

SYNOD SUPPORTS HOLDING LIQUOR SALE TO STORES

EUGENE, July 15.—(AP)—Vigorous resolutions, one upholding the proposed measure confining sales of liquor to stores, and the other condemning the proposal to legalize gambling in Oregon, were passed Thursday by the Presbyterian synod of Oregon, holding its 48th annual session on the University of Oregon campus.

The synod elected as trustees for the coming year Rev. W. B. Mahon of Portland, Charles T. Hurd of Portland, B. L. Eddy of Roseburg, George H. Lee of Newberg and J. J. Ross of Portland. Rev. Mr. Mahon will be president and Mr. Hurd secretary.

In spite of unsettled conditions in China, 29 of the 30 Presbyterian missions there have been kept open and at work. It was reported in the session on foreign missions. Seven members of the cabinet of the Chinese government are Christians, the report revealed.

During the past year more than 25,000 have been converted to Christianity by the churches' mission in West Africa, it was announced. Progress in other fields was related in the report given by Rev. Grover C. Birchett, of Salem.

The synod voted to continue membership in the Oregon council of churches and authorized an appropriation of $200 for the support of this organization. It was also decided to increase the length of the synod in 1939, when it will meet from Tuesday through Friday. The session ended last night.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES FACE NEW PROBLEM WHEN SLUMP ENDED

SALEM, July 15.—(AP)—Gov. Charles H. Martin told 50 federal employees attending the annual meeting of the federal business association here today that "when this recession is over, you'll have to get down to earth and begin to think about bringing money in instead of paying it out."

The governor put tribute to the PWA for helping in construction of the $2,500,000 new capitol. "So frequently there have been great scandals and great wastes of money in construction of capitol, but we have been free from that, thanks to the watchful eye of the PWA which paid for about half of it," he said.

C. C. Hockley, Portland, regional PWA director, was installed as president of the association, which includes 2,500 federal workers in Oregon. He succeeds U. S. Dist. Atty. Carl C. Donagh, Portland.

Dr. Paul I. Carter, Portland, veterans administration, is the new vice president, while Kenneth L. Legge, a PWA engineer, was installed as secretary.

U. S. Rep. James W. Mott, Salem, said he was "proud that the federal departments in Oregon were free from graft."

Breaks Neck in Bed. ALBANY, Ore.—(UP)—Floyd Whitaker turned over in bed and dislocated the large vertebrae at the back of his neck. He was treated at a hospital, but later permitted to return home. He was unable to work for several days.

Fewer Wasco Apricots. THE DALLES, Ore.—(UP)—The apricot yield in Wasco county is expected to total about 1000 tons, according to an estimate by I. N. Wiley, manager of the Columbia Fruit Growers. The estimated yield is about 200 tons lighter than the exceptional crop last year.

Political Mud-Slinging Follows Theft of Fish

Political mud-slinging became an earnest pastime here today. It all started with Ward Spatz and Bill Grenbemer, ardent Democrats and fishermen, going angling Wednesday. They caught 38 catfish.

Spatz put the catfish in a big tin tub of water behind his house. When he got up yesterday morning tub and fish were gone. Attached to a stick in the ground was this note: "Fishing in Canada was poor. I couldn't go home empty-handed. Thank you for helping me out." The note bore what was supposed to be the signature of Herbert Hoover, ardent Republican and fisherman.

Spatz went to Police Chief Clatus McCredie for some kind of criminal action. The chief only laughed. Spatz said the chief was an ardent Republican.

Postmaster Frank DeSouza said the disappearance of the catfish surprised for the secrecy that surrounded Mr. Hoover's visit here. Mr. DeSouza is an ardent Democrat.

The Democrats had the best of the argument but it was suspected a Republican had the fish.

Horseshoe Brings Ill Luck
ORANGEVILLE, Ont. (UP)—Tossing a horseshoe over his shoulder for luck in an effort to assure this lacrosse team victory proved hardly lucky for a young local player. The lacrosse struck a rafter in a barn, rebounded and struck him on the head. As a result he was unable to play his usual good game and the team lost.

GROUP TO URGE WIVES TO QUIT BUSINESS JOBS

By JEAN HOFFMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND — (UP)—Mrs. Elsie McFadden Fern, a jolly housewife, is busily promoting the Employment Reform association—a national organization she has formed in favor of removing married women, whose husbands can support them, from business and the professions.

The association is now incorporated in Ohio. Mrs. Fern is one of the three trustees. The others are Mrs. Lloyd Bennage and James Grant.

"Mr. Bennage, my neighbor, first had the idea of incorporating," Mrs. Fern said. "As long ago as 1933 we used to talk about what a shame it was that so many young people in our neighborhood were out of jobs. We decided that this situation was partly the fault of married women working whose husbands were able to support them."

A slight frown marred the good nature of Mrs. Fern's round face. She indicated a pile of letters on a table before her.

"I have a pathetic letter here from a widow," she said. "Her daughter, 18, became desperate when she couldn't get work. She finally said to her mother, 'Let's turn on the gas, mother—it's no use going on like this.'"

"I've received a lot of letters from young people, out of high school or college, who have tramped all over the city looking for a job. They couldn't find any."

She said that her daughter, Dorothy, recently had been graduated from high school, but was as yet unemployed. "One night Mr. Bennage came over. Well, Mrs. Fern," he said, "the papers for incorporating our idea are awaiting your signature."

"And that was how the Employment Reform association came into being," Mrs. Fern emphasized the fact that it is a non-profit organization. She has undertaken its management because both Bennage and Grant, a friend of Mr. Bennage, are busy working all day.

"We hope soon to have public meetings scheduled. These will be in different parts of the city. They will include speeches and discussions," she said. Later, she hopes to extend these to other cities.

She said they would consider their efforts partially successful if married women would "stay home at least until business comes back."

"Most working wives have no children. They can live nicely on their husband's salary—even if it's $50 a week," she said.

"You'll have to excuse me now," she apologized. "I have to get supper ready. Our dad comes home early these days."

She started toward the kitchen.
