

JOINT ASSEMBLY TO OPEN SESSION OF MOOSE FRIDAY

Delegates Arriving From Over State for Three-Day Conclave — Annual Banquet to Be Friday Night

Oregon Moosemen, assembling from all sections of the state, will open its eighth annual convention here tomorrow morning, bringing an estimated total of between 300 and 400 delegates, members and visitors for a three-day sojourn. Delegates will register at both Hotel Medford, and Moose Hall, corner of Fifth and Grape streets, in the morning and will follow a well-rounded program of activities. Representatives from approximately 22 lodges throughout the state are expected although registration will not reach its peak until Saturday afternoon.

Joint Assembly Set
Following registration formalities, the conclave will get underway with a joint assembly of both the main organization, and women's auxiliary in the Moose hall at 1:30 p. m. for the official address of welcome, to be given by Mayor Charles Furnas of Medford or another prominent city official. At 2:30 the auxiliary chapter will transfer business sessions to the I. O. O. F. hall while the main body will undertake its first business, including nominations for new state officers.

At 7 p. m. the convention will hold its annual banquet, in the dining room of the Hotel Medford, and at 9 p. m. will return to the Moose hall for the convention hall.

Election Saturday
Saturday's sessions will open with a secretary-dictator breakfast at the Holland Hotel, followed by regular assembly at the Moose hall at 9 a. m. Election of new officers will be held in the afternoon, with the convention parade scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Saturday evening.

The parade will be formed on North Bartlett and Fifth streets, where the old junior high school was formerly located. A previous announcement stated that the line of march would form across the Bear Creek bridge but it was later decided to change to the present location.

H. B. Bronson, dictator of the high lodge, announced that any local civic, fraternal or patriotic organization desiring to participate in this affair, should contact Dr. George S. Jennings of Medford at once.

Line of March Mapped
The parade will move south on Bartlett to Main street, west on Main to Oakdale, then south on Oakdale to the high school field where the drill team contests will be staged. The general public has been invited to witness these events, especially the drill team competition, as several outstanding units from state lodges will be included.

After the contests, members of the Klamath White Pelican Legion will present a Legion Frolic. This event, however, is closed to all save Legionnaires, it was stated.

Sunday morning will see a fellowship breakfast at Valentine's cafe.

HERE'S NUMBER 18 IN THE MAIL TRIBUNE'S GUESS WHO CONTEST

NO. 18

Can You Identify the Prominent Medford Man Whose Picture Appears Above?

A different picture is being published each day for 25 days. Each depicts a well known Medford resident. A number appears under each picture. Contestants merely jot down the numbers and their guess as to the persons shown. At the end of the contest mail or bring in the list with contestant's name and address on same sheet of paper.

$8 will be given for the most accurate list
$5 for second best
$2 for third best.

The contest is open to all. It costs nothing to enter. Picture No. 1 appeared in the June 23 issue.

GUESS WHO!

Present indications point to a successful affair, according to host lodge officers. This is the first time the State Moose association has conferred the convention on Medford and it is hoped that the honor may again be expressed, Bronson stated.

Tickets for the convention hall may be secured from the chamber of commerce, while banquet tickets will be available at the registration desks.

Three Rescued
PORTLAND, July 14.—(AP)—Three persons had knotted sheets together prepared for a hazardous slide yesterday to the ground from an upper story of a burning apartment house when firemen arrived and rescued them with ladders.

Program Printed
The official convention program is ready for distribution and will be made available at the registration booths, Dictator Bronson announced.

Among the high regional and national officials to be present during the three days, are Albert J. Satori of Spokane, Wash., a past supreme dictator and at present regional director for the Pacific states; E. A. Kallen, deputy supreme secretary, from Mooseheart, Ill., and William Anderson, a past supreme dictator, now general dictator, from Indianapolis, Ind. These men will hold key positions during the conferences and will relate important information from a national fraternal standpoint.

HOOVER AND AIDES DISCUSS POLICIES AT MEETING HERE

ly than was generally attributed to him.

The former president reiterated his theory regarding the creation of dictatorships. First, he created, comes chaos due to the collapse of a country's economic life. Then, he continued, the people turn to anyone who promises to lead them out of the chaos to a more orderly existence.

Roosevelt Popular.
An economic collapse and the resulting chaos can develop from excessive and reckless spending, said Mr. Hoover, this being taken as a veiled reference to New Deal policies and the threat of dictatorship in this country.

With the exception of France, European nations look upon the New Deal policies as absurd, Mr. Hoover related. France was sympathetic, he indicated, because it also has experimented in attempting to find a solution to its economic difficulties.

President Roosevelt himself, however, is popular in Europe, but this is due to his "good neighbor" policy by which the nations benefit economically, Mr. Hoover asserted.

Among those attending the dinner meeting was Arthur Prioux of Clifton, Republican state chairman. Those who expressed their views of party strategy included Frank Jenkins, Klamath Falls editor and publisher.

To Fish Here.
In a press interview notable mainly for its brevity, Mr. Hoover said he planned to return to southern Oregon the latter part of August to fish for steelhead. He would be a guest at the Madison lodge on the Rogue river about 12 miles from Medford, he stated.

"The farther north you go the more plentiful the fish become, because it is harder to get to them," Mr. Hoover said of his fishing trip to Canada, from which he is returning. "When you can drive your car right up to the stream, the fish are likely to be less plentiful."

Mr. Hoover came to Medford from Portland, traveling by train to Eugene where he had to transfer to a bus because of the lack of train service south of there during the day. He was met by Republican leaders in Grants Pass and brought to Medford by motorcar, arriving shortly before 7 o'clock.

He left for Oakland shortly after midnight by United States airplane. From Oakland he was to continue to his home in Palo Alto.

PUGET SOUND COLLEGE SEEKING TWO COACHES

TACOMA, July 14.—(AP)—Dr. E. H. Todd, president of the College of the Puget Sound, said today applicants for two major coaching positions were being sought.

Franking high in Portland, Mack announced his retirement after the basketball season.

The northwest conference school will seek men to replace Roy Sandberg, head coach for seven years, and his assistant, Joey Mack, former Albany college mentor. Sandberg resigned to become football and basketball director at granted permission for the United States cruiser Houston, bearing President Roosevelt, and the escorting destroyer MacDougal to anchor in Magdalena bay, on the Pacific coast of Lower California.

Commodore Angel A. Corzo Castillo of the Mexican navy and Captain David Coello, commander of the Pacific naval base, were designated to visit the president as representatives of Mexico's armed forces. The disclosure heightened speculation that Mr. Roosevelt and President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico might meet.
