Coming to Rialto Sunday

Ferocious beasts and man-eating savages make up but a few of the thrills to be seen in "Man Hunters of the Caribbean," coming to the Rialto theatre for Sunday and Monday only. The picture, recently filmed by Explorers Andre Roosevelt and Captain E. Erskine Loch in the Caribbean jungles, is said to be one of the rarest and strangest pictorial documents ever to be recorded on celluloid. Filmed at the cost of several human lives and a small fortune to equip the expedition, "Man Hunters of the Caribbean" promises to give thrill seekers their fill in adventure. "Crashing Thru Danger," co-starring Sully Blane and Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, will play as the added feature with the adventure film.

Holly Stage

Margaret Sullivan is the girl. The story describes the experiences of the three comrades as they return from the front to face an uncertain future together in a country gripped by internal disturbances. Anhwet province, China, is such excellent rice-growing country that when a good crop is obtained it is sufficient to last the population for five years.
