So. Oregon Resorts, City Celebrations Beckon Holiday Throngs

WIDE VARIETY OF RECREATION FOR DOUBLE HOLIDAY

Ambitious Programs Planned in Nearby City Celebrations — Mountain, Lake Resorts Are Prepared

Southern Oregon resorts were prepared today to handle the greatest holiday throng of recent years over the Fourth of July week-end.

With a three-day holiday affording an unusual opportunity to get away from business and home cares, a heavy exodus of Rogue valley city dwellers to mountain, lake and seashore resorts is anticipated.

And recreation seekers will have much to choose from this Fourth of July. Despite cloudiness and a trifling amount of rain this morning, the hot, dry weather of recent weeks is counted upon to send thousands to the cool, verdant and refreshing recreation centers of mountain and forest. To those who are eager to escape from the noise and bustle of cities and the jostling crowds of Fourth of July celebrations, the sylvan retreats offer an attractive lure.

Colorful Celebrations

On the other hand cities near and far are offering colorful celebrations for those who procure their greatest enjoyment from crowds imbued with a holiday spirit. Ashland, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and Weed and Crescent City, Cal., are all staging two or three-day Fourth of July celebrations that are expected to attract thousands of visitors.

On the eve of the three-day celebration period, police and forest service officials emphasized the need of extreme caution to avert traffic, fireworks and water accidents and forest fires. Travelers and celebrants were asked to cooperate fully in a concerted effort to prevent sudden death, maiming accidents and destruction by fire. Only by everyone assuming a personal responsibility can a complete safety record be established over the Fourth, the authorities counselled the public.

Weather Favorable

Normal expectations are for clear, hot weather over the holiday period, possibly with localized thunder storms in the high altitudes. No official forecast, however, was available today.

As in past years a particularly large attendance is expected at Crater Lake national park and the Oregon caves. Both have made special provision for the entertainment of guests.

Additional parking areas have been carved out of the snow at Crater lake and augmented staffs have been arranged for the checking stations to facilitate the flow of cars. The north entrance road to Diamond lake will be open for travel and the public trail to the edge of Crater lake will be ready for use. Opening of the trail will make it possible to use the launch service for sightseeing trips around the lake and the rowboat service for fishing. As an added holiday attraction special talks will be given at the Sinnott memorial.

Caves Popular Place

Fourth of July is always a gala occasion at Oregon caves, high mark in attendance being recorded last year when nearly 2,000 persons made the trip through the caverns in two days. An even larger attendance is anticipated this year and plans have been made accordingly to accommodate the visitors.

Feature of the celebration at the caves will be the evening campfire program which has been growing steadily in popularity. This year a number of patriotic numbers will be added to the vocal and instrumental features of the campfire program and all visitors are invited to linger at the caves and sit around the big campfire for the nocturnal celebration. As in past years this feature is expected to attract many residents from Medford and Grants Pass.

Lake of Woods Prepares

Of the lake resorts Lake of the Woods is presenting the most ambitious program ever attempted. Preliminary festivities will include dancing on Saturday and Sunday evenings. A handicap motorboat regatta will be started Sunday and completed Monday, the main event to be held at 1 p. m. Monday. A 24-inch silver cup will go to the winner, with other prizes listed for various events.

A special event will be row-boat races for boys between 14 and 18, cash prizes to be awarded. If enough entries are procured, a similar event will be staged for girls between 16 and 20, also for cash prizes.

The fisherman catching the largest black bass in Lake of the Woods during the holiday week-end will receive a cash award. Catches must be reported to the resort office where complete records will be kept. The contest will close at 4:00 p. m. July 4, so that the prize may be awarded as part of the celebration.

All roads to Lake of the Woods are said to be in good condition. The lake water has warmed up sufficiently to make swimming a daily diversion.

Diamond Lake Popular

While no special celebration has been announced for Diamond lake, this gem of the mountains is expected to attract hundreds of city residents in search of a tranquil rest. Many fishermen also are expected, the lake affording excellent angling, according to latest returns. The drive to the lake from Medford is considered one of the most beautiful in the state. The lake resort is prepared to provide every convenience for guests.

Increasing consistently in popularity, Dead Indian Soda springs is expected to lure a large number of discriminating visitors who go in for specialized recreation. Attractions are the pure mountain air and particularly the soda water which is free to all guests. Swimming in a tank is a free diversion for campground or cabin guests. Fishing is described as fair and there are interesting trips for those who like to hike and explore out-of-the-way places.

Ashland is staging its annual gigantic Fourth of July celebration July 3 and 4. The program includes band and organ concerts, community song fest, swimming and other sports, parades, soap box derby, children's contests, carnival, baseball, dancing, diving exhibitions, bathing beauty contest and a special wrestling card with Promotor Mack Lillard as impresario. Climax will be a spectacular display of fireworks which will follow immediately after the wrestling matches Monday night.

G. P. To Celebrate

A similar celebration will be held in Grants Pass Saturday, Sunday and Monday. For those who prefer to get farther away from home, there will be gigantic celebrations also during the three-day holiday in Klamath Falls, Crescent City and Weed. A rodeo will feature the Klamath Falls celebration, with $4500 to be distributed as prizes.

For those who like to retreat to sylvan dells, the Rogue River national forest offers many improved campgrounds where picnicking and camping may be enjoyed to the utmost. At the improved campgrounds no campfire permits are required. Improved campgrounds include:

Applegate district—Cook & Green, McKee Bridge, Beaver-Sulphur, Carberry, Yale and Hutton.

Butte Falls district—South Fork, Nicholas Creek, Upper South Fork and Wicklup.

Lake of the Woods district—Willow Springs, Rainbow, White Pine, Aspen Point and Spruce, all at Lake of the Woods, and Annie Creek, Fish Lake, North Butte Creek, Dead Indian Soda Springs, South Butte Creek and Beaver Dam.
