

TYPHOON HOWLS TOWARD ISLANDS WITH ADDED WOE

Landslides Worst.
The landslides in Tokyo and Yokohama were the worst disasters. Eighteen persons were crushed or smothered to death in the heart of Tokyo when part of the estate of Baron Takakimi Mitsui slipped down 17 after the earthquake. Forty others were entombed and their fate was not known.

A similar catastrophe buried five houses in Yokohama, where a 90-foot cliff collapsed. Two women, each with her two children, were killed. With their husbands fighting in China, they had lived under the same roof.

Three persons in another family were drowned when a baby fell into a pool of water and its parents dived in, but in vain, trying to rescue it.

NEW LIFE SAVING METHODS—The surf board is advanced by the Red Cross Life Saving Service as a safe means of rescuing the drowning. At top, life saver demonstrates resuscitation of victim after rescue from water; at bottom, demonstration of ease of propelling victim to shore.

Roar Like Train.
"There was a terrible roar like a train crossing a bridge," a Yokohama newspaper said. "A huge curtain of red dust momentarily obscured the scene."

"Where, a moment before, a cluster of houses had stood, there now were only jumbled, splintered wood, twisted tin roofs oozing mud and silence."

A noted lawyer, unable to reach his home here Wednesday night because of the highwater, found his residence crushed under the landslide this morning. He recovered his wife's body.

"The slip came without warning," an eye-witness said. "It sounded like the roll of distant thunder and then the whole face of the hill seemed to tremble and suddenly it fell."

"Twelve houses underneath were crushed like eggshells. I hurried to where I heard cries and muffled moans. I saw an arm stretch up through the muck and debris. I grabbed it and pulled out a small boy. He dazedly wiped mud from his eyes, then we both ran, fearing another slide."

12 Miners Killed.
A freak accident at Kobe killed 12 miners. They were ascending in an elevator when surface machinery, resting on saturated earth, suddenly toppled. The elevator cable snapped, dropping the cage to the depths of the mine.

Some homes in Tokyo were inundated to their second floors and in many water was six feet deep.

The ministry of railways estimated that 30,000 commuters were marooned either in the city or in their homes.

The Tokaido railroad, one of the major travel arteries, was severed in 26 places. Observers reported a tunnel collapsed and several small bridges washed out.

"In some places," reports said, "floods carried away the roadbed, leaving the tracks hanging in mid-air like ladders."

HOOVER IN CANADA SEES NO TROUBLE OVER ROAD NORTH

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 30—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States who arrived today, termed as "sheer nonsense" suggestions that "international complications" might arise out of building of the proposed Alaska highway through British Columbia.

"There can be no such thing as international complications between the United States and Canada," said Hoover, who is here to start a fishing trip.

Mr. Hoover was accompanied by two members of his former cabinet—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university, secretary of the Interior in the Hoover administration, and Arthur M. Hyde, one-time secretary of agriculture.

Hoover said he did not care to talk politics on his vacation. Fishing and politics do not mix, he said.

"There are only two avenues to privacy left in these days when it is harder and harder to get away from telephones and people. They are prayer and fishing. I strongly recommend both," he added.

Asked to comment on the Indiana election, Mr. Hoover said: "I have nothing to say. I left politics at the border. I'm going fishing."

HERO'S WIDOW IS GIVEN REPRIEVE

NEW YORK, June 30—(AP)—A supreme court order, obtained at the last minute, delayed the scheduled sale of the modest Brooklyn home of Mrs. Sadie Leslie Monseu, widow of a naval hero, who will soon have a destroyer named in his honor.

The Home Owners Loan corporation had planned an auction sale because Mrs. Monseu, who receives a $30-a-month federal pension, had not met a $7,000 mortgage. Her lawyer obtained a show cause order yesterday and the case was put on the calendar for today.

Her husband, who died in 1930 saved the U. S. S. Missouri from possible destruction 30 years ago when he extinguished a fire with his bare hands. On June 7 she received a letter from the navy department saying a ship would be named after her husband. Another letter came that day. It said she was going to lose her home.

Citrino Decisions Israel Decisively

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30—(AP)—Winning all six rounds by wide margins Al Citrino of San Francisco pounded out a decision victory over Obie Israel of Seattle here last night. Citrino weighed 134 and Israel 133.

ROOSEVELT SEES FUTURE ACCLAIM FOR HIS OUTLAYS

subsidize education any more than is absolutely necessary."

"But," he added, "we know that in many places local government unfortunately cannot adequately finance either the freedom or the facilities to learn. And there the federal government can properly supplement local resources."

The president said there probably was a greater divergence today in the standard of education between the richest communities and the poorest communities than a hundred years ago.

"It is, therefore," he asserted, "our immediate problem to close that gap —not in any way by decreasing the facilities of the richer communities but by extending aid to those less fortunate."

He predicted that unless the gap were narrowed it would widen, and said federal aid must be confined to lifting the level at the bottom rather than giving assistance at the top.

Federal programs of the last five years, he said, had been in line with that policy—of conserving at needed spots "the twin interlocking assets of national and human resources."

Must Be Free to Learn
"But," he added, "with this goes the equally important and equally difficult problem of keeping education intellectually free. For freedom to learn is the first necessity of guaranteeing that man himself shall be self-reliant enough to be free."

"If the fires of freedom and civil liberties burn low in other lands, they must be made brighter in our own."

"If in other lands the press is censored, we must redouble our efforts here to keep it free."

"If in other lands the eternal truths of the past are threatened by intolerance, we must promise a safe place here for their perpetuation."

CRITIC OF LEGION IS ANSWERED BY VETERANS' CHIEF

February, 1935," Doherty continued, "advertising the Moscow summer school in which Professor Counts is named as one of the American advisers."

"He is also connected with other groups communist in concept and origin and directly affiliated with Moscow."

Doherty said Geilermann had renewed his membership in the Legion last January 25.

"His post has already asked him to affirm or deny the statements attributed to him . . . the membership of the American Legion is not enhanced by having his membership but in line with our democratic organization, every post is a judge of its own members."

In reply to the criticism that the Legion was not representative of the ex-service men of the country, Doherty said "Our membership as of June 25, the latest figure available, was 935,829, the highest all-time record."

Attempt To Weaken
To the assertion that the Legion leadership was representative of entrenched interests, Doherty replied: "I am just a humble legionnaire. In it from the beginning, and I still believe it is a great leavening and stabilizing force, and I know that I have no connection with any entrenched interests, financial, business, or military."

"This attack is nothing more than an attempt to weaken this impregnable barrier against un-American principles."

"There is complete democracy in the Legion. . . . Delegates are free to vote as they see fit on issues and candidates, and there is no unit rule. . . . This is an abortive attempt to destroy the Legion, loosed at the time it was to tie in with the advent of this convention."

OAK GROVE WATER MEETING FRIDAY

A meeting of all residents in the recently-created Jacksonville highway water district will be held in the Oak Grove school at 8 p. m. Friday to discuss construction of the proposed water system.

Attending will be the three district commissioners, Paul Rynning, county engineer, and Porter J. Neff and Otto Frohnmayer, counsel for the district, who will discuss problems regarding the district and answer any questions residents might care to ask.

The commissioners, Larry Pennington, Paul Janey and E. G. Townsend, urged all residents of the district to make a special effort to be present. The district embraces the area from the west city limits to Perrydale and north and south along Lester lane. It is proposed to buy water wholesale from Medford.
