspices of the Southern Oregon Sportsmen's club.

Haslett, known as the "Gypsy Angler," travels the three Pacific coast states as a good-will representative of the leading tackle manufacturers of the country, displaying the latest in rods, reels, lines and flies, and the correct sports and rain wear for sportsmen. However, absolutely nothing is offered for sale during the demonstration, and free casting instruction is offered any interested angler. Fishermen may bring their own gear, or may use any of the correct tackle on display.
