

BOASTFUL FORGER SENT TO PRISON UPON GUILTY PLEA

Lloyd Marshall, 31, of Yakima, Wash., who boasted to Chief of Police Charles P. Talent of Ashland, of bad check operations in two southern Oregon cities, was sentenced by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton to serve two and one-half years in state prison, on plea of guilty today. Marshall is also wanted at Seattle and Bellingham, Wash.

Marshall, on July 3, was walking on the Pacific highway when Chief Talent professed him a ride into Ashland. The youth confided to the police officer of passing checks in Klamath Falls and Ashland. He was driven to the police station and placed under arrest. Later, Marshall signed a statement admitting passing $180 in spurious checks in the two cities.

Arthur L. Hayes, 40, an Ashland farmer, who admitted unwittingly aiding Marshall in the passing of a $25 check in Ashland, was granted a six months suspended sentence, with the condition he refrain from over-indulging in strong drink. Hayes accompanied Marshall on a trip to Klamath Falls, but was too inebriated to take any part in Marshall's operations. District Attorney Frank J. Newson informed the court, Hayes, "is a hard-working man of good repute, whose weakness is drink." He has been employed by Prof. Homes, Ashland farmer.

Charles M. Brasse, 25, charged with grand larceny, who, the district attorney said, had been involved in assisting in the theft of cigarettes valued at $108 from his employer, the Pacific Fruit and Produce company, was also granted a six month suspended sentence. Brasse reimbursed the company for the loss, the district attorney said.

Investigation showed Brasse a victim of circumstances, the district attorney said, and the fruit concern manager felt the same. A warrant for the arrest of the real culprit, who disappeared Thursday, has been issued.

According to Brasse's statement, he was recently transferred from Klamath Falls, by the Pacific Fruit and Produce company. He met a fellow worker he knew only as "Shorty." Occasionally, he hauled ice home in his auto for "Shorty."

About a week ago, Brasse said "Shorty" offered him $5 for "hauling ice." He refused at first, but finally accepted the money "as a loan." This week, while in the auto, "Shorty" informed he was carrying, not ice, he was hauling. Brasse demurred, and "Shorty" told him: "You took the $5 and are in it as much as I am." "Shorty" then threatened to "beat up on my wife, and child," the statement said.

The statement also said Brasse was formerly employed by a Portland bank. He is married, with one child, and another expected, he told the court.

CANNEAUT, O. — (UP) — Not one glass container was cracked or broken when a tractor-trailer outfit, en route from Olean, N. Y., to Cleveland, and carrying 12,900 glass fruit jars, failed to make a turn, rammed a tree and overturned.

The bureau of agricultural economics reports that on May 1 milk production in this country was at the highest peak for this season in 14 years.

Dealings expanded on the upturn after dragging earlier at about the slowest pace since the market started on its spectacular mid-year upswing late in June.

ANGLING IS GOOD IN FOREST AREAS; LOOP DRIVE OPEN

The following recreational bulletin was issued today by Rogue River national forest headquarters:

"Lake O' Woods offers excellent fishing now, with good catches of perch being taken at both the north and south ends of the lake. The forest service guard reports that they are fat, firm and good eating.

"Only fair luck is being had at Fish Lake and Fourmile Lake. The Sky lakes are good. Short creek and Pourmile creek, both reached from the west side Klamath lake road, have been giving excellent catches of brook trout.

"Fishing remains fairly good in the middle fork and south fork of the Rogue river and in the Blue Canyon lakes. Catches of small rainbow trout have been made on the middle fork of the Applegate, higher up away from the road. Fishing is fair on the Big Applegate and Carberry.

"The trip into Seven lakes is still rather difficult, with about one and one-half miles of trail under snow. The snow is soft and the drifts are three feet deep, which makes the travelling difficult. The mosquitoes are bad and only poor catches of small eastern brook have been taken with bucktails.

"The Siskiyou loop road is now open to travel and in fairly good condition. All forest camps on this road are also open for use.

"The Campfire Girls from Klamath Falls are making summer camp for two weeks this Sunday at the south end of the Lake O' Woods. Seventy-five boys who are members of the 4H club of Klamath Falls will camp at Lake O' Woods next week. Approximately 60 summer homes were occupied during the past week.

"The featured drive this week-end is along the foothills of the Cascade mountains in the Butte Falls district. Drive from Medford to Prospect; turn right and drive 13 miles to Innaha guard station. It is five miles from Innaha to south fork, then a choice can be made. One way is to go to Lodgepole and on to Butte Falls, which is a very rough and crooked road. The other way is to turn left and go through Parker Meadows, on which you cross many mountain streams, including Wickiup and upper south fork. Then go through Parker Meadows and along the base of Cathill where mountain lilies are now in blossom. A four mile side trip can be made to the Blue Rock lookout station and Blue canyon.

"On returning, you will pass the South Fork CCC camp and then you will come out on the Butte Falls-Lake O' Woods road about 10 miles above Butte Falls. It is 32 miles from Butte Falls to Medford. The round-trip without side trips is about 110 miles with all roads in fair condition.

Weather.
Northern California: Fair tonight and Saturday, but fog on the coast and local thunderstorms over the mountains or northeast portion; little change in temperature; gentle changeable wind off the coast.
Oregon: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with scattered thunderstorms over mountains; cooler in interior of west portion Saturday; gentle changeable wind off the coast.
