WALL ST. REPORT

Premiere of Drama Wednesday

The world premiere of the screen adaptation of Gene Stratton-Porter's famous best-selling novel, "Romance of the Limberlost," opens a four-day run Wednesday at the Craterian theatre.

Jean Parker is cast in the role of the girl of the swamp country, whose only friends are the birds and animals of the forest, arranged to be given in marriage to a bestial drunkard by her heartless Aunt Nora, portrayed by Marjorie Main, whose characterization of the gangster's mother in "Dead End" brought an outstanding character player to the screen. Eric Linden is also featured in a prominent role.

In the closing period. The list stepped backward at the start as traders cashed in on last week's sharpest rally in several years. Wall Street was not surprised at what was termed the "healthy consolidation" of the striking advances posted in the 5-day recovery push.

The first hour was the liveliest, with 600,000 shares changing hands. Buyers entered in force after the opening dip and, for a while the ticker tape fell as much as 4 minutes in arrears. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 shares.

With the government's pump-priming program getting under way rapidly, brokers continued to attribute the strong support accorded pivotal stocks to the belief business and industry would soon respond to the outlay of billions.

Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow:

Harold Webb, designing engineer for the corporation, swam and waded more than a mile to shore near the Oakland airport.

The plane, diving out of control from an altitude of 20,000 feet, splintered to bits as it hit the bay, about three-quarters of a mile from the airport shore.

Most of the bills were for relief of individuals. The more important public bills included:
